JENKINS IS BIG ISSUE.

Case of Consul Has Sinister Aspect.

State Department Note Carries Stern Demand for an Immediate Release.

Washington "Incensed" by Insult to Consular Agent at Puebla.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 20.—William O. Jenkins, the American Consular agent at Puebla, spent Thursday in the penitentiary, where he held a long conference with Matthew E. Hanna, secretary of the American Embassy in Mexico. Mr. Hanna has gone to Puebla to keep the embassy advised as to developments.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—Warning that further molestation of William O. Jenkins, United States consular agent at Puebla, by Mexican officials, "will seriously affect the relations between the United States and Mexico for which the government of Mexico must assume sole responsibility," was sent to the Mexican government today, according to announcement tonight by the State Department.

Quoting the note sent through the embassy at Mexico City the department's announcement said the United States government was "surprised and incensed" on learning of the reimprisonment of the consular agent for alleged complicity in his own abduction recently. Jenkins's immediate release is called for and his rearrest characterized as absolutely arbitrary and unwarranted.

The note was sent following receipt at the department of official confirmation of the rearrest. The announcement follows:

OFFICIAL STATEMENT.

"The Department of State today sent a note to the Mexican Foreign Office through the American Embassy at Mexico City, calling for the immediate release of William O. Jenkins, the American consular agent at Puebla.

"The note, which is based on the rearrest of Consular Agent Jenkins at Puebla, points out that the United States government is 'surprised and incensed' to learn of the reimprisonment of Mr. Jenkins, particularly in view of the suffering and losses already sustained by him in DECISION IS WET HOPE.

Supreme Court Has Final Fight.

Possibility of a Christmas With Liquid Cheer is Rather Remote.

Treaty Ratification, Goal of Thirsty Nation, is Far, Far Away.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—While the Supreme Court was hearing arguments today on the validity of the War-time Prohibition Act, word went out from the White House that President Wilson would not rescind the "dry" act until peace formally had been declared.

This was expected to set at rest the ever-recurring rumors that the "dry ban" would be lifted by the President irrespective of early ratification of the treaty. Failure of the Senate to act on the treaty at the extraordinary session was regarded by many administration officials as precluding the ending of the technical state of war much before the constitutional prohibition amendment became effective, next January 16.

Should such prove the case, the only possibility of a "wet" Christmas would be for the Supreme Court to declare the war-time act unconstitutional.

Arguments on the pending cases will be concluded tomorrow, but as the court begins a recess Monday, no decision is expected until it reconvenes on December 8.

The right of Congress to prohibit the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors was sharply attacked and vigorously defended during the arguments.

VIOLATE AMENDMENT?

Elihu Root and others contended that the war-time act and the Volstead enforcement measure not only violated the Fifth constitutional amendment, prohibiting the taking of property without just compensation, but were inoperative owing to the cessation of hostilities and the demobilization of the army which were responsible for their enactment.

Solicitor-General King and William L. Frierson, assistant Attorney-General for the government, however, argued that a state of war still existed and that it was Congress's intent to provide war-time prohibition until the peace treaty was ratified.

The arguments, which will be concluded tomorrow, were in appeals brought to the Supreme Court from Kentucky, where the War-time Prohibition Act was declared unconstitutional, and from New York, where Federal Court decrees sustained both the war-time and the enforcement acts and dismissed injunction proceedings sought to enable Dryfors, Blum & Co. to remove whisky from bond, and Jacob Ruppert, a brewer, to manufacture beer containing more than ½ of 1 per cent. alcohol.

CALLS IT MEDDLING.

"We say Congress has no authority to prohibit the manufacture of nonintoxicating beverages," said Mr. Root, appearing in the Ruppert case. "We will go further and say that it has no authority to intermeddle in the manufacture of intoxicating liquors."

Mr. Root said he "totally denied" the government's contentions that the acts were validly enacted under Congress's war powers.

"The declaration of war is not the emergency that brings into play the war powers of Congress," continued Mr. Root. "All the patriotic impulses of our people have been to give the widest latitude of power to the legislative and executive branches of our government. Such great power was never exercised by any potentate. But it is not human nature to give up power, and the deadliest peril of a free nation is the tendency of power to encroach upon the rights and liberties of a free people. When power is no longer ours we are no longer free."

During a discussion as to the existence of the emergency, Justice Pitney remarked:

TREATY COMES IN.

"The enemy hasn't heard of our terms of peace as laid down by the Senate."

"There is no controversy in the Senate as to the terms of peace, but over a collateral agreement among the associated nations, and that only," hastily retorted Mr. Root.

HOPE FOR PEACE TREATY IS FIXED IN THE PEOPLE.

Wave of Resentment May Change the Attitude of Foes; Hitchcock is Optimistic of Success.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—While the United States Senate failed to ratify the treaty of peace with Germany it is not dead. It will, in all probability, be submitted by President Wilson to the Senate at the next session, December 1. Reports that an extra session of the Senate would be called by the President at once lack corroboration; and, in view of the fact that the Senate meets again in two weeks, it is not regarded probable that a special session will be called.

The President's letter to the Democratic floor leader, Senator Hitchcock, firmly united the mild reservationists and the foes of the treaty, and in yesterday's twelve-hour session they were adamant to any compromise.

After the Senate had adjourned sine die, Senator Hitchcock made a statement in which he called attention to the fact that the Republicans were split wide open on the treaty, both in the country and the Senate, and pointed out that the ratification resolution, with reservations offered by him, got a larger vote than did the ratification resolution offered by Senator Lodge.

Senators who are friends of the treaty predict a wave of resentment from the people which will force a change in attitude on the part of those heretofore opposed to the treaty, when the next session opens in December.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—In a statement late today Senator Hitchcock predicted that, with resubmission of the treaty by the President, a compromise could be effected between Senators favoring ratification in some form.

"Concessions on both sides must be real and not merely nominal," he said.

"I do not agree," said Senator Hitchcock, "with the proposition that the treaty is dead. To my mind the Senate is now in a deadlock over the treaty. It voted on three distinct propositions of ratification:

"(1.) On the Lodge resolution of ratification. Thirty-nine votes were cast for it and 56 votes against. Later on reconsideration the same resolution received 41 votes to 51 against it.

"(2.) On the resolution of ratification containing five moderate reservations presented by me. Forty-one Senators voted for that resolution and 50 against it.

"(3.) On a resolution of unqualified ratification presented by Senator Underwood, 38 Senators voted for it and 53 against it.

"Thus the sentiment of the Senate was sounded on three distinct propositions, no one of which could secure a majority vote, whereas a two-thirds majority is necessary.

EIGHTY FOR RATIFICATION.

"Scanning these votes, however, and taking into account Senators who were paired, it appeared that only fifteen Senators voted against ratification in every form. Fourteen of these were Republicans, one was a Democrat. On the other hand eighty Senators voted for ratification of the treaty in some form.

"In my opinion if the President sends the treaty back to the Senate in December, it will be possible out of the eighty Senators who voted for ratification in some form to find sixty-four Senators who will agree upon a compromise.

"It is unfortunate that in the past the eighty Senators who believe in the treaty in some form have not been able to negotiate among themselves on reservations in some form. Those two camps must now come together and must be freed from the dictation and influence of Senators who are opposed to the treaty in any form. Those Senators have had entirely too much voice in formulating the reservations."

WILSON IS SILENT.

The President will have no statement to make on the failure of the Senate to ratify the peace treaty, it was said today at the White House.

Senators Hitchcock and Underwood of Alabama called at the White House during the morning, but did not see Secretary Tumulty, who was with the President on the south lawn. They took a philosophic view of the action of the Senate.

"Democratic leadership played its card to the limit and for all they were worth and lost—that's all," said Mr. Underwood.

The President had considered the possibility of negotiating a new treaty in the event of the rejection of the present treaty, administration officials said, but he virtually has rejected that alternative as impracticable, and now probably will take up with the principal signatories what compromise reservations would be acceptable to them.

Further liquidation at the opening of the New York stock market today was attributed in some quar-

IMPERATOR TO BRITISH.

America to Give up Great Liner.

Fate of Seven Other Former German Steamers Here Still in Doubt.

Depends on Allocation of Captured Tankers Owned in this Country.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—Settlement of the controversy over disposition of the German liner Imperator was indicated tonight by Shipping Board officials, who intimated the ship would be tendered immediately to Great Britain.

Action with regard to the seven other German steamers in the same status had not been determined, it was said. It will depend, it was indicated, on final disposition of the tankers under the German flag but American-owned now held in the Firth of Forth by direction of the Supreme Council.

The Imperator and the other seven ships were allocated to the United States after the armistice and were used to transport American troops from overseas. Great Britain had expected to obtain them when they had completed this service and the Cunard Line had made all arrangements for placing the Imperator in the New York-Southampton passenger service.

When the War Department had finished with the ships it turned them over to the Shipping Board, which refused to surrender them to the British Ministry of Shipping at New York. While officials made no explanation, the general understanding was that this action resulted from the decision of the Allied naval armistice commission ordering the American-owned tank steamers of German registry to be delivered at the Firth of Forth for allocation to Great Britain, France, Italy and Belgium.

Recently, the Supreme Council at Paris directed that the tankers be held in British waters under the guardianship of Great Britain until a decision as to their final disposition had been reached.

BULLETINS.

COSHOCKTON (O.) Nov. 20.—Miners and operators in this district are opening independent negotiations to effect resumption of operations.

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 20.—Felipe Angeles, lieutenant of Francisco Villa, bandit, who was captured near Parral, will be tried by court-martial in Chihuahua city, Friday.

CHRISTIANIA, Wednesday, Nov. 19.—The Swedish Parliament, summoned to consider the invitation to join the League of Nations, has decided to postpone action until next year to await America's decision.

ALEXANDRIA, Sunday, Nov. 16.—Six thousand persons participated in the Coptic demonstration today on the occasion of the funeral of a Copt, killed yesterday. In the afternoon, 10,000, mostly Moslems, paraded through the principal streets. Both demonstrations were orderly.

AMOY (China) Nov. 20.—There have been serious boycott outbreaks in Fu Chow. Seven Chinese students have been killed and three wounded by Japanese subjects. All schools and markets have been closed. The situation throughout Fukien is serious.

REVAL, Nov. 20.—The Esthonian government crisis ended today when the Constituent Assembly ratified the new Cabinet headed by Jaan Tonnison, Premier. In consequence of the threatening of the Bolsheviki on the Esthonian frontier, all parties have agreed to a truce.

CENTRALIA (Wash.) Nov. 20.—Eleven Industrial Workers of the World, charged with first-degree murder in connection with the Armistice Day shooting here, today were arraigned and given thirty-six hours in which to plead. In addition to the eleven, two other alleged radicals, Ole Hansen and John Doe Davis, are numbered among the defendants. Hansen and Davis, still at large, are being pursued by deputy sheriffs from here. The two, it is believed, are hiding in the hills not far from Centralia.

POLICE CAPTURE TWO MEMBERS OF L.A. BANDIT GANG

Three men and a woman held up four men in the Highland Park drug store, Avenue 57 and Pasadena avenue, last night, and got away with $83 and a valuable watch after beating J. G. McEwen, the drug clerk, 5625 Pasadena avenue, with the butt of an automatic revolver to compel him to open the safe. They made their escape in a Moon automobile, believed to have been stolen for the night's operations.

The woman first entered the store and asked to see some safety-razor blades. Saying she did not have enough money with her to enable her to make a purchase, she left the store. In a few minutes she returned with the three men, who drew revolvers and ordered the four men who were in the store to go into the back room, where they demanded their money. Three had no money on their persons. They were Mr. McEwen, George Sonne, the soda clerk, 257 Newland avenue, and Allen Gulick, a customer, 5618½ Pasadena avenue. From the fourth man, J. C. Johnson, an official of the Highland Park Bank, 4985 Pasadena avenue, they obtained $5, and his watch, and a silver pocket piece.

They returned the pocket piece when Mr. Johnson asked that he be allowed to keep it as a cherished souvenir.

Angered at obtaining so little, they then demanded that Mr. McEwen open the safe. He refused. Then one of the men drew the cartridges from his .45 caliber automatic and beat the drug clerk with the butt of it. Finally Mr. McEwen submitted and opened the safe. They took $37 from the safe and $41 from the cash register. Then they made their escape at high speed in the automobile which they had left with its engine running around the corner on Avenue 57.

Two men believed to be members of the gang responsible for the many hold-ups of drug stores and grocery stores and pedestrians that have taken place during the past month were arrested by Detective Sergeants Yarrow, Zeigler, Jarvis and Hamilton at Third and Flower streets last night. They were Ralph Sawyer, 19, a cigar maker, and Robert Marshall, 23, a chauffeur. After their arrest they confessed to the police that they had held up Mr. O. F. Stowe, 1072 West Sixth street, on the night of November 16 at Sixteenth and St. Paul streets and robbed him of $3.50. They also confessed to several burglaries, according to the detectives.

Two highwaymen held up Mr. M. Nugent, 1154 South Alvarado street, last night between Tenth and Eleventh streets on South Alvarado, within a block of his doorstep, and robbed him of his purse containing $14.

SOVIET RUSSIA HUNGRIER.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

ARCHANGEL, Wednesday, Nov. 19.—The situation in soviet Russia is daily growing more serious.

In several towns workers are without employment and desperately hungry, and have revolted against the Bolsheviki.

Factories are closed and the people are living on vegetables.

The Red army is demoralized and troops who were forcibly mobilized are deserting in streams.

Fugitives are arriving in Archangel barefooted.

NOVO NIKOLAIEVSK, Saturday, Nov. 15.—The Red army has occupied the west bank of the Irtish River, opposite Omsk, according to telegraphic information received today.

Gen. Kappel, second in command under Gen. Sakharoff, is still holding Omsk with his cavalry and artillery. The complete evacuation of the city is considered a matter of hours.

LONDON, Nov. 20.—The Esthonian Legation in London asserts that M. Litvinoff, representative of the Russian Bolsheviki, who attended the Dorpat conference, told press representatives the Bolsheviki were prepared to yield their Gulf of Finland fleet as a guarantee of peace and to establish a neutral zone between Russia and the border states.

BRITAIN SILENT ON SENATE'S ACT.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, Nov. 20.—Nearly all British public men are silent concerning the United States Senate's dealings with the peace treaty. The reason for this is that they understand Americans regard the question as an American domestic political affair, and fear that any expressions from them might give offense and be taken as attempts to influence American politics.

Lord Robert Cecil and Lieut.-Gen. Jan Christian Smuts were the British sponsors for the League of Nations, and are largely responsible for the details thereof, and both have registered their disappointment at the latest turn of events, Gen. Smuts in his appeal to America, and Lord Robert Cecil in a brief speech in the House of Commons Monday.

Lord Robert stands on that speech, and refers all questioners to it as be-

U. S. Prison Burns.

LEAVENWORTH (Kan.) Nov. 20.—Fire of unknown origin in the exchange building at the disciplinary barracks at Fort Leavenworth tonight destroyed it within half an hour. The building contained a large amount of army supplies and clothing for prisoners. The estimated loss is $100,000. The fire spread from the exchange to the two-year-old wooden cantonment buildings, destroying fourteen quickly. There was no adequate water service, and dynamite was used to blow up other buildings to check the fire. The cantonment buildings burned were frame barracks occupied by the restored battalion, trusty prisoners. The cell houses within the main inclosure did not take fire. Officers and soldiers in the garrison were on duty to hold the prisoners in check.

Marysville Fire Suspicious.

MARYSVILLE, Nov. 20. — A barn and contents, valued at $22,000, on the ranch of George Thorn at Terra Buena, near here, was burned down early today after a fire discovered yesterday had been extinguished. The building replaced a barn destroyed by fire September 20. Sheriff C. J. McCoy of Sutter county, to whom the occurrence was reported, said he believed incendiaries were responsible for all three fires. A grass fire, which for a time today threatened oil stations of Maryville, was declared by the police to be of incendiary origin.

Score Anti-Pact Stand.

MEMPHIS (Tenn.) Nov. 20.—The Memphis Cotton Exchange today adopted resolutions disapproving the vote of Senator John K. Shields against ratification of the peace treaty without amendment and calling upon him to resign, "so the Governor of Tennessee may appoint a Senator who will more truly reflect the sentiment of the citizens of Tennessee in the December session of Congress."

THE CALIFORNIA TAKES TO WAVE.

Real Champagne Christens Our Superdreadnaught.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

VALLEJO, Nov. 20.—With real California wine, the wine of the days before war-time prohibition, the superdreadnaught California was launched at 11:45 this morning and went into the Pacific with the wine dripping from her bow.

The brakes rigged up to stop the California in the narrow channel failed to hold, and she crashed into a pier of the Mare Island-Vallejo Ferry, tearing away ten feet of the slip and endangering a number of spectators. She finally came to a stop in shallow water.

Workmen on the California, seeing that the brakes were not going to hold, warned all spectators away from the slip as the vessel was about to crash. The California coasted for half a mile, despite the brakes. Tugs were soon engaged in an endeavor to pull her out into the stream.

The tugs, eight in number, soon had the great hull cleared and towed her back to the fitting-up docks at the yards. Naval engineers believed that her stem had rested in the mud, but she was pulled off without difficulty. It was estimated that $50 would cover the damage to the vessel.

SPECTATORS DRENCHED.

A great splash was caused by the California smashing into the pier and hundreds of spectators, scurrying out of danger, were drenched. When she came to a stop her stern was close to the shore line and the nose of her clipper bow was pointing toward San Francisco.

The launching was a gala event, with Gov. and Mrs. Stephens and thousands of spectators on and around the gaily-decorated platforms. Mrs. Randolph T. Zane, the Governor's daughter, made a perfect shot in sponsoring the vessel with a bottle of California champagne, and the towering hull slipped easily and gracefully into the stream.

Speakers at a luncheon, following the launching, in Mrs. Zane's honor, were Capt. H. M. Gleason, Construction Corps, U.S.N., construction officer at the yard, who was responsible for the ship's erection; Capt. Beach, commandant of the yard; Rear-Admiral J. L. Japne, commandant of the Twelfth Naval District; Admiral Rodman, commander-in-chief of the Pacific Fleet; Gov. Stephens, and Mayor Roney of Vallejo.

As the California left her cradle it was seen that the brakes were retarding her progress, and they slowed her up to such a degree that spectators on the Mare Island side of the channel were unaware of her forceful contact with the ferry slip.

REAL CHAMPAGNE.

If it had not been for the keen foresight of Capt. H. M. Gleason, chief of construction at Mare Island, the man responsible for the successful completion of the last word in dreadnaughts, the kick would have been eliminated from the contents of the christening bottle, and, according to many of the expert sailormen included in the personnel of the navy, the California would have gone forth with a jinx attached.

A friend, associate and fellow officer of Capt. Gleason told the facts of the wine affair today. He said:

"When the California was about one-half completed, the hull, I mean, the exponents of national prohibition got busy at Washington, and the office of the chief at Washington became burdened each day with hundreds of communications, each writer representing either himself, herself or some dry organization, begging the chief to forbid the use of liquor, wine with a kick in it, at the time the California was launched.

SUPPLY EXHAUSTED.

"It was well known in official circles that the supply of christening wine at Mare Island had been exhausted. It was rumored that there were several cases on hand before the country went dry, and that only a little had been used for actual christening purposes. There are numerous rumors afloat regarding the fate of the remainder, but there are no affidavits, so all remains a mystery.

"Under the laws enforcing prohibition, it was impossible to go into the market and purchase any wine. We all began to worry about the matter, and had about concluded that the ancient and honorable custom of christening a real fighting ship with a fighting fluid would have to pass into the discard, when it was discovered that Capt. Gleason, always prepared for an emergency, had come to the rescue.

"Capt. Gleason, without taking anybody into his confidence, had quietly made out a requisition for a case of 'launching fluid.' It arrived today, so all was well."

ADMIT STALE BREAD IS THROWN TO HOGS.

SAN FRANCISCO BAKERS SAY ONLY UNSALABLE STOCK IS USED FOR FODDER.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 20.—A statement admitting charges by Charles A. Nelson, County Supervisor, that stale bread was being shipped from San Francisco to be fed to hogs at Sacramento River points instead of being sold here was made by executives of the California Bakers' Association here today, but it was held that the bread was not fit for human consumption. Supervisor Nelson was continuing an investigation today preparatory to submitting an ordinance which would stop the practice.

"Less than 1 per cent. of the bread turned out by the bakeries here is disposed of in this fashion," the association statement said. "This is bread that has been up for sale a week or more and has been returned as unsalable. It is not fit for human consumption, and, if not used as hog and stock feed, would be absolutely wasted. It is not being fed to the hogs in the large quantities claimed by Supervisor Nelson."

Fair Sponsor for Superdreadnaught.

The California, World's Greatest Naval Fighting Machine.

Mrs. Randolph T. Zane, daughter of Gov. Stephens and widow of a marine officer who gave his life to his country, christened the great ship with California champagne, which, according to sailor lore, will bring good luck. She smashed the bottle at exactly the right moment and the ceremony, under cloudless skies, was a brilliant success.

GOV. STEPHENS'S ADDRESS AT THE CALIFORNIA'S LAUNCHING

VALLEJO, Nov. 20.—The pride of California in the new superdreadnaught named for this State was voiced at its launching here today by Gov. Stephens, whose daughter, Mrs. Randolph T. Zane, christened the new fighting machine, the third electrically-driven dreadnaught in the world.

The Governor said:

"We are assembled here at this time to commit to the waters of the Pacific the newest and the greatest fighting machine of the American navy. Measured in terms of up-to-date efficiency, this ship will be one of the most powerful afloat.

"We are especially gratified that this noble vessel, magnificent exponent of the shipbuilder's art that it is, has developed her splendid lines and will become as it were a living thing here in our own home seas. She stands today a splendid tribute to her builders as she rests in these tranquil waters. Today we intrust this great ship to the great ocean that washes our shores, and we now and here dedicate her to the service of our country.

"Prouder still are we that as she goes out upon the high seas, bearing the Stars and Stripes, to fulfill her mission, she is to bear the name of our beloved State, 'California.' With the flag of the Union floating at her masthead the name of the Golden State borne in sunshine and storm, in peace or in war, this great battleship will add glory to a record of a navy undimmed by an act of cowardice or record of defeat.

"Resting at anchor in our own home waters the battleship will symbolize the majesty of the free government that called her into being—a government that insists upon justice and stands for liberty under law.

"This great triumph of the builder's art will take her place in the navy of a country that has never lowered her colors to a foe. She will be manned by officers and men whose love of country is deep, sincere and mastering. And as she goes out through our own Golden Gate upon the high seas in all her power, beauty and perfection, carrying on her decks men whose hearts beat true to the ideals of a great and free people, the benison of our good wishes and unfeigned affection will accompany them and remain with them in paths of peace so long as peace shall be the way of honor.

"And if war shall ever come again, and the defenders of the nation again be enrolled, may the California proudly do her part and carve for herself a record that will thrill all who love courage and revere justice.

"This great battleship built not only for defense but as an incentive to peace has been constructed and will be finished here at Mare Island Navy Yard. There is no other yard that can equal this one in speed or in economical warship building. Under Commandants Bennett and Beach, Constructor Gleason, other officers and men, this wonderful product of man's skill has been made ready for launching and for christening.

"It is quite customary for the sponsor of a war vessel named for a great State to be the daughter of the Governor of that State, and so it is that my daughter, Mrs. Randolph T. Zane, born and raised in California, was selected to christen this most modern of battleships—the California.

"None can say what awaits this noblest of ships. She has been built for war. May she indeed prove a deterrent of war! May the heroes who shall be called to make of her their home in the service of their country, fully measure up to the splendid traditions of a navy—that has always been ready—when called!

"What deeds may be enacted on her armored decks we may not say, but that the California will never lower her flag to a foe or become an engine of oppression to the weak and defenseless we are assured.

"Sail out, California, great ship that you are, and may you ever be an effective argument for peace!"

STEEL STRIKE OVER AT CHICAGO PLANTS.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—The steel strike is over, so far as the Chicago district is concerned. So say South Chicago and Indiana Harbor steel officials and the police, and it is even admitted by some of the striking workers.

The steel superintendents assert their plants are approximately fully manned and that the output is nearly normal. A lack of experience of many of the workers is all that is holding the output below 100 per cent., they declare. Picketing of the plants by the strikers, which was a big feature of the strike in the early days of the walkout, is now a thing of the past, the pickets having been withdrawn by the union leaders some days ago, it is admitted by union officials.

POLICE BEING WITHDRAWN.

The police detail for the strike zone in Chicago, which numbered 1200 during the early days of the strike, has been gradually cut down until today only 200 policemen are acting under orders of Capt. Nootbaar of the South Chicago district, and he stated these would be withdrawn by Monday.

There are 8000 men at work now in the South Chicago plant of the Illinois Steel Company. The Wisconsin Steel Company is running 100 per cent., and similar reports were made by the Federal Furnace Company and the Iroquois Iron Company. At the Indiana Harbor plant of the Inland Steel Company the strike is off.

TREATY DEFEAT AMAZES FRENCH

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PARIS, Nov. 20.—The French, British and Italian delegates to the Peace Conference seem dazed by the Senate's refusal to approve the treaty and unable to comprehend how the signature of the American peace delegation failed to bind the American government.

The American delegates are without instructions as regards their future course. Mr. White will continue to sit in the Supreme Council meetings, and the delegation will function as usual until otherwise instructed.

Mr. White received the news from the Associated Press while he was attending the Supreme Council session today. The members of the council after adjournment withheld comment.

FOR PEACE DECEMBER 1.

In French official circles, although there was disappointment over the Senate's adjournment with the treaty situation still unsettled, no surprise was expressed and it even seemed that the event had been expected.

Apparently, the situation had been discussed and measures taken in advance to meet the eventuality, as Foreign Minister Pichon, who presided over the Supreme Council today, urged that the treaty be put into force not later than December 1.

While the failure of the American Senate to ratify the treaty has apparently alarmed the French people, it seemingly is not agitating the average Frenchman so much as the fear that the United States may not ratify the joint agreement with England for the defense of France, which is uppermost in the minds of all French people.

PROTOCOL HELD UP.

No formal meeting has been held between the German delegates, who arrived yesterday morning, and the representatives of the Allied powers concerning the protocol to the German peace treaty. It now seems unlikely that the protocol will be signed before the end of November as the Germans oppose the provision requesting them to replace warships sunk when their fleet was scuttled at Scapa Flow.

The failure of the Allied and associated powers to reach an agreement on the treaty is reported to have encouraged the Germans greatly.

As the protocol must be arranged before the formal announcement of ratification by the three powers required to make it effective the date of putting the treaty into effect seems uncertain.

BLAMES LODGE FOR FAILURE OF TREATY.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—Responsibility for the defeat of the peace treaty was today placed on the shoulders of United States Senator Lodge and his friends at Washington, the accuser being Mrs. George Bass, chairmon of the Woman's National Democratic Committee. Their action was deliberate, she charged, and she expressed the belief that the Lodge group of Senators would sacrifice the future peace and security of the world to discredit President Wilson.

Mrs. Bass was at her headquarters in the Congress Hotel today, after an absence in Missouri, where she presented the cause of the Democrats to a meeting of the Missouri Women Voters' League. She read the morning newspapers hastily. Senator Lodge's assertion, "The treaty is dead," caught her eye.

BLAMES LODGE.

"I am perfectly willing to take Mr. Lodge at his word," she exclaimed. "He and his associates have been trying to kill the treaty by means of reservations of varying strength during the entire six months of the extra session. Any attempts on their part to shift the responsibility onto the Democrats of the Senate will result in failure.

"I have been over a great part of the United States during the last six months. I have traveled in forty States and I have talked with people and sounded public sentiment. Whatever men and women may have thought in regard to mild reservations or none at all, in their minds, the issue has always been perfectly clear—that Lodge and his associates really wished to kill the treaty.

TO DISCREDIT WILSON.

"I believe, further, that they would sacrifice the future peace and security of the world to discredit the President. As for me, I feel perfectly safe in saying that the President's place in history is secure, and their place and their motives will be equally understood. Their pettiness of soul is revealed.

"America cannot live unto itself alone. We cannot stay outside. A man must have a narrow and provincial understanding of history, and I am not speaking now about Senator Lodge, if he believes that America can stand aloof from all other nations on all great questions pertaining to the welfare of the world.

INTERESTS INTERWOVEN.

"All industrial, economic and business problems have to be treated from the standpoint of the well-being and security of mankind, and not one nation. Senator Lodge knows these things. He cannot be accused of ignorance. He has been a historian and student of the philosophy of history. His position was taken deliberately and directed, I believe, by malice and jealousy of the President."

Mrs. Bass expects to spend most of the campaign in the Chicago headquarters, the national committee having chosen this city as the national center for women.

PEACE DELEGATES TO LEAVE FRANCE DEC. 5.

AMERICAN PARTY MAKES OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENT OF PLAN FOR GOING HOME.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PARIS, Nov. 20.—The American delegates to the Peace Conference will sail from Brest for New York on board the steamship America December 5. Frank Polk officially has announced the plans at Hotel de Crillon. This is confirming my exclusive dispatch of November 11, which announced the Peace Conference would close during the first week in December and the American delegates would go home. Joseph C. Grew, secretary of the American delegates to the conference, issued an official denial of this story when it was printed in Paris, announcing that the news was premature, and later Secretary of State Lansing issued a similar statement in Washington.

EIGHTY IN PARTY.

More than eighty persons will comprise the party and the Hotel de Crillon will be dismantled of American material and equipment and will be handed back to the French proprietors before December 15.

Secretary of State Lansing's reply to Mr. Polk's demand that the conference be recalled early in December has been received. The Navy Department could not allocate the steamship George Washington for this trip, but it gave the use of the America.

Mr. Polk is ignorant whether the United States Navy will continue to handle the special telegraph lines throughout Europe, which it has been doing since the conference began this spring. There is need of communications with all European countries.

Mr. Polk is leaving Paris today for London for a short visit, returning to Paris next week. He announces his trip to London has no political connection, although it may be he will see Prime Minister Lloyd George. He expects to see old friends in England.

Premier Clemenceau is leaving for a few days in the country, returning to Paris Tuesday next when the Supreme Council will sit again. With the absence of Mr. Polk, Henry White will sit in as the American representative.

Both Mr. White and Gen. Bliss are returning with Mr. Polk, as well as all technical advisers, experts, attaches, stenographers, telephone operators and other members of the commission.

CANNED GOODS PRICES WILL KEEP ON SOARING

CONVENTION TALK BRINGS RECORD HIGH COMPARISONS THIS WINTER.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, Nov. [illegible]—Canned products are not only going to be high in price, but are going to a record price this winter.

Canners' talk—[illegible] flowed freely in the [illegible] today, when questions [illegible] the canning industry and the outlook for canned goods discussed by men [illegible] business.

The few housewives who [illegible] there as guests learned that [illegible] will continue to pay top prices for canned corn, peas, tomatoes [illegible] and all tinned products of the orchard for some time to come.

The fifteen States represented at the Western Canners' meeting are: Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Michigan, Wisconsin, Iowa, [illegible] Missouri, Tennessee, Kansas, Nebraska, South Dakota, Eastern Colorado and Utah. Delegates from these States were present.

It is proposed to inaugurate a national publicity campaign to acquaint the public with the modern canning and inspection system which has been introduced in American canneries during the last few years.

The campaign is intended to break down the popular prejudice against canned goods, which has existed for years, and to prove that they are the most wholesome food on the market.

The canners say there has been an enormous advance in the cost of tin cans, cases, labels and [illegible] that farmers are getting [illegible] twice as much for their [illegible] and fruits as they did [illegible] years ago.

PALMER MUST REST, IS DOCTOR'S ORDER

WASHINGTON, Nov. [illegible]—Gen. Palmer was reported [illegible] the verge of a nervous [illegible] and received orders from [illegible] to cease work and take all [illegible] possible.

Mr. Palmer's physician told him "unless he quits work [illegible] than a week he would not be responsible for the consequences." It was explained that this was [illegible] taken to mean that he was in serious condition.

ARIZONA JOURNAL IS TAKEN FROM RADICALS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PHOENIX, Nov. 20.—The Labor Journal definitely passed from control of the radical element in a decision by Judge Frank Lyman, turning the publication over to a committee appointed by the last State Labor Convention. President Croaff and Secretary Smith claimed to have been placed in control by a vote of the State unions, considered superior to the convention. Croaff denied that the paper had been revolutionary in tone, but the decision was made after submission of the files of two years back.

The Journal, last week edited by the committee, has declared strongly against the I.W.W., whom Croaff was charged with supporting. The committee's membership includes Leroy Kennedy, conservative candidate for president; P. M. Varras, T. M. French, C. J. Feeley and Clyde Timberlake. Asst. Atty.-Gens. McBride and Baker, represented the Kennedy interests. Croaff will not appeal. He denies that he advocated sabotage or direct action.

INGALLS WINS.

Atty.-Gen. Jones has declared against any appeal of the adjutant-general case, decided in two Superior courts in favor of the Republican claimant, Walter Ingalls. He has advised the auditor to recognize Ingalls.

STOP DAM WORK.

The State Board of Control has ordered discontinuance of work on the Lyman Dam near St. Johns until there has been secured a contract that will assure completion within a reasonable expenditure. The State has been asked for $185,000 for completion of the structure on which it has spent $240,000 already under erroneous estimates.

WOULD REVISE NIGHT WORK LAW FOR WOMEN

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—Revision of the Berne convention of 1906 prohibiting the employment of women at night, was recommended today by the International Labor Conference. The principals of the agreement were indorsed, but changes were advocated to meet the demands of the industrial and social evolution during the thirteen years of its existence.

Under the recommendations the agreement would be made applicable to "industrial undertakings," where less than ten women were employed.

Specific definition of the term "industrial undertaking" was made incumbent upon each contracting gate methods in use at plants at include mines and quarries and manufacturing industries.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

Yi, 20.—The Yamato-, a Japanese newspaper ay, today reports a military scheme to increase Japan's forces in Siberia in view of the continued debacle and attendant defeats of the army of Admiral Kolchak.

The article declares that Japan's welfare is menaced by this Kolchak debacle, adding that the scheme will go before the Cabinet soon.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 20.—Arrest by Japanese soldiers at Antung, Manchuria, of Prince K. Yi Pang, son of the late Emperor of Korea, was reported today in a cable received by the Korean National Association here, sent from Shanghai under signature of the Korean provisional government.

Prince Yi Pang, according to the cable, was making his way to Shanghai to join the provisional government, and was taken back to Korea by the Japanese.

PARIS, Nov. 20.—The Japanese delegation to the Peace Conference today denied a published report that negotiations were in progress between the Russian soviet government and Japan.

LONDON, Nov. 20.—Officials decline to comment on prospects of a renewal of the Anglo-Japanese treaty, which expires in 1921. It is pointed out that in the ordinary course the treaty would have been submitted to the League of Nations, but that, in view of the present position of the League, it is impossible to predict the course of future diplomacy.

ASUNCION (Paraguay) Nov. 20.—A commercial treaty between Paraguay and Japan has been signed by Foreign Minister Ayala and S. Tatsuke, Japanese Minister to Chile, who was sent to Paraguay as the special envoy of Japan. The treaty also provides for a continuation of the friendly relations between the two countries.

TOKIO, Oct. 20.—The new high-power Japanese wireless station, which will communicate directly with the Pacific Coast of the United States, will be completed in November. Trial exchange of messages will at once be made, and if satisfactory results are obtained the station will be opened to the public. The station is located at Tomiokamura.

dealers, in suits involving the removal of distilled spirits from bonded warehouses, argued that whisky was property, and that the War-time Prohibition Act was confiscatory. While the act may have been constitutional when enacted, the passing of the emergency, they contended, rendered it invalid.

Denials of these contentions were made by Solicitor-General King, who said the War-time Prohibition Act provides only for a temporary suspension of sale. While, conceding that demobilization had been completed, he said it was necessary to keep the law in effect until peace had been formally proclaimed.

MRS. W. E. McCOMBS SEEKS ANNULMENT.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—Washington society was interested, but not surprised by the cable dispatches from Rome, received here today, saying Mrs. McCoombs, formerly Miss Dorothy Williams, had applied to the Vatican for the annulment of her marriage to William F. McCombs.

Mrs. McCombs, who is a daughter of the late Col. John R. Williams and Mrs. Williams, is in France, and her two sisters, Mrs. Joseph Leiter and Mrs. John Ballantine Pitney, are in New York. At the home of her mother, Mrs. John R. Williams, here, it was said today that the date of her return to Washington was uncertain.

WHIRLWIND COURTSHIP.

The marriage took place in London, November 7, 1913, after a whirlwind courtship, at a time when Mr. McCombs, who had served as campaign manager for President Wilson, was in high favor at the White House, and was said to have been offered the post of American Ambassador at Paris. He had already declined a place in Mr. Wilson's Cabinet. Mr. McCombs met Miss Williams in Washington at the inauguration of President Wilson, and followed her abroad soon after. They became engaged at Aix Les-Bains, and were married in London by the Rev. Father Vaughn, in the presence of a distinguished company, including the late Ambassador to Great Britain and Mrs. Page, the then Ambassador to France and Mrs. Myron T. Herrick, Mr. and Mrs. Irwin B. Laughlin, the Earl and Countess of Suffolk, the latter formerly Miss Daisy Leiter; the Earl and Countess of Craven, the Earl and Countess of Derby, Maj. WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.— effort for industrial p made by a conference one-time Federal and State officials ally ad- men and economists, the to his of which was announced t ht in the White House. on Unlike the National Indust Conference, which came to grief ov the question of collective bargaining, the new body will represent no distinctive group, but will undertake to act in the interest of all the people. It will meet in Washington December 1.

In his letter of invitation to the seventeen men who are to make up the new gathering, President Wilson said the new representatives "should have concern that our industries may be conducted with such regard for justice and fair dealing that the workman will feel himself induced to put forth his best efforts, that the employer will have an encouraging profit and that the public will not suffer at the hands of either class.

The procedure will be determined by the conference itself. No representatives of labor were included in the personnel, nor will there be any representatives of capital, as such.

Secretary of Labor Wilson headed the list, which included three former Cabinet officers and two former Federal officers, but the President did not appoint any of the men who served in the first conference.

ASSERTS GEN. MARCH IS "MORALLY BRUTAL."

JOLIET (Ill.) Nov. 20.—The army General Staff and Gen. March, Chief of Staff, came in for criticism last night in an address by John H. Wigmore, dean of the school of law of Northwestern University, and formerly a colonel in the Provost Marshal-General's department, who addressed the Will County Bar Association.

While paying tribute to Gen. March's work in the war, Dean Wigmore asserted the general was possessed of a "ruthlessness that amounts to moral brutality" and should be removed.

He said the General Staff was characterized by a lack of sufficient knowledge of life outside the military.

BRITISH TROOPS PUT DOWN EGYPTIAN RIOT.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

CAIRO, Sunday, Nov. 16.—Ten persons were killed and 120 injured, ninety of whom suffered gunshot wounds, in a riotous demonstration which continued here all day today.

Three police stations were set on fire by mobs, which liberated prisoners and paraded the streets carrying wounded rioters. British troops restored order.

The rioting was in five different localities. The object of the mobs in storming the police stations was to release demonstrators who had been arrested. They freed several such prisoners.

The number of minor casualties cannot be estimated. The Egyptian infantry fired into the crowds at two places where rioting was going on, killing two persons and wounding several others.

No Europeans were injured, although the rioters entered several European houses and accused the inmates of firing on the crowd.

Students carrying Egyptian flags and shouting, "Down with Milner," began the rioting. Roughs joined with them and got the upper hand of the native police. The infantry was compelled to fire on the mob storming the police stations, further infuriating the rioters.

The British troops finally restored order, driving off the demonstrators who were armed with rifles and sticks. Tonight the city is heavily patrolled.

START WORK ON FIRST GREAT AERO FREIGHTER

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—The first of four aerial freighters, capable of carrying from 3000 to 6000 pounds, is under construction for the air mail service at College Point, Long Island, it was announced tonight. The planes will go into commission early next year, probably on the New York, Chicago and Omaha route.

These ships, capable of making 110 miles an hour, are three-motored tractor biplanes. They have a wing spread of 106 feet, are designed to carry a crew of four—two pilots, a radio operator and a mechanic—and will weigh ten tons when loaded. Quarters for the crew will be in the nacelle, or tailless body.

The planes will carry 3000 pounds of mail on long flights, such as the one-stop trip to Omaha from New York, and will carry 6000 pounds on shorter flights, such as from New York to Buffalo. They are to have a cruising radius of sixteen hours at low speed. Landing speed is estimated at 55 miles an hour.

IMMIGRATION FORCE WANT NOBBIER GARB.

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—Ellis Island's 300 immigration inspectors decided today that their uniforms look "too much like those of street-car conductors" to impress arriving immigrants with the dignity of the first government official with whom they come into contact. They want snappier clothes and a "substantial" increase over present salaries of $1380 to $2100.

SERBIAN RECOVERY FROM WAR IS SLOW.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PARIS, Nov. 20.—Conditions in Serbia are appalling and reconstruction work is proceeding with discouraging slowness. Dr. Hilenko R. Vesnitch of the Jugo-Slav delegation to the Peace Conference told the correspondent today.

The whole trouble lies in the crippled condition of the railroads of Serbia, Dr. Vesnitch declared. Serbia was overrun three times by her enemies, but the Bulgarian invasion, being conducted along lines of thorough devastation, resulted in not one railroad bridge being left intact in the kingdom.

"It now requires three days to make a railroad trip from Saloniki to Belgrade, while trains from Nish traveling in a northerly direction, average five miles an hour.

Dr. Vesnitch refused to talk concerning the Adriatic question, but the lesser members of the Jugo-Slav delegation were outspoken in saying that the Serbian people had reached the limits of their patience. The delegates, while dissatisfied with some clauses in the Bulgarian treaty, said they would sign it without reservations.

ASK RUMANIA IF SHE STANDS BY ALLIANCE/

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PARIS, Nov. 20.—The note sent by the Supreme Council to Rumania last Saturday, according to a Berne dispatch to the Presse de Paris, says that in view of Rumania's unyielding on the decisions of the council, the latter is at a loss to know whether Rumania really desires to follow the Allied policy.

If it is her intention to follow this policy, the note says, the council requests that she sign the Austrian treaty immediately, otherwise Rumania will be considered as having withdrawn voluntarily from the alliance.

OFFENSIVE ON REDS GAINS AT MURMANSK.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

ARCHANGEL, Wednesday, Nov. 19.—The following summary has been issued by general headquarters dealing with the operations on the Murmansk coast during the past fortnight:

"Our troops have carried out an uninterrupted offensive, defeating the enemy and pursuing him along the eastern shore of Lake Onejsky and capturing various places on the Chaulsky peninsula. Attacks by an enemy flotilla on these positions were repulsed.

"In the Rigobelsky sector on the railroad front, our offensive is being obstinately resisted."

AGAINST LOCKOUTS, WALKOUTS, STRIKES.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 20.—Organization of the newly-formed web pressmen's union, to be known as the United Newspaper Web Pressmen's and Juniors' Association, of North and South America, was consummated tonight.

Resolutions were adopted providing for group insurance, settlement of all working grievances by arbitration, the "prohibition of strikes, lockouts and walkouts" and the recall of officers charged with maladministration of office.

A Most Interesting Box of Stationery

—Three times interesting because of the three dominant features: Quality, Quantity and Price. It is a high-grade, smooth surface paper with a perpendicular water mark stripe. Social note size in white, pink, buff and blue. There are 48 sheets of paper (folded) and 48 envelopes to match—twice the quantity usually put in a box of stationery. The price—69c a box—is most interesting, particularly when due consideration is given to quality and quantity. Now being featured in all Owl Drug Stores.

Other Box Stationery
The prices start at 25c a box and range up to $1.00. As a rule a box contains 24 sheets of paper and 24 envelopes to match.

Correspondence Cards
The prices start at 25c a box for the plain white—gold-edge cards start at 35c. A box contains 24 cards and 24 envelopes.

Writing Tablets
All popular prices from 10c up. Pay particular attention to the number of sheets in a tablet—with quality also in mind.

Paper by the Pound
A sure way to economize. Full pound packages 40c (102 sheets); 50c (96 sheets); $1.00 (90 sheets). White only. Envelopes to match.

PRINCE OF WALES ON TRIP TO WEST POINT.

AS COLONEL OF WELSH GUARDS GOES TO ACADEMY TO INSPECT CADETS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—The Prince of Wales spent a comparatively idle day, including a visit to West Point, where he inspected the cadets, a vigorous hour at squash, a dinner on the British cruiser Renown, and a theater party.

The trip to West Point occupied the major portion of the day. Accompanied by Lord Grey, the British Ambassador; Maj.-Gen. O'Ryan, commander of the New York State troops, and the members of his staff, the Prince, dressed in the uniform of a colonel of the Welsh Guards, left New York at 10:45 a.m. An immense crowd watched his departure and cheered him.

At Garrison, the little river station where he alighted to take the ferry for West Point, a very pretty picture was presented. The younger school children of the village, ranging in age from 10 to 5 years, lined the path from the station to the ferry boat. A salute by the children was returned by the Prince, who stopped and chatted for a few moments with the children's teacher.

VISIT OVER SATURDAY.

A visit to Oyster Bay, where he will lay a wreath on the grave of Theodore Roosevelt, and a reception to school children, are the principal incidents scheduled for tomorrow.

The Prince's visit to America will be brought to a conclusion on Saturday, when he will confer decorations for gallantry on 120 American officers and sailors.

"When my son Charles was about 4 years of age he was subject to attacks of croup and I never felt safe without a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house. That remedy when given according to the directions relieved him immediately. I cannot praise Chamberlain's Cough Remedy too highly," writes Mrs. Charles London, Clayville, N. Y.—[Advertisement.

THE CALIFORNIA TAKES TO WAVE.

Real Champagne Christens Our Superdreadnaught.

Brakes Fail to Hold and a Crash is Sequel.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

VALLEJO, Nov. 20.—With real California wine, the wine of the days before war-time prohibition, the superdreadnaught California was launched at 11:45 this morning and went into the Pacific with the wine dripping from her bow.

The brakes rigged up to stop the California in the narrow channel failed to hold, and she crashed into a pier of the Mare Island-Vallejo Ferry, tearing away ten feet of the slip and endangering a number of spectators. She finally came to a stop in shallow water.

Workmen on the California, seeing that the brakes were not going to hold, warned all spectators away from the slip as the vessel was about to crash. The California coasted for half a mile, despite the brakes. Tugs were soon engaged in an endeavor to pull her out into the stream.

The tugs, eight in number, soon had the great hull cleared and towed her back to the fitting-up docks at the yards. Naval engineers believed that her stem had rested in the mud, but she was pulled off without difficulty. It was estimated that $50 would cover the damage to the vessel.

SPECTATORS DRENCHED.

A great splash was caused by the California smashing into the pier and hundreds of spectators, scurrying out of danger, were drenched. When she came to a stop her stern was close to the shore line and the nose of her clipper bow was pointing toward San Francisco.

The launching was a gala event, with Gov. and Mrs. Stephens and thousands of spectators on and around the gaily-decorated platform. Mrs. Randolph T. Zane, the Governor's daughter, made a perfect shot in sponsoring the vessel with a bottle of California champagne, and the towering hull slipped easily and gracefully into the stream.

Speakers at a luncheon, following the launching, in Mrs. Zane's honor, were Capt. H. M. Gleason, Construction Corps, U.S.N., construction officer at the yard, who was responsible for the ship's erection; Capt. Beach, commandant of the yard; Rear-Admiral J. L. Japne, commandant of the Twelfth Naval District; Admiral Rodman, commander-in-chief of the Pacific Fleet; Gov. Stephens, and Mayor Roney of Vallejo.

As the California left her cradle she was seen that the brakes were marding her progress, and they slowed her up to such a degree that spectators on the Mare Island side of the channel were unaware of her forceful contact with the ferry slip.

REAL CHAMPAGNE.

If it had not been for the keen foresight of Capt. H. M. Gleason, chief of construction at Mare Island, the man responsible for the successful completion of the last word in dreadnaughts, the kick would have been eliminated from the contents of the christening bottle, and, according to many of the expert sailormen included in the personnel of the navy, the California would have gone forth with a jinx attached.

A friend, associate and fellow officer of Capt. Gleason told the facts of the wine affair today. He said:

"When the California was about one-half completed, the hull, I mean, the exponents of national prohibition got busy at Washington, and the office of the chief at Washington became burdened each day with hundreds of communications, each writer representing either himself, herself or some dry organization, begging the chief to forbid the use of liquor, wine with a kick in it, at the time the California was launched.

SUPPLY EXHAUSTED.

"It was well known in official circles that the supply of christening wine at Mare Island had been exhausted. It was rumored that there were several cases on hand before the country went dry, and that only a little had been used for actual christening purposes. There are numerous rumors afloat regarding the fate of the remainder, but there are no affidavits, so all remains a mystery.

"Under the laws enforcing prohibition, it was impossible to go into the market and purchase any wine. We all began to worry about the matter, and had about concluded that the ancient and honorable custom of christening a real fighting ship with a fighting fluid would have to pass into the discard, when it was discovered that Capt. Gleason, always prepared for an emergency, had come to the rescue.

"Capt. Gleason, without taking anybody into his confidence, had quietly made out a requisition for a case of 'launching fluid.' It arrived today, so all was well."

ADMIT STALE BREAD IS THROWN TO HOGS.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 20.—A statement admitting charges by Charles A. Nelson, County Supervisor, that stale bread was being shipped from San Francisco to be fed to hogs at Sacramento River points instead of being sold here was made by executives of the California Bakers' Association here today, but it was held that the bread was not fit for human consumption. Supervisor Nelson was continuing an investigation today preparatory to submitting an ordinance which would stop the practice.

"Less than 1 per cent. of the bread turned out by the bakeries here is disposed of in this fashion," the association statement said. "This is bread that has been up for sale a week or more and has been returned as unsalable. It is not fit for human consumption, and, if not used as hog and stock feed, would be absolutely wasted. It is not being fed to the hogs in the large quantities claimed by Supervisor Nelson."

Fair Sponsor for Superdreadnaught.

The California, World's Greatest Naval Fighting Machine.

Mrs. Randolph T. Zane, daughter of Gov. Stephens and widow of a marine officer who gave his life to his country, christened the great ship with California champagne, which, according to sailor lore, will bring good luck. She smashed the bottle at exactly the right moment and the ceremony, under cloudless skies, was a brilliant success.

STEEL STRIKE OVER AT CHICAGO PLANTS.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—The steel strike is over, so far as the Chicago district is concerned. So say South Chicago and Indiana Harbor steel officials and the police, and it is even admitted by some of the striking workers.

The steel superintendents assert their plants are approximately fully manned and that the output is nearly normal. A lack of experience of many of the workers is all that is holding the output below 100 per cent., they declare. Picketing of the plants by the strikers, which was a big feature of the strike in the early days of the walkout, is now a thing of the past, the pickets having been withdrawn by the union leaders some days ago, it is admitted by union officials.

POLICE BEING WITHDRAWN.

The police detail for the strike zone in Chicago, which numbered 1200 during the early days of the strike, has been gradually cut down until today only 200 policemen are acting under orders of Capt. Nootbaar of the South Chicago district, and he stated these would be withdrawn by Monday.

There are 5000 men at work now in the South Chicago plant of the Illinois Steel Company. The Wisconsin Steel Company is running 100 per cent., and similar reports were made by the Federal Furnace Company and the Iroquois Iron Company. At the Indiana Harbor plant of the Inland Steel Company the strike is off.

TREATY DEFEAT AMAZES FRENCH

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PARIS, Nov. 20.—The French, British and Italian delegates to the Peace Conference seem dazed by the Senate's refusal to approve the treaty and unable to comprehend how the signature of the American peace delegation failed to bind the American government.

The American delegates are without instructions as regards their future course. Mr. White will continue to sit in the Supreme Council meetings, and the delegation will function as usual until otherwise instructed.

Mr. White received the news from the Associated Press while he was attending the Supreme Council session today. The members of the council after adjournment withheld comment.

FOR PEACE DECEMBER 1.

In French official circles, although there was disappointment over the Senate's adjournment with the treaty situation still unsettled, no surprise was expressed and it even seemed that the event had been expected.

Apparently, the situation had been discussed and measures taken in advance to meet the eventuality, as Foreign Minister Pichon, who presided over the Supreme Council today, urged that the treaty be put into force not later than December 1.

While the failure of the American Senate to ratify the treaty has apparently alarmed the French people, it seemingly is not agitating the average Frenchman so much as the fear that the United States may not ratify the joint agreement with England for the defense of France, which is uppermost in the minds of all French people.

PROTOCOL HELD UP.

No formal meeting has been held between the German delegates, who arrived yesterday morning, and the representatives of the Allied powers concerning the protocol to the German peace treaty. It now seems unlikely that the protocol will be signed before the end of November as the Germans oppose the provision requesting them to replace warships sunk when their fleet was scuttled at Scapa Flow.

The failure of the Allied and associated powers to reach an agreement on the treaty is reported to have encouraged the Germans greatly.

As the protocol must be arranged before the formal announcement of ratification by the three powers required to make it effective the date of putting the treaty into effect seems uncertain.

PEACE DELEGATES TO LEAVE FRANCE DEC. 5.

AMERICAN PARTY MAKES OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENT OF PLAN FOR GOING HOME.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PARIS, Nov. 20.—The American delegates to the Peace Conference will sail from Brest for New York on board the steamship America December 5. Frank Polk officially has announced the plans at Hotel de Crillon. This is confirming my exclusive dispatch of November 11, which announced the Peace Conference would close during the first week in December and the American delegates would go home. Joseph C. Grew, secretary of the American delegates to the conference, issued an official denial of this story when it was printed in Paris, announcing that the news was premature, and later Secretary of State Lansing issued a similar statement in Washington.

EIGHTY IN PARTY.

More than eighty persons will comprise the party and the Hotel de Crillon will be dismantled of American material and equipment and will be handed back to the French proprietors before December 15.

Secretary of State Lansing's reply to Mr. Polk's demand that the conference be recalled early in December has been received. The Navy Department could not allocate the steamship George Washington for this trip, but it gave the use of the America.

Mr. Polk is ignorant whether the United States Navy will continue to handle the special telegraph lines throughout Europe, which it has been doing since the conference began this spring. There is need of communications with all European countries.

Mr. Polk is leaving Paris today for London for a short visit, returning to Paris next week. He announces his trip to London has no political connection, although it may be he will see Prime Minister Lloyd George. He expects to see old friends in England.

Premier Clemenceau is leaving for a few days in the country, returning to Paris Tuesday next when the Supreme Council will sit again. With the absence of Mr. Polk, Henry White will sit in as the American representative.

Both Mr. White and Gen. Bliss are returning with Mr. Polk, as well as all technical advisers, experts, attaches, stenographers, telephone operators and other members of the commission.

CONVENTION TALK HERE RECORD HIGH COSTS RULING THE MARKET.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—[illegible] products are not only going to be high in price, but are going to a record price this winter.

Canners' talk—[illegible] flowed freely in the Hotel [illegible] today, when questions [illegible] the canning industry and the outlook for canned goods were discussed by men identified with business.

The few housewives who [illegible] there as guests learned that [illegible] will continue to pay [illegible] canned corn, peas, tomatoes and all tinned products of the orchard for some time to come.

The fifteen States represented at the Western Canners' Association are: Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Michigan, Wisconsin, Iowa, Minnesota, Missouri, Tennessee, Kansas, South Dakota, Kentucky, Colorado and Utah. Delegates from these States were present.

It is proposed to inaugurate a national publicity campaign to acquaint the public with the modern canning and inspection system which has been introduced in American canneries during the last few years.

The campaign is intended to break down the popular prejudice against canned goods, which has existed for years, and to prove that they are the most wholesome product on the market.

The canners say there has been an enormous advance in the cost of cans, cases, labels and [illegible] that farmers are getting [illegible] twice as much for their vegetables and fruits as they did [illegible] years ago.

PALMER MUST REST, IS DOCTOR'S ORDER

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—Gen. Palmer was reported [illegible] the verge of a nervous breakdown and received orders from physicians to cease work and take all rest possible.

Mr. Palmer's physician told him "unless he quits work [illegible] than a week he would not be responsible for the consequences." It was explained that this was not taken to mean that he was in serious condition.

GOV. STEPHENS'S ADDRESS AT THE CALIFORNIA'S LAUNCHING

VALLEJO, Nov. 20.—The pride of California in the new superdreadnaught named for this State was voiced at its launching here today by Gov. Stephens, whose daughter, Mrs. Randolph T. Zane, christened the new fighting machine, the third electrically-driven dreadnaught in the world.

The Governor said:

"We are assembled here at this time to commit to the waters of the Pacific the newest and the greatest fighting machine of the American navy. Measured in terms of up-to-date efficiency, this ship will be one of the most powerful afloat.

"We are especially gratified that this noble vessel, magnificent exponent of the shipbuilder's art that it is, has developed her splendid lines and will become as it were a living thing here in our own home seas. She stands today a splendid tribute to her builders as she rests in these tranquil waters. Today we intrust this great ship to the great ocean that washes our shores, and we now and here dedicate her to the service of our country.

"Prouder still are we that as she goes out upon the high seas, bearing the Stars and Stripes, to fulfill her mission, she is to bear the name of our beloved State, 'California.' With the flag of the Union floating at her masthead the name of the Golden State borne in sunshine and storm, in peace or in war, this great battleship will add glory to a record of a navy undimmed by an act of cowardice or record of defeat.

"Resting at anchor in our own home waters the battleship will symbolize the majesty of the free government that called her into being—a government that insists upon justice and stands for liberty under law.

"This great triumph of the builder's art will take her place in the navy of a country that has never lowered her colors to a foe. She will be manned by officers and men whose love of country is deep, sincere and mastering. And as she goes out through our own Golden Gate upon the high seas in all her power, beauty and perfection, carrying on her decks men whose hearts beat true to the ideals of a great and free people, the benison of our good wishes and unfeigned affection will accompany them and remain with them in paths of peace so long as peace shall be the way of honor.

"And if war shall ever come again, and the defenders of the nation again be enrolled, may the California proudly do her part and carve for herself a record that will thrill all who love courage and revere justice.

"This great battleship built not only for defense but as an incentive to peace has been constructed and will be finished here at Mare Island Navy Yard. There is no other yard that can equal this one in speed or in economical warship building. Under Commandants Bennett and Beach, Constructor Gleason, other officers and men, this wonderful product of men's skill has been made ready for launching and for christening.

"It is quite customary for the sponsor of a war vessel named for a great State to be the daughter of the Governor of that State, and so it is that my daughter, Mrs. Randolph T. Zane, born and raised in California, was selected to christen this most modern of battleships—the California.

"None can say what awaits this noblest of ships. She has been built for war. May she indeed prove a deterrent of war! May the heroes who shall be called to make of her their home in the service of their country, fully measure up to the splendid traditions of a navy—that has always been ready—when called!

"What deeds may be enacted on her armored decks we may not say, but that the California will never lower her flag to a foe or become an engine of oppression to the weak and defenseless we are assured.

"Sail out, California, great ship that you are, and may you ever be an effective argument for peace!"

BLAMES LODGE FOR FAILURE OF TREATY.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—Responsibility for the defeat of the peace treaty was today placed on the shoulders of United States Senator Lodge and his friends at Washington, the accuser being Mrs. George Bass, chairmon of the Woman's National Democratic Committee. Their action was deliberate, she charged, and she expressed the belief that the Lodge group of Senators would sacrifice the future peace and security of the world to discredit President Wilson.

Mrs. Bass was at her headquarters in the Congress Hotel today, after an absence in Missouri, where she presented the cause of the Democrats to a meeting of the Missouri Women Voters' League. She read the morning newspapers hastily. Senator Lodge's assertion, "The treaty is dead," caught her eye.

BLAMES LODGE.

"I am perfectly willing to take Mr. Lodge at his word," she exclaimed. "He and his associates have been trying to kill the treaty by means of reservations of varying strength during the entire six months of the extra session. Any attempts on their part to shift the responsibility onto the Democrats of the Senate will result in failure.

"I have been over a great part of the United States during the last six months. I have traveled in forty States and I have talked with people and sounded public sentiment. Whatever men and women may have thought in regard to mild reservations or none at all, in their minds, the issue has always been perfectly clear—that Lodge and his associates really wished to kill the treaty.

TO DISCREDIT WILSON.

"I believe, further, that they would sacrifice the future peace and security of the world to discredit the President. As for me, I feel perfectly safe in saying that the President's place in history is secure, and their place and their motives will be equally understood. Their pettiness of soul is revealed.

"America cannot live unto itself alone. We cannot stay outside. A man must have a narrow and provincial understanding of history, and I am not speaking now about Senator Lodge, if he believes that America can stand aloof from all other nations on all great questions pertaining to the welfare of the world.

INTERESTS INTERWOVEN.

"All industrial, economic and business problems have to be treated from the standpoint of the well-being and security of mankind, and not one nation. Senator Lodge knows these things. He cannot be accused of ignorance. He has been a historian and student of the philosophy of history. His position was taken deliberately and directed, I believe, by malice and jealousy of the President."

Mrs. Bass expects to spend most of the campaign in the Chicago headquarters, the national committee having chosen this city as the national center for women.

ARIZONA JOURNAL IS TAKEN FROM RADICALS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PHOENIX, Nov. 20.—The Labor Journal definitely passed from control of the radical element in a decision by Judge Frank Lyman, turning the publication over to a committee appointed by the last State Labor Convention. President Croaff and Secretary Smith claimed to have been placed in control by a vote of the State unions, considered superior to the convention. Croaff denied that the paper had been revolutionary in tone, but the decision was made after submission of the files of two years back.

The Journal, last week edited by the committee, has declared strongly against the I.W.W., whom Croaff was charged with supporting. The committee's membership includes, Leroy Kennedy, conservative candidate for president; P. M. Vargas, T. M. French, C. J. Feeley and Clyde Timberlake. Asst. Atty.-Gens. McBride and Baker, represented the Kennedy interests. Croaff will not appeal. He denies that he advocated sabotage or direct action.

INGALLS WINS.

Atty.-Gen. Jones has declared against any appeal of the adjutant-general case, decided in two Superior courts in favor of the Republican claimant, Walter Ingalls. He has advised the auditor to recognize Ingalls.

STOP DAM WORK.

The State Board of Control has ordered discontinuance of work on the Lyman Dam near St. Johns until there has been secured a contract that will assure completion within a reasonable expenditure. The State has been asked for $185,000 for completion of the structure on which it has spent $240,000 already under erroneous estimates.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—Revision of the Berne convention of 1906 prohibiting the employment of women at night, was recommended today by the International Labor Conference. The principals of the agreement were indorsed, but changes were advocated to meet the demands of the industrial and social evolution during the thirteen years of its existence.

Under the recommendations the agreement would be made applicable to "industrial undertakings," where less than ten women were employed.

Specific definition of the term "industrial undertaking" was made incumbent upon each contracting gate methods in use at plants at include mines and quarries and manufacturing industries.

CONVENTION TALK INDICATES RECORD HIGH COSTS DURING THE WINTER.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—Canned products are not only going to remain high in price, but are going to reach a record price this winter.

Canners' talk—Not canned talk—flowed freely in the Hotel Sherman today, when questions relating to the canning industry and the general outlook for canned goods were discussed by men identified with the business.

The few housewives who were there as guests learned that they will continue to pay top prices for canned corn, peas, tomatoes, fruits and all tinned products of farm and orchard for some time to come.

The fifteen States represented at the Western Canners' Association are: Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Michigan, Wisconsin, Iowa, Minnesota, Missouri, Tennessee, Nebraska, Kansas, South Dakota, Kentucky, Colorado and Utah. Delegates from these States were present.

It is proposed to inaugurate a national publicity campaign to acquaint the public with the modern canning and inspection system which has been introduced in American canneries during the last few years.

The campaign is intended to break down the popular prejudice against canned goods, which has prevailed for years, and to prove that canners are the most wholesome grocers in the market.

The canners say there has been enormous advance in the cost of cans, cases, labels and labor, and that farmers are getting almost twice as much for their vegetables and fruits as they did six or seven years ago.

The article declares that Japan's welfare is menaced by this Kolchak debacle, adding that the scheme will go before the Cabinet soon.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 20.—Arrest by Japanese soldiers at Antung, Manchuria, of Prince K. Yi Pang, son of the late Emperor of Korea, was reported today in a cable received by the Korean National Association here, sent from Shanghai under signature of the Korean provisional government.

Prince Yi Pang, according to the cable, was making his way to Shanghai to join the provisional government, and was taken back to Korea by the Japanese.

LONDON, Nov. 20.—Officials decline to comment on prospects of a renewal of the Anglo-Japanese treaty, which expires in 1921. It is pointed out that in the ordinary course the treaty would have been submitted to the League of Nations, but that, in view of the present position of the League, it is impossible to predict the course of furture diplomacy.

ASUNCION (Paraguay) Nov. 20.—A commercial treaty between Paraguay and Japan has been signed by Foreign Minister Ayala and S. dealers, in suits involving the removal of distilled spirits from bonded warehouses, argued that whisky was property, and that the War-time Prohibition Act was confiscatory. While the act may have been constitutional when enacted, the passing of the emergency, they contended, rendered it invalid.

Denials of these contentions were made by Solicitor-General King, who said the War-time Prohibition Act provides only for a temporary suspension of sale. While, conceding that demobilization had been completed, he said it was necessary to keep the law in effect until peace had been formally proclaimed.

MRS. W. E. McCOMBS SEEKS ANNULMENT.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—Washington society was interested, but not surprised by the cable dispatches from Rome, received here today, saying Mrs. McCoombs, formerly Miss Dorothy Williams, had applied to the Vatican for the annulment of her marriage to William F. McCombs.

Mrs. McCombs, who is a daughter of the late Col. John R. Williams and Mrs. Williams, is in France, and her two sisters, Mrs. Joseph Leiter and Mrs. John Ballantine Pitney, are in New York. At the home of her mother, Mrs. John R. Williams, here, it was said today that the date of her return to Washington was uncertain.

WHIRLWIND COURTSHIP.

The marriage took place in London, November 7, 1913, after a whirlwind courtship, at a time when Mr. McCombs, who had served as campaign manager for President Wilson, was in high favor at the White House, and was said to have been offered the post of American Ambassador at Paris. He had already declined a place in Mr. Wilson's Cabinet. Mr. McCombs met Miss Williams in Washington at the inauguration of President Wilson, and followed her abroad soon after. They became engaged at Aix Les-Bains, and were married in London by the Rev. Father Vaughn, in the presence of a distinguished company, including the late Ambassador to Great Britain and Mrs. Page, the then Ambassador to France and Mrs. Myron T. Herrick, Mr. and Mrs. Irwin B. Laughlin, the Earl and Countess of Suffolk, the latter formerly Miss Daisy Leiter; the Earl and Countess of Craven, the Earl and Countess of Derby, Maj. Colin Campbell and Mrs. Campbell, the latter formerly Miss Nancy Leiter, and Mrs. Richard Townsend.

SOON ESTRANGED.

Within a year they were estranged and shortly afterwards Mrs. McCombs secured a divorce without dorest from her husband. The tication for annulment of the "lage is due to the fact that Mrs. for bs is a devout Roman tectives, and her church does not [Sign divorce nor countenance ge of divorced persons.

WASHINGTON, Nov. effort for industrial pe Nov. 20.— made by a conference one-time Federal and State officials, men and economists, the ally ad- of which was announced t to his ht in the White House.

Unlike the National Indust on Conference, which came to grief on the question of collective bargaining, the new body will represent no distinctive group, but will undertake to act in the interest of all the people. It will meet in Washington December 1.

In his letter of invitation to the seventeen men who are to make up the new gathering, President Wilson said the new representatives "should have concern that our industries may be conducted with such regard for justice and fair dealing that the workman will feel himself induced to put forth his best efforts, that the employer will have an encouraging profit and that the public will not suffer at the hands of either class.

The procedure will be determined by the conference itself. No representatives of labor were included in the personnel, nor will there be any representatives of capital, as such.

Secretary of Labor Wilson headed the list, which included three former Cabinet officers and two former Federal officers, but the President did not appoint any of the men who served in the first conference.

ASSERTS GEN. MARCH IS "MORALLY BRUTAL."

JOLIET (Ill.) Nov. 20.—The army General Staff and Gen. March, Chief of Staff, came in for criticism last night in an address by John H. Wigmore, dean of the school of law of Northwestern University, and formerly a colonel in the Provost Marshal-General's department, who addressed the Will County Bar Association.

While paying tribute to Gen. March's work in the war, Dean Wigmore asserted the general was possessed of a "ruthlessness that amounts to moral brutality" and should be removed.

He said the General Staff was characterized by a lack of sufficient knowledge of life outside the military.

BRITISH TROOPS PUT DOWN EGYPTIAN RIOT.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

CAIRO, Sunday, Nov. 16.—Ten persons were killed and 120 injured, ninety of whom suffered gunshot wounds, in a riotous demonstration which continued here all day today.

Three police stations were set on fire by mobs, which liberated prisoners and paraded the streets carrying wounded rioters. British troops restored order.

The rioting was in five different localities. The object of the mobs in storming the police stations was to release demonstrators who had been arrested. They freed several such prisoners.

The number of minor casualties cannot be estimated. The Egyptian infantry fired into the crowds at two places where rioting was going on, killing two persons and wounding several others.

No Europeans were injured, although the rioters entered several European houses and accused the inmates of firing on the crowd.

Students carrying Egyptian flags and shouting, "Down with Milner," began the rioting. Roughs joined with them and got the upper hand of the native police. The infantry was compelled to fire on the mob storming the police stations, further infuriating the rioters.

The British troops finally restored order, driving off the demonstrators who were armed with rifles and sticks. Tonight the city is heavily patrolled.

START WORK ON FIRST GREAT AERO FREIGHTER

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—The first of four aerial freighters, capable of carrying from 3000 to 6000 pounds, is under construction for the air mail service at College Point, Long Island, it was announced tonight. The planes will go into commission early next year, probably on the New York, Chicago and Omaha route.

These ships, capable of making 110 miles an hour, are three-motored tractor biplanes. They have a wing spread of 106 feet, are designed to carry a crew of four—two pilots, a radio operator and a mechanic—and will weigh ten tons when loaded. Quarters for the crew will be in the nacelle, or tailless body.

The planes will carry 3000 pounds of mail on long flights, such as the one-stop trip to Omaha from New York, and will carry 6000 pounds on shorter flights, such as from New York to Buffalo. They are to have a cruising radius of sixteen hours at low speed. Landing speed is estimated at 55 miles an hour.

They want snappier clothes and a "substantial" increase over present salaries of $1380 to $2100.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PARIS, Nov. 20.—Conditions in Serbia are appalling and reconstruction work is proceeding with discouraging slowness, Dr. Hilenko R. Vesnitch of the Jugo-Slav delegation to the Peace Conference told the correspondent today.

The whole trouble lies in the crippled condition of the railroads of Serbia, Dr. Vesnitch declared. Serbia was overrun three times by her enemies, but the Bulgarian invasion, being conducted along lines of thorough devastation, resulted in not one railroad bridge being left intact in the kingdom.

"It now requires three days to make a railroad trip from Saloniki to Belgrade, while trains from Nish traveling in a northerly direction, average five miles an hour.

Dr. Vesnitch refused to talk concerning the Adriatic question, but the lesser members of the Jugo-Slav delegation were outspoken in saying that the Serbian people had reached the limits of their patience. The delegates, while dissatisfied with some clauses in the Bulgarian treaty, said they would sign it without reservations.

PARIS, Nov. 20.—The note sent by the Supreme Council to Rumania last Saturday, according to a Berne dispatch to the Presse de Paris, says that in view of Rumania's unyielding on the decisions of the council, the latter is at a loss to know whether Rumania really desires to follow the Allied policy.

If it is her intention to follow this policy, the note says, the council requests that she sign the Austrian treaty immediately, otherwise Rumania will be considered as having withdrawn voluntarily from the alliance.

PRINCE OF WALES ON TRIP TO WEST POINT.

AS COLONEL OF WELSH GUARDS GOES TO ACADEMY TO INSPECT CADETS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—The Prince of Wales spent a comparatively idle day, including a visit to West Point, where he inspected the cadets, a vigorous hour at squash, a dinner on the British cruiser Renown, and a theater party.

The trip to West Point occupied the major portion of the day. Accompanied by Lord Grey, the British Ambassador; Maj.-Gen. O'Ryan, commander of the New York State troops, and the members of his staff, the Prince, dressed in the uniform of a colonel of the Welsh Guards, left New York at 10:45 a.m. An immense crowd watched his departure and cheered him.

At Garrison, the little river station where he alighted to take the ferry for West Point, a very pretty picture was presented. The younger school children of the village, ranging in age from 10 to 5 years, lined the path from the station to the ferry boat. A salute by the children was returned by the Prince, who stopped and chatted for a few moments with the children's teacher.

THE CALIFORNIA TAKES TO WAVE.

Real Champagne Christens Our Superdreadnaught.

Brakes Fail to Hold and a Crash is Sequel.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

VALLEJO, Nov. 20.—With real California wine, the wine of the days before war-time prohibition, the superdreadnaught California was launched at 11:45 this morning and went into the Pacific with the wine dripping from her bow.

The brakes rigged up to stop the California in the narrow channel failed to hold, and she crashed into a pier of the Mare Island-Vallejo Ferry, tearing away ten feet of the slip and endangering a number of spectators. She finally came to a stop in shallow water.

Workmen on the California, seeing that the brakes were not going to hold, warned all spectators away from the slip as the vessel was about to crash. The California coasted for half a mile, despite the brakes. Tugs were soon engaged in an endeavor to pull her out into the stream.

The tugs, eight in number, soon had the great hull cleared and towed her back to the fitting-up docks at the yards. Naval engineers believed that her stern had rested in the mud, but she was pulled off without difficulty. It was estimated that $50 would cover the damage to the vessel.

SPECTATORS DRENCHED.

A great splash was caused by the California smashing into the pier and hundreds of spectators, scurrying out of danger, were drenched. When she came to a stop her stern was close to the shore line and the nose of her clipper bow was pointing toward San Francisco.

The launching was a gala event, with Gov. and Mrs. Stephens and thousands of spectators on and around the gaily-decorated platform. Mrs. Randolph T. Zane, the Governor's daughter, made a perfect shot in sponsoring the vessel with a bottle of California champagne, and the towering hull slipped easily and gracefully into the stream.

Speakers at a luncheon, following the launching, in Mrs. Zane's honor, were Capt. H. M. Gleason, Construction Corps, U.S.N., construction officer at the yard, who was responsible for the ship's erection; Capt. Beach, commandant of the yard; Rear-Admiral J. L. Japne, commandant of the Twelfth Naval District; Admiral Rodman, commander-in-chief of the Pacific Fleet; Gov. Stephens, and Mayor Roney of Vallejo.

As the California left her cradle it was seen that the brakes were retarding her progress, and they slowed her up to such a degree that spectators on the Mare Island side of the channel were unaware of her forceful contact with the ferry slip.

REAL CHAMPAGNE.

If it had not been for the keen foresight of Capt. H. M. Gleason, chief of construction at Mare Island, the man responsible for the successful completion of the last word in dreadnaughts, the kick would have been eliminated from the contents of the christening bottle, and, according to many of the expert sailormen included in the personnel of the navy, the California would have gone forth with a jinx attached.

A friend, associate and fellow officer of Capt. Gleason told the facts of the wine affair today. He said:

"When the California was about one-half completed, the hull, I mean, the exponents of national prohibition got busy at Washington, and the office of the chief at Washington became burdened each day with hundreds of communications, each writer representing either himself, herself or some dry organization, begging the chief to forbid the use of liquor, wine with a kick in it, at the time the California was launched.

SUPPLY EXHAUSTED.

"It was well known in official circles that the supply of christening wine at Mare Island had been exhausted. It was rumored that there were several cases on hand before the country went dry, and that only a little had been used for actual christening purposes. There are numerous rumors afloat regarding the fate of the remainder, but there are no affidavits, so all remains a mystery.

"Under the laws enforcing prohibition, it was impossible to go into the market and purchase any wine. We all began to worry about the matter, and had about concluded that the ancient and honorable custom of christening a real fighting ship with a fighting fluid would have to pass into the discard, when it was discovered that Capt. Gleason, always prepared for an emergency, had come to the rescue.

"Capt. Gleason, without taking anybody into his confidence, had quietly made out a requisition for a case of 'launching fluid.' It arrived today, so all was well."

ADMIT STALE BREAD IS THROWN TO HOGS.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 20.—A statement admitting charges by Charles A. Nelson, County Supervisor, that stale bread was being shipped from San Francisco to be fed to hogs at Sacramento River points instead of being sold here was made by executives of the California Bakers' Association here today, but it was held that the bread was not fit for human consumption. Supervisor Nelson was continuing an investigation today preparatory to submitting an ordinance which would stop the practice.

"Less than 1 per cent. of the bread turned out by the bakeries here is disposed of in this fashion," the association statement said. "This is bread that has been up for sale a week or more and has been returned as unsalable. It is not fit for human consumption, and, if not used as hog and stock feed, would be absolutely wasted. It is not being fed to the hogs in the large quantities claimed by Supervisor Nelson."

Fair Sponsor for Superdreadnaught.

The California, World's Greatest Naval Fighting Machine.

Mrs. Randolph T. Zane, daughter of Gov. Stephens and widow of a marine officer who gave his life to his country, christened the great ship with California champagne, which, according to sailor lore, will bring good luck. She smashed the bottle at exactly the right moment and the ceremony, under cloudless skies, was a brilliant success.

GOV. STEPHENS'S ADDRESS AT THE CALIFORNIA'S LAUNCHING

VALLEJO, Nov. 20.—The pride of California in the new superdreadnaught named for this State was voiced at its launching here today by Gov. Stephens, whose daughter, Mrs. Randolph T. Zane, christened the new fighting machine, the third electrically-driven dreadnaught in the world.

The Governor said:

"We are assembled here at this time to commit to the waters of the Pacific the newest and the greatest fighting machine of the American navy. Measured in terms of up-to-date efficiency, this ship will be one of the most powerful afloat.

"We are especially gratified that this noble vessel, magnificent exponent of the shipbuilder's art that it is, has developed her splendid lines and will become as it were a living thing here in our own home seas. She stands today a splendid tribute to her builders as she rests in these tranquil waters. Today we intrust this great ship to the great ocean that washes our shores, and we now and here dedicate her to the service of our country.

"Prouder still are we that as she goes out upon the high seas, bearing the Stars and Stripes, to fulfill her mission, she is to bear the name of our beloved State, 'California.' With the flag of the Union floating at her masthead the name of the Golden State borne in sunshine and storm, in peace or in war, this great battleship will add glory to a record of a navy undimmed by an act of cowardice or record of defeat.

"Resting at anchor in our own home waters the battleship symbolizes the majesty of the government that called Lee to the service—a government that insists on justice and stands for the supremacy of law.

"This great triumph of modern, scientific builder's art will take her place in the navy of a country whose love of liberty and whose devotion to the principles of peace and good will among men are as deep and abiding as the waters that wash our Golden Gate portals.

"In the name of the people of California, I commit to the waters of the Pacific this great battleship, and may good wishes and unfeigned affection for her will accompany them and remain with them in paths of peace so long as peace shall be the way of this country.

"And if war shall ever be forced upon us again, and the defenders of that ancient institution again be enrolled, may the people of California proudly do her part. Various manufactures carve for herself a record for excellence coming from the loom and forge that will thrill all who love country and state to pursue the arts of peace.

"This great battleship's official statement only for defense but for peace has but relaxation of the strife and will be finished and launched by the State Island Navy Yard upon the granting of other yard that may arise to German citizens in speed or in them to some to the building. Until the United States on commercial business Bennett and Gleason, other State Department will instruct the wonderful diplomatic or consular officer has been made and for obtaining the necessary permits prior to sailing after strict examination and investigation, it is believed by the sponsor department that their visits will be beneficial to this country and the persons in question are not objectionable.

"Application for such visa must be made to an American diplomatic or consular officer in some convenient neutral or Allied country and the applicant must disclose the precise nature of the business to be transacted and the names of the persons or firms to be visited."

IMMIGRATION AUTORITIES ARE HAMPERED IN THEIR WORK BY LACK OF FUNDS.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—Failure of the immigration authorities to take action in the cases of more than 400 aliens recommended for deportation by the Department of Justice is due to a lack of funds to keep immigration work current, the House Immigration Committee was told today by Immigration Commissioner Caminetti.

Representative Johnson, Washington, chairman of the Immigration Committee, received a report from the Labor Department showing that between February, 1917, and November 1, last, 148 aliens out of 697 arrested under the anarchy clauses of existing laws had been ordered deported. Sixty deportations already have been made, with eighty-eight ordered, but which are impracticable now because of war conditions.

A resolution by Mr. Johnson, adopted during the special session, requested information as to actions taken under the anarchy clauses, but the report did not reach the House before adjournment.

PUT GUARDS OVER MINES IN MEXICO.

NOGALES (Ariz.) Nov. 20.—Military protection to American mining properties in the Nacosari and Pilares district, including $2,000,000 worth of electrical equipment, will be furnished by the Mexican government, it was announced today. Five hundred Federal soldiers today were dispatched to Cananea and Agua Prieta, near where a battle is being waged against the Yaquis, on the Sonora border.

STEEL STRIKE OVER AT CHICAGO PLANTS.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—The steel strike is over, so far as the Chicago district is concerned. So say South Chicago and Indiana Harbor steel officials and the police, and it is even admitted by some of the striking workers.

The steel superintendents assert their plants are approximately fully manned and that the output is nearly normal. A lack of experience of many of the workers is all that is holding the output below 100 per cent., they declare. Picketing of the plants by the strikers, which was a big feature of the strike in the early days of the walkout, is now a thing of the past, the pickets having been withdrawn by the union leaders some days ago, it is admitted by union officials.

POLICE BEING WITHDRAWN.

The police detail for the strike zone in Chicago, which numbered 1200 during the early days of the strike, has been gradually cut down until today only 200 policemen are acting under orders of Capt. Nootbaar of the South Chicago district, and he stated these would be withdrawn by Monday.

There are 5000 men at work now in the South Chicago plant of the Illinois Steel Company. The Wisconsin Steel Company is running 100 per cent., and similar reports were made by the Federal Furnace Company and the Iroquois Iron Company. At the Indiana Harbor plant of the Inland Steel Company the strike is off.

TREATY DEFEAT AMAZES FRENCH

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PARIS, Nov. 20.—The French, British and Italian delegates to the Peace Conference seem dazed by the Senate's refusal to approve the treaty and unable to comprehend how the signature of the American peace delegation failed to bind the American government.

The American delegates are without instructions as regards future course. Mr. White will continue to sit in the Supreme Council meetings, and the delegation will function as usual until otherwise instructed.

Mr. White received the following from the Associated Press while attending the Supreme Council session today. The members, the girls physical exhausted after adjournment seized them, and commented they were FOR PEACE DECEMBER. three things.

EXPORT WHEAT RATES TOO HIGH, SAYS GRANGE

FARMERS ALSO OPPOSE FEDERALIZED MERCHANT MARINE AND THE PLUMB PLAN.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

GRAND RAPIDS, Nov. 20.—A reduction of trans-Atlantic freight rates on wheat was demanded in a resolution adopted by the National Grange today. Present rates between New York and Liverpool, the resolution sets forth, exceed eight times the pre-war rate.

Other resolutions adopted oppose a government-owned merchant marine and advocate immediate return of railroads to their owners. A privately-owned merchant marine with modified government control, similar to the Interstate Commerce Commission's supervision of railroads, was advocated.

The Grange also registered its disapproval of the Plumb plan of railroad operation.

Opposing any settlement of present-day industrial controversies that does not take into account the effect of such settlement on agriculture, the Grange adopted resolutions today declaring that the farmer cannot be held responsible for increases in the cost of living that will result from increased wages and shorter working hours in industry.

Exclusion from the United States of any immigrant who does not declare intention of becoming an American citizen was demanded in another resolution today.

PLANS COUNTRY-WIDE Y.M.C.A. EXTENSION.

DETROIT, Nov. 20.—Present industrial conditions demand a wider field of activity by the Y.M.C.A., industrial leaders and association secretaries declared before the international convention today in support of the committee report recommending a campaign for 1,000,000 members and opening of hundreds of new branches, particularly in industrial centers.

The association's welfare work, delegates were told, will aid materially in stemming the tide of industrial unrest, lessen the labor turnover, and check the tendency to eliminate religion from daily life.

The association's extension plan adopted today contemplates organization of branches in hundreds of smaller cities, in 250 industrial centers, and a number of railroad terminals.

ALHAMBRA COMPANY BUYS FACTORY SITE.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

ALHAMBRA, Nov. 20.—The Patten & Davies Lumber Company property in West Alhambra has been sold to the Trumbell Manufacturing Company. It will be used as a site for a factory for the building of steam tractors, carburetors and other appliances. Milon Trumbell, head of the Trumbell company, is an inventor, and has perfected many automatic machines.

F. M. Townsend is also interested in the project. Work is in progress on the factory building.

TEXAS AND OKLAHOMA IN OIL-LAND DEADLOCK

RICH BORDER STRIP ON RED RIVER WILL BE SETTLED IN WASHINGTON.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

FORT WORTH (Tex.) Nov. 20.—Following an all-day conference between Govs. Hobby of Texas and Robertson of Oklahoma, in an effort to adjust amicably the controversy between the two States over the ownership of oil lands along the Red River, no definite agreement was reached.

Decision by the United States Supreme Court will be necessary before ownership can be determined.

The property is in the possession of armed Texas guards and already has been the cause of several clashes between authorities of the two States.

Both Governors maintained a determined attitude throughout the day, and disappointment was evident at the close of the conference. The Governors issued a joint statement that the matter could be determined only by the United States Supreme Court. To accomplish this Atty.-Gens. Cureton of Texas and Freeling of Oklahoma will go to Washington and, pending action, matters will remain as they are, it was said.

KANAWHA OUTLOOK BRIGHT.
CHARLESTON (W. Va.) Nov. 20.—While the situation in the Kanawha coal fields is gradually improving, the New River mining district is being swept by a new strike of miners, according to reports received tonight by both operators and officials of the United Mine Workers.

Ninety-five per cent. of the mines are operating in the Kanawha fields, according to a statement issued by the Kanawha Coal Operators' Association. The working force at these mines, it was said, was about 60 per cent. of normal.

COLUMBUS (O.) Nov. 20.—Vigorous protest against delay of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad Company in getting cars for the mines of the Hazard field of Kentucky was made today to Director-General Hines and Fuel Administrator Garfield by B. F. Nigh, secretary of the Michigan-Ohio-Indiana Coal Association.

CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—Chicago and the northwestern railroad region today were placed on a virtual war-time ration of coal. Officials instructed retailers to refuse deliveries to persons with at least one week's supply on hand.

BRANT ELLIOTT WEDS SENATOR'S DAUGHTER.

MISS JOUETT FALL BORDER BRIDE OF LOCAL CLUBMAN-RANCHER-SOLDIER.

Brant Freeman Elliott, Los Angeles clubman, soldier and one of the owners of the great Elliott-Brant Rancho in Owensmouth, and Miss Jouett Fall, youngest daughter of United States Senator and Mrs. Albert B. Fall, were married at the Fall ranch, near Three Rivers, N. M., yesterday. News of the marriage, considered one of the most important recently in the social circles of the capital, Southern California and New Mexico, was received in this city last night.

The wedding, originally planned for Chicago more than a month ago, was postponed on account of illness of the bride's mother. After a trip to Washington, in which Mr. Elliott accompanied Mrs. and Miss Fall, the party returned to the Fall ranch. Mrs. William L. Blair of Cleveland, mother of Mr. Elliott, and her husband, a prominent railroad man of Ohio, were present at the wedding. Only the immediate members of both families were in attendance.

Mr. Elliott, who is a member of the Los Angeles Athletic and University clubs, and the Bachelors, returned from France last summer, where he served with the One Hundred and Forty-fourth Field Artillery, the Grizzlies, whom he joined at the outbreak of the world war, turning down an opportunity for a commission. He had the rank of a sergeant when discharged from the service. He is 31 years old.

The romance that had its culmination in yesterday's wedding began at the Mexican border, in Texas, where Mr. Elliott was serving with the troops prior to the entry of the United States into the war. Later Mr. Elliott and Miss Fall met on a number of occasions in New Mexico, Washington and Southern California, when Mrs. and Miss Fall visited Mr. Elliott's relatives.

Owing to the ill-health of Mrs. Fall the plans of the bride and Mr. Elliott are uncompleted, though it was announced by relatives here last night that a trip to the West will be made shortly.

Mr. Elliott was born in Ohio, and is a graduate of the Miami University. His father was postmaster of Hamilton, O., at the time of his death. He is the nephew of Otto F. Brant, president and general manager of the Title Insurance and Trust Company, and with D. O. Brant and A. T. Brant is the owner of the Elliott-Brant Rancho. Mrs. Blair, Mr. Elliott's mother, is the sister of O. F. Brant.

CONSTITUTIONALISTS CARRY DAY IN ITALY.

WIN MAJORITY IN CHAMBER OF DEPUTIES IN PARLIAMENTARY ELECTION.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
ROME, Nov. 20.—Official count of the returns of the Parliamentary elections of Sunday in nine constituencies of Parma, show the election to the Chamber of Deputies of Signor Pantano, Minister of Public Works; Vittorio Orlando and Luigi Luzzati, both former Premiers; Leonida Bissolati-Bergamaschi, former Minister of Military Aid and War Pensions, and Giuseppe Fiamingo, owner of the Rome newspaper Italie.

Ettore Sacchi, Minister of Justice, Pietro Bertolini, former Minister of Public Works, and Signor Naldi, manager of Tempo, were defeated.

ROME, Wednesday, Nov. 19.—The new chamber, according to estimates of the Idea Nazionale, will comprise 242 constitutionalists, both ministerialists and opposition; 102 Catholics, eight Republicans and 155 Socialists.

Demonstrations as a result of the elections are occurring throughout Italy. Bombs have been exploded at Turin and Venice, wounding several persons. In fighting at Benevento one person was killed and several wounded.

WILSON SITS ON ALCOHOLIC LID.

dealers, in suits involving the removal of distilled spirits from bonded warehouses, argued that whisky was property and that the War-time Prohibition Act was confiscatory. While the act may have been constitutional when enacted, the passing of the emergency, they contended, rendered it invalid.

Denials of these contentions were made by Solicitor-General King, who said the War-time Prohibition Act provides only for a temporary suspension of sale. While, conceding that demobilization had been completed, he said it was necessary to keep the law in effect until peace had been formally proclaimed.

MRS. W. E. McCOMBS SEEKS ANNULMENT.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]
WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—Washington society was interested, but not surprised by the cable dispatches from Rome, received here today, saying Mrs. McCoombs, formerly Miss Dorothy Williams, had applied to the Vatican for the annulment of her marriage to William F. McCombs.

Mrs. McCombs, who is a daughter of the late Col. John R. Williams and Mrs. Williams, is in France, and her two sisters, Mrs. Joseph Leiter and Mrs. John Ballantine Pitney, are in New York. At the home of her mother, Mrs. John R. Williams, here, it was said today that the date of her return to Washington was uncertain.

WHIRLWIND COURTSHIP.

The marriage took place in London, November 7, 1913, after a whirlwind courtship, at a time when Mr. McCombs, who had served as campaign manager for President Wilson, was in high favor at the White House, and was said to have been offered the post of American Ambassador at Paris. He had already declined a place in Mr. Wilson's Cabinet. Mr. McCombs met Miss Williams in Washington at the inauguration of President Wilson, and followed her abroad soon after. They became engaged at Aix Les-Bains, and were married in London by the Rev. Father Vaughn, in the presence of a distinguished company, including the late Ambassador to Great Britain and Mrs. Page, the then Ambassador to France and Mrs. Myron T. Herrick, Mr. and Mrs. Irwin B. Laughlin, the Earl and Countess of Suffolk, the latter formerly Miss Daisy Leiter; the Earl and Countess of Craven, the Earl and Countess of Derby, Maj. Colin Campbell and Mrs. Campbell, the latter formerly Miss Nancy Leiter, and Mrs. Richard Townsend.

SOON ESTRANGED.

Within a year they were estranged and shortly afterwards Mrs. McCombs secured a divorce without protest from her husband. The application for annulment of the marriage is due to the fact that Mrs. McCombs is a devout Roman Catholic, and her church does not recognize divorce nor countenance the marriage of divorced persons.

Mr. McCombs is a Presbyterian, and the difference in religion, coupled with the rumor that Mr. McCombs refused to accept a diplomatic post, was believed at the time to have been among the causes leading to the separation.

KREISLER FORBIDDEN LOUISVILLE CONCERT.

LOUISVILLE (Ky.) Nov. 20.—Fritz Kreisler, violinist, and one-time Austrian army officer, officially advised of widespread hostility to his proposed appearance here tonight in recital, cancelled his engagement on advice of Mayor Smith and is speeding toward Lawrence, Mass., his next scheduled stop.

The attitude of Louisville citizens, as indicated in resolutions of criticism passed by several organizations, was communicated to C. J. Foley, Kreisler's manager, by the Mayor, who followed it with a written communication requesting Foley to indefinitely postpone the concert.

The Mayor's letter said he had considered the "unusual circumstances," and had concluded that a postponement would be "the part of wisdom," although admitting Kreisler's right to give a performance.

After a brief interval Foley wrote a reply acceding to the Mayor's wishes. Kreisler himself did not put in appearance.

SOLDIERS CONDEMN IT.

The first move against Kreisler's appearance was made several days ago, when Jefferson Post, American Legion, adopted resolutions condemning it.

A number of other organizations followed its lead and under their influence matter advertising the concert was removed from store windows and other public places. The Kreisler organization, however, announced that contractual obligations were such that only Kreisler or his authorized agent could cancel the engagement. Moreover, Kreisler's agent was reported as having said the Louisville recital was regarded in the nature of testing out sentiment and might be taken as an index to the attitude of cities on his itinerary.

The whole matter, however, was brought to a sharp issue when Foley sought a conference with Mayor Smith today. Meanwhile ticket cancellations had reduced Kreisler's prospective audience, according to a box-office statement, to about 200.

ELEVEN G.O.P. VOTES PLEDGED TO BAY CITY.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 20.—Assertions that eleven Republican national committeemen had been pledged to vote for San Francisco as the Republican convention city for 1920 were made today by the Republican leaders in charge of the fight for the convention. Chicago, they said, claims fifteen, and St. Louis nine of the fifty-three members of the National Committee. Gov. Shoup of Colorado sent a letter, received today by National Committeeman William H. Crocker, favoring the choice of San Francisco.

BRITISH TROOPS PUT DOWN EGYPTIAN RIOT.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
CAIRO, Sunday, Nov. 16.—Ten persons were killed and 120 injured, ninety of whom suffered gunshot wounds, in a riotous demonstration which continued here all day today.

Three police stations were set on fire by mobs, which liberated prisoners and paraded the streets carrying wounded rioters. British troops restored order.

The rioting was in five different localities. The object of the mobs in storming the police stations was to release demonstrators who had been arrested. They freed several such prisoners.

The number of minor casualties cannot be estimated. The Egyptian infantry fired into the crowds at two places where rioting was going on, killing two persons and wounding several others.

No Europeans were injured, although the rioters entered several European houses and accused the inmates of firing on the crowd.

Students carrying Egyptian flags and shouting, "Down with Milner," began the rioting. Roughs joined with them and got the upper hand of the native police. The infantry was compelled to fire on the mob storming the police stations, further infuriating the rioters.

The British troops finally restored order, driving off the demonstrators who were armed with rifles and sticks. Tonight the city is heavily patrolled.

START WORK ON FIRST GREAT AERO FREIGHTER

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—The first of four aerial freighters, capable of carrying from 3000 to 6000 pounds, is under construction for the air mail service at College Point, Long Island, it was announced tonight. The planes will go into commission early next year, probably on the New York, Chicago and Omaha route.

These ships, capable of making 110 miles an hour, are three-motored tractor biplanes. They have a wing spread of 106 feet, are designed to carry a crew of four—two pilots, a radio operator and a mechanic—and will weigh ten tons when loaded. Quarters for the crew will be in the nacelle, or tailless body.

The planes will carry 3000 pounds of mail on long flights, such as the one-stop trip to Omaha from New York, and will carry 6000 pounds on shorter flights, such as from New York to Buffalo. They are to have a cruising radius of sixteen hours at low speed. Landing speed is estimated at 55 miles an hour.

IMMIGRATION FORCE WANT NOBBIER GARB.

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—Ellis Island's 300 immigration inspectors decided today that their uniforms look "too much like those of street-car conductors" to impress arriving immigrants with the dignity of the first government official with whom they come into contact. They want snappier clothes and a "substantial" increase over present salaries of $1380 to $2100.

SERBIAN RECOVERY FROM WAR IS SLOW.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
PARIS, Nov. 20.—Conditions in Serbia are appalling and reconstruction work is proceeding with discouraging slowness, Dr. Hilenko R. Vesnitch of the Jugo-Slav delegation to the Peace Conference told the correspondent today.

The whole trouble lies in the crippled condition of the railroads of Serbia, Dr. Vesnitch declared. Serbia was overrun three times by her enemies, but the Bulgarian invasion, being conducted along lines of thorough devastation, resulted in not one railroad bridge being left intact in the kingdom.

"It now requires three days to make a railroad trip from Saloniki to Belgrade, while trains from Nish traveling in a northerly direction, average five miles an hour.

Dr. Vesnitch refused to talk concerning the Adriatic question, but the lesser members of the Jugo-Slav delegation were outspoken in saying that the Serbian people had reached the limits of their patience. The delegates, while dissatisfied with some clauses in the Bulgarian treaty, said they would sign it without reservations.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
PARIS, Nov. 20.—The note sent by the Supreme Council to Rumania last Saturday, according to a Berne dispatch to the Presse de Paris, says that in view of Rumania's unyielding on the decisions of the council, the latter is at a loss to know whether Rumania really desires to follow the Allied policy.

If it is her intention to follow this policy, the note says, the council requests that she sign the Austrian treaty immediately, otherwise Rumania will be considered as having withdrawn voluntarily from the alliance.

OFFENSIVE ON REDS GAINS AT MURMANSK.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
ARCHANGEL, Wednesday, Nov. 19.—The following summary has been issued by general headquarters dealing with the operations on the Murmansk coast during the past fortnight:

"Our troops have carried out an uninterrupted offensive, defeating the enemy and pursuing him along the eastern shore of Lake Onejsky and capturing various places on the Chaulsky peninsula. Attacks by an enemy flotilla on these positions were repulsed.

"In the Rigobelsky sector on the railroad front, our offensive is being obstinately resisted."

CHICAGO SPIRITS SPIRITED AWAY

Thousands of Headaches Get Into Circulation.

Fortune in Bottled Bourbon Reaches the Thirsty.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—Seventy-two quarts of bonded Kentucky bourbon whisky were spirited from the Sibley warehouse at Clark street and the river under the nose of prohibition guardians and in two days' time distributed to saloonkeepers for sale, according to charges which were made the subject yesterday of a sweeping investigation by the Internal Revenue Department.

The conspiracy to beat final enforcement of the dry laws, according to government officials, involves the receipt of about $100,000 in cash and the paying out of at least $6000 in bribes and "hush money."

No direct accusations have been made against police, State, or government officials concerning the liquor transaction. Revenue agents intimate, however, that scores of arrests will follow.

Isadore Grubiner, 3056 Logan boulevard, and former owner of the saloon at 500 Milwaukee avenue, has confessed ownership of some 1200 cases of bonded goods, of which 600 cases are known to have disappeared.

DEALERS COME IN DROVES.

"I have stored the liquor in the Sibley warehouse for more than a year," he admitted last night to a Tribune reporter, "holding it against the lifting of the war ban. When I learned that the prohibition enforcement law was about to go into effect and that the liquor was worth more than $50,000, I decided to get rid of it as soon as possible.

"When it became known that I had some good, hundred proof stock to dispose of dealers came in droves. It took less than two days to get rid of the stuff. I sold it in the Sibley warehouse. I didn't care who bought it and don't want to remember where it went. There are no checks in existence that would help my memory. Everybody who came to buy paid in cash.

"I don't know anything about the paying out of $6000 in bribes and I have told everything I know to the revenue department."

A search warrant was issued last night by United States Commissioner Mason empowering revenue men to search north side saloons for 200 cases of the whisky. Unofficial reports said several saloonkeepers have already confessed to paying bribes.

Warrants for the men implicated will be based on charges of violation of the wartime prohibition act and selling liquor without a wholesaler's or retailers license.

"The case is a rather involved one," said the revenue officer. "We have not concluded our investigation as yet."

TAKEN IN SMALL SHIPMENTS.

The whisky in small shipments, was taken from the warehouse by express drivers between October 10 and 14, it was learned. Some of the cases were taken to garages on the northwest side and there resold while others went in devious ways to saloons on Lincoln avenue, according to revenue men.

S. H. Verall, manager of the Sibley warehouse, admitted that a number of express drivers presented orders for the Grubiner liquor and that it was removed in a few days around October 10. He refused to talk on the subject, declaring that he had spent two days going over the facts with Col. Nutt and the case was now in the hands of Federal officers.

The total amount of liquor said to be owned by Grubiner is 12,054 cases, each case containing twelve quarts of seven-year-old bourbon. Revenue men believe that the entire amount was disposed of although only 600 cases are known to have gone out in warehouse sale.

Chief Garrity of the police department denied all knowledge of the sale.

"This is the first intimation I have had that police officers might have levied graft to protect such a sale," he declared. "I will be pleased to hear from the Federal authorities when they have completed their investigations or at any time and will give immediate attention to graft charges if they are brought."

FOR DISFRANCHISING EVADERS OF DRY LAW.

W.C.T.U. TO URGE LEGISLATION FOR EXTRATERRITORIAL DISTRICTS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 20.—Campaign to make the world dry was launched by the National Women's Christian Temperance Union today by adoption of the legislative programme which urged Congress to enact legislation disfranchising Americans, in countries were treaties grant extraterritorial rights, who act in violation of the dry law.

The proposed law is designed to apply especially to brewers contemplating moving to China, it was explained. It was voted to insert in the organization's total abstinence pledge the promise to do all in one's power to enforce the Eighteenth Amendment.

This afternoon $2100 was collected for memorials to Gen. Pershing and Secretary of the Navy Daniels.

DOES THIS HIT ANY LOS ANGELES PAPER?

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, Nov. 20.—In the House of Commons today Edward Shortt, Home Secretary, referred to the immense amount of anti-British propaganda with reference to Egypt purporting to emanate from the American press and circulated here in the form of pamphlets. He declared it was most difficult to take action looking toward the suppression of these publications.

He explained that seditious utterances and allegations of atrocities by British soldiers were first distributed to newspapers in the United States by the propaganda bureaus there; they were clipped from these papers and republished in Great Britain as opinions expressed by the American newspapers. The government, he said, was considering action against the authors.

GIVE MEXICO A STERN WARNING

Broken Relations Hinted at in Washington Note.

Order Immediate Release of Consular Agent.

America "Incensed" at Re-arrest of Jenkins.

REARREST ARBITRARY.

"The note expressed the view, based on the information in the possession of the Department of State, that his rearrest is absolutely arbitrary and unwarranted and warns the Mexican government that further molestation of the consular agent will seriously affect the relations between the United States and Mexico, for which the government of Mexico must assume sole responsibility."

Mexican rebels in kidnaping Jenkins intended to commit a direct affront to the American government, Jenkins declared in a letter received here today by Representative Davis of Tennessee.

Jenkins's letter contained the first complete story of his kidnaping to be made public in the United States.

JENKINS'S LETTER.

"I want to especially call your attention," it said, "that I was kidnaped from the United States consular office, that even a part of the money taken was United States consular funds, that I was not kidnaped as a private person, but as the United States representative, as this was clearly stated by the rebels, and if I had not been serving the government, it is not at all probable that I would have been carried off, for they could as well have carried off a dozen richer men than I."

Mr. Jenkins's letter was dated November 4, before his first arrest by authorities of Puebla on charges of collusion in connection with his abduction and subsequent ransom for $150,000. He was rearrested Tuesday on the charge of threatening peons who gave evidence on which his first arrest was made. When first arrested he was released and restricted to his home, but so far as the State Department has been advised he is now in custody at Puebla.

PLANNED TO GO HOME.

Mr. Jenkins wrote Representative Davis that he planned to return to his former home in Tennessee soon, and that if necessary he would come to Washington to push his claim "for assistance in the payment of the ransom."

"I feel," he wrote, "that as my kidnaping was due directly to my official connection with the government, that as I was at the place of duty assigned to me by the United States government, that I was at the time of being carried off, complying with the instructions of the government and was not in any place outside, I repeat that I feel it is only fair that I be assisted in this great blow and I want to get this matter presented fairly to the authorities in Washington."

Jenkins said the payment of the $150,000 ransom finally was accepted on an installment plan by the bandit leader.

CLAIMS PERSECUTION.

"The Mexican government," Jenkins wrote, "did nothing at all to effect my release." He added that instead of receiving assistance or sympathy from the Puebla State authorities, they caused him "every possible inconvenience."

The consular agent said the State authorities were seeking to "fix a certain responsibility in this matter on me," adding that he expected to be arrested at any time.

Jenkins said he was overpowered in his own yard by five armed rebels, and told he would be killed if he resisted.

HANDS TIED.

"I was searched for any weapons," he said, "and had my hands tied together and then was forced to go to the office where the two safes were completely emptied of all money amounting to a few hundred pesos more than $9,000.

"When the safes had been rifled, two of the men were sent forward with the money and the other three advised me that I would have to accompany them. I made every possible plea to dissuade them from their purpose, but I was informed that it was their principal object to demonstrate that the present government of Mexico was not able to give guarantees, not even in the second city of the country."

Jenkins said he was given permission to see his wife, who added her pleas to his own, in vain.

CARRIED TO MOUNTAINS.

"I was carried off to the mountains that night," he continues, "traveling all night on horse back and was kept in the mountains for one week, moving from one place to another and sleeping in the open hills and in the brush. Unfortunately it began to rain on Tuesday and for three successive nights it rained all night and I was wet to the skin. On Thursday night I began to suffer rheumatism and by Saturday I was in a deplorable state, having my right leg swollen horribly and unable to eat or sleep. As a matter of fact I was in such a shape that I think I would have died in a few more days.

"My friends were very active during this week, but it took several days to get in contact with the rebels, who absolutely refused to give me up except through the payment of the entire sum of 300,000 pesos, but it was pointed out to them that my physical condition was such that I would only live a few days and once dead I would not be ransomed at all; that the extraordinarily large sum he demanded was difficult to get in a day and on account of its bulk and weight it was difficult to transport and that the State government would surely prevent it being sent to him. In view of these considerations, it was finally agreed that a certain amount in cash be paid and the balance paid as demanded.

INSTALMENT PLAN.

"This agreement was approved by Mr. Hanna, the secretary of the Embassy at Mexico City, who rendered the most valuable assistance at all times. On Sunday the sum of $4,000 pesos was paid in cash and five of my intimate friends here responded with their lives for the payment of the balance and I myself promised to complete the payment as demanded. My friends were forced to sign a document to that effect and upon the delivery of this document and the cash payment, I was released on Sunday afternoon, October 26.

GOVERNMENT BLAMED.

"The State government and the Federal government as well did nothing at all to effect my release, in fact, they only served to disturb the work of my friends. They wanted to send troops immediately to pursue the rebels, but these had explicitly told my wife that if they were pursued or attacked, they would immediately kill me. The city police arrested all my servants and employees, people who had nothing in the world to do with the case and had to release them afterwards, but they had to do something to make it appear they were active.

CORDOVA MAY SURRENDER.

[ST. A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

LAREDO (TEX.) Nov. 20.—Advices received here today from Puebla, Mex., state that the bandit, Federico Cordova, has offered to make "startling disclosures" in connection with the kidnaping of American Consul Jenkins, and arrangements now are being made for Cordova's surrender.

It was declared the military authorities refused to discuss the matter, but from other sources it was learned, according to the advices, that negotiations for Cordova's surrender had a promise of amnesty as a basis.

ARMY GOODS NOT TO GLUT HOLIDAY MAIL.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—The army does not propose to crowd Santa Claus out of the mails during the Christmas season, and, as a consequence, the Quartermaster-General has issued instructions to superintendents of the twenty-five army quartermaster retail stores to decline to accept after December 10 any order for goods which calls for delivery of goods by parcel post.

"The Quartermaster-General of the army has taken this action," says an official statement, "to relieve the mails, usually congested during the Christmas season, of the additional burden entailed by the transportation of the stocks sold by the army stores on mail orders."

The retail stores will continue to accept bulk orders placed by municipalities.

FIRST AMERICAN SHIP TO FIRE ON U-BOAT RESUMES COMMERCIAL ACTIVITY.

[ST. A. P. DAY WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—Sailing of the American passenger steamship Mongolia of 12,630 gross tons from New York to Hamburg via Southampton, December 15 has been announced by the Atlantic Transport Line. The Mongolia, under command of Capt. Emory Rice, is credited with having fired the first shot after America entered the war against Germany when, on April 15, 1917, she resisted an attack by a German submarine.

Whether any of the 300 passengers will be booked direct to the German port depends upon what action may be taken by this government regarding trade relations with Germany, line officials said. It is certain, however, it was added, the Mongolia will carry cargo both on the outward and return voyages.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 20.—Expansion of the passenger and freight service of the Pacific Steamship Company to include Mexican west coast ports was announced here yesterday. The steamer Senator is to make the first trip, leaving December 15 for Manzanillo, Manzanillo, Acapulco, Salina Cruz, Acajutla and Corinto, to be followed three weeks later by the steamship Curacao.

HAMBURG, Nov. 19.—The Hamburg-American Line is forced to issue a new block of preferred stock to counteract the imminent ascendancy of foreign influence among shareholders, in view of the ability of neutrals to acquire stock at advantageous terms, owing to depreciation in the value of the mark, it was learned today.

CHICAGO SPIRITS SPIRITED AWAY

Thousands of Headaches Get Into Circulation.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—Seventy-two quarts of bonded Kentucky bourbon whisky were spirited from the Sibley warehouse at Clark street and the river under the nose of prohibition guardians and in two days' time distributed to saloonkeepers for sale, according to charges which were made the subject yesterday of a sweeping investigation by the Internal Revenue Department.

The conspiracy to beat final enforcement of the dry laws, according to government officials, involves the receipt of about $100,000 in cash and the paying out of at least $6000 in bribes and "hush money."

No direct accusations have been made against police, State, or government officials concerning the liquor transaction. Revenue agents intimate, however, that scores of arrests will follow.

Isadore Grubiner, 3056 Logan boulevard, and former owner of the saloon at 500 Milwaukee avenue, has confessed ownership of some 1200 cases of bonded goods, of which 600 cases are known to have disappeared.

DEALERS COME IN DROVES.

"I have stored the liquor in the Sibley warehouse for more than a year," he admitted last night to a Tribune reporter, "holding it against the lifting of the war ban. When I learned that the prohibition enforcement law was about to go into effect and that the liquor was worth more than $50,000, I decided to get rid of it as soon as possible.

"When it became known that I had some good, hundred proof stock to dispose of dealers came in droves. It took less than two days to get rid of the stuff. I sold it in the Sibley warehouse. I didn't care who bought it and don't want to remember where it went. There are no checks in existence that would help my memory. Everybody who came to buy paid in cash.

"I don't know anything about the paying out of $6000 in bribes and I have told everything I know to the revenue department."

A search warrant was issued last night by United States Commissioner Mason empowering revenue men to search north side saloons for 200 cases of the whisky. Unofficial reports said several saloonkeepers have already confessed to paying bribes.

Warrants for the men implicated will be based on charges of violation of the wartime prohibition act and selling liquor without a wholesaler's or retailers license.

"The case is a rather involved one," said the revenue officer. "We have not concluded our investigation as yet."

TAKEN IN SMALL SHIPMENTS.

The whisky in small shipments, was taken from the warehouse by express drivers between October 10 and 13, it was learned. Some of the cases were taken to garages on the northwest side and there resold while others went in devious ways to saloons on Lincoln avenue, according to reveue men.

S. H. Verall, manager of the Sibley warehouse, admitted that a number of express drivers presented orders for the Grubiner liquor and that it was removed in a few days around October 10. He refused to talk on the subject, declaring that he had spent two days going over the facts with Col. Nutt and the case was now in the hands of Federal officers.

The total amount of liquor said to be owned by Grubiner is 12,034 cases, each case containing twelve quarts of seven-year-old bourbon. Revenue men believe that the entire amount was disposed of although only 600 cases are known to have gone out in warehouse sale.

Chief Garrity of the police department denied all knowledge of the sale.

"This is the first intimation I have had that police officers might have levied graft to protect such a sale," he declared. "I will be pleased to hear from the Federal authorities when they have completed their investigations or at any time and will give immediate attention to graft charges if they are brought."

FOR DISFRANCHISING EVADERS OF DRY LAW.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 10.—Campaign to make the world dry was launched by the National Women's Christian Temperance Union today by adoption of the legislative programme which urged Congress to enact legislation disfranchising Americans, in countries were treaties grant extraterritorial rights, who act in violation of the dry law.

The proposed law is designed to apply especially to brewers contemplating moving to China, it was explained. It was voted to insert in the organization's total abstinence pledge the promise to do all in one's power to enforce the Eighteenth Amendment.

This afternoon $2100 was collected for memorials to Gen. Pershing and Secretary of the Navy Daniels.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, Nov. 20.—In the House of Commons today Edward Shortt, Home Secretary, referred to the immense amount of anti-British propaganda with reference to Egypt purporting to emanate from the American press and circulated here in the form of pamphlets. He declared it was most difficult to take action looking toward the suppression of these publications.

He explained that seditious utterances and allegations of atrocities by British soldiers were first distributed to newspapers in the United States by the propaganda bureaus there; they were clipped from these papers and republished in Great Britain as opinions expressed by the American newspapers. The government, he said, was considering action against the authors.

KERN FIRST COUNTY IN MINERAL RETURN.

ORANGE IN SECOND, FRESNO THIRD AND LOS ANGELES FOURTH IN OUTPUT.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 20.—California's mineral production for the year 1918 broke all previous records, total worth of crude materials amounting to $199,753,837, according to the annual report of Fletcher Hamilton, State Mineralogist, made today to Gov. Stephens.

The report shows that output consisted of fifty-four different mineral substances. The notable features of 1918, says the report, are the enormous increases of petroleum valuation and the decrease of over $3,000,000 in the gold yield.

The result is a net increase in the grand total value of $38,553,875 over 1917 production of metals. Gold decreased $3,558,343; copper decreased $1,444,000 in value and 740,000 pounds in quantity.

BIG OIL INCREASE.

Petroleum increased over 4,000,000 barrels in quantity and $40,483,013 in total value. Manganese increased in tonnage and value, and quicksilver slightly in value, while silver, lead, zinc and tungsten showed decreases.

Decided changes are shown by some of the structural and industrial materials, among other cement and chromite increasing, with magnesite and other stone showing decreases.

Of these, chromite leads, with a gain over $2,500,000. Of the salines, potash increased over $2,500,000 in value, and borax decreased over $500,000.

This mineral production for Los Angeles county totaled $16,605,628, it being the fourth county in the State in mineral output for 1918. Kern county was first, with an output valued at $62,419,695. Orange second, with a value of $22,914,660. Fresno third, with a value of $19,878,625.

DUNCAN DANCERS' ART ELOQUENT.

ADEPT AT EXPRESSION OF EMOTION WITH ARMS AND HANDS.

By Frederick B. Moore.

Under some difficulties, the Isadora Duncan Dancers, in a joint recital with George Copeland, pianist, pleased a capacity audience at Trinity Auditorium last evening. Their remarkable demonstration of the eloquence and power of the hands and arms in rhythmic movement and of the beauty of classic lines met with a warm and sincere reception. Yet it must be admitted that some shortcomings of dancing, as they interpret that art, were emphasized by the light and the general surroundings in which they appeared.

The use the six young women—the six originally trained by Isadora Duncan—make of their hands, arms and torsos is often effective to a high degree, the rhythm of their movements is captivating, and a certain restraint in moments of passion is more than admirable. There is, too, an undeniable freshness and charm about their young bodies, clean-limbed and strong, in movements perfectly co-ordinated—the very antithesis of the banal classic dance so often exemplified by mawkish young women with bare legs and misguided enthusiasm.

Not the least important part of the dancers' performance was the splendid rhythmic quality of the music played by George Copeland, the pianist, who won the appreciation of the audience, both by his accompaniments and his solo numbers. Mr. Copeland is essentially the pianist of brilliance, and while there is a certain unnecessary heaviness to some of his lighter selections, he made a distinct impression with his rendering of his own arrangements of the orchestral pieces like Chabrier's "Espana" and Debussy's "Afternoon of a Faun." His entire Debussy group, with possibly one exception, was given effectively. However, he is at his best in the dance numbers.

Perhaps the most compelling thing about the dancers—and they do not fail to compel attention and interest — is a certain intellectual quality, or perhaps a sensual quality—a power to convey an emotion so vividly that movement, line and music seem for the moment negligible. Perhaps it is their own luminous understanding that translates itself in face, hands and arms, a true understanding that of itself carries conviction.

But there is a grave question whether much of their work is dancing at all, or only admirably clear pantomime. An emotion conveyed by a gesture of the hand, for example, is not a dance, nor is a series of such gestures necessarily a dance, even when made rhythmic. The motions of a snare-drummer's hands when he plays his instrument, for example, are rhythmic, but not a dance. An orchestral conductor waving his baton is not dancing. A young woman, beating time to captivating music with a graceful hand that tosses an imaginary object into the air and catches it again may be dancing, but when every other limb but one hand and arm is still, and the beauty of her performance lies in the clarity of the impression she conveys—in the fact that the audience can fairly see the object she is tossing, that is good pantomime.

This skill in the use of the upper limbs is carried through the Duncan dancers' work to the exclusion, to some degree, of skill of the feet and legs. Why should not the lower limbs be made as skillful as the upper? One was tempted to wonder last night, when these highly-trained young women were running about the stage, their arms in beautiful motion and their legs mere means of transportation. The number of actual steps, beyond plain running, that were seen in the performance last evening might be counted on the fingers of two hands.

More serious, however, in last night's performance, was the fact that the girls practically danced right among the spectators, and under lights that dealt a bit harshly with certain sins of which the human body is guilty, even at its best. Soiled feet are not beautiful, nor the callouses over elbow joints, nor the bony structure of people's knees.

But, aside from all questions of technique or taste, the Duncan Dancers are effective and sincere, and their work stands the acid test of clarity and conviction.

MRS. PICKFORD SUED FOR AUTO ACCIDENT.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—While attending a trial for a suit for more than $100,000, brought by Mrs. Cora C. Wilkening against Mary Pickford, before Supreme Court Justice Platzek, Miss Pickford's mother, Mrs. Charlotte Pickford, yesterday was served with a summons in an action against her for $50,000 damages for the death of Miss Ellen Reynolds last night. Miss Reynolds died as a result of injuries received when she was struck by Mrs. Pickford's automobile at Sixty-seventh street and Amsterdam avenue. The suit was brought by Miss Reynolds's sister, Miss Elizabeth Duchelle, administratrix of her estate.

TIE UP DESTROYERS.

Shortage of Men Places Twenty-nine in Reserve at San Diego.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 20.—It was officially announced tonight that twenty-nine torpedo-boat destroyers that belong to the Pacific Fleet will be placed at once in first reserve and tied up at a berth at the Santa Fe wharf here. Some of the destroyers affected by the order have not yet arrived here from the Atlantic Coast, but upon their arrival will be placed in reserve. This is on account of the shortage of men in the service.

Fight Dope Traffic in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—The Federal grand jury today began investigation of illicit sales of narcotics. At the same time a Russian and two druggists were held to the grand jury in connection with the traffic. Report of charges against William H. Sage, former head of the narcotics division of the revenue bureau, who resigned, was sent to the District Attorney by L. G. Nutt of the bureau, against whom Sage had made charges.

PLAYED FOR CARUSO.

Lerdo Tells of Famed Tenor's Success in Mexico.

Interesting comparisons between musical support in this country and South America were made yesterday, when Maestro Lerdo de Tejada, leader of his orchestra at Talley's Kinema this week, stated that during Caruso's recent visit to Mexico he took in over $76,000 in one performance.

This almost unbelievable statement is verified by every member of Lerdo's orchestra and by several programme copies of the event. In order to play to a large audience, Caruso, sang in the famous bullring in Mexico City, an auditorium seating almost 24,000 people. There the price of seats ranged from $2 to $55, and Lerdo states that many were turned away.

The composer, some seasons ago, was the first to accompany Caruso into Mexico, and played the piano for one of his concerts. Lerdo states that never in his life was he so frightened as when he looked out upon a seething mass of nearly 12,000 people. His hands trembled and the first chords from the piano were a nightmare.

"Caruso turned around," says Lerdo, "and smiled at me. He left the front of the stage and came over to the piano, acting as if he meant to give me some instructions, but in reality he gave me much comfort and patted me on the back.

"The reason why Titta Ruffo does not sing oftener in this country is that he does not have to appear so often in South America to make money," states Lerdo.

"Ruffo would sing in New York perhaps four times a month to get $10,000, while in Buenos Aires he took in over $20,000 in one concert. He thus saves his voice and strength."

Caruso's last visit to Buenos Aires was the occasion for great rejoicing among Lerdo's admirers, for the famous tenor sang two of Lerdo's compositions.

PHILHARMONIC MATINEE.

The third symphonic programme by the Philharmonic Orchestra is scheduled for this afternoon at Trinity Auditorium. Conductor Rothwell has arranged a selection including the Schubert "Unfinished" Symphony, the brilliant "Coronation march, by Elgar, written for the coronation of Edward VII, and the Prelude and Isolde's Love Death from the famous Wagner opera, "Tristan and Isolde." Rudolph Ganz, the well-known pianist, is to be soloist, playing the Tschaikowsky, B Flat Minor Concerto. This will be Mr. Ganz's only appearance in Southern California this season.

WILL TAKE SUNDAY SCHOOLS FROM RUT.

TWO HUNDRED SUPERINTENDENTS AT METHODIST CONFERENCE DINNER.

Two hundred superintendents of Methodist Episcopal churches of the Southern California Conference attended a banquet at 741 South Broadway last night in the interests of the forward movement. Among the speakers were Bishop Adna W. Leonard, Dr. M. J. Cremery of the Sunday-school board, Chicago, and Dr. Jesse L. Corley, newly-appointed conference superintendent of Sunday-schools for Southern California. Previously a meeting was held in Trinity Auditorium at which the address was made by Dr. John G. Hill, head of the department of religious education at the University of Southern California.

Organization was perfected with Dr. H. W. Brodbeck, superintendent of the First Methodist Church Sunday-school, Los Angeles, president; Roy Kellogg of Pasadena, secretary-treasurer, and the following vice-presidents from the five districts: San Diego, Dr. L. F. Smith; Fresno, G. A. Rohrer; Long Beach, L. W. Ballard; Pasadena, A. N. Dike; Los Angeles, Dr. Charles A. Warner.

The movement is designed to get the Sunday-school work "out of the rut and place it on a modern educational and inspirational basis." Dr. Charles H. Scott, secretary of the Huntington Beach Tent City, spoke on the future of the recreational interests of the church.

ALL OF ONE RACE.

Americans of Italian Extraction to Organize Tribe of Redmen.

Tonight at Blanchard Hall, a tribe of Redmen, composed entirely of American citizens who are of Italian extraction, will be instituted by Benjamin F. Lewis of Fresno, Grand Sachem for California. Martin Haines, president of the Redmen's Association, stated yesterday that this will be the first tribe of its kind in the United States.

The Italian lodge, which will be known as Aliati Tribe, will be instituted with 100 members, who, Mr. Haines states, are the most representative business and professional men among the naturalized Italians of the city. Their Sachem will be F. M. Andreani. The three degrees of the lodge will be exemplified by Sequoia Tribe of San Pedro, Oneonta Tribe of Pasadena and Mojave Tribe of this city, appearing in full Indian regalia.

Last night 200 members of Sequoia Tribe gave a reception for Grand Sachem Lewis at San Pedro.

LOEW EXPANDING HIS INTERESTS.

ARRANGES FOR BUILDING OF THEATER IN CINCINNATI.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CINCINNATI (O.) Nov. 20.—The project of a new and especially palatial motion picture and vaudeville theater for this city was decided upon here last night when Marcus Loew, motion picture and theatrical magnate, and close associates, met here for a conference.

Loew, with Nathan Jones and Nathan Asher of Chicago, and Manager Shiller of the southern interests of Loew, stopped here en route from Chicago to the East yesterday and immediately went into conference with the Cincinnati amusement magnates. It was stated just before the meeting that all details would be completed and that the visiting party of the theatrical men would leave for New York tonight.

Announcement finally was made that the Loew and the big Wurlitzer interests would combine to give the city another theater.

The new Palace Theater here will be opened within a few days. Keith's has erected a ten-story house on Walnut street; a new burlesque theater, for first-class attractions, is soon to go up on a site immediately across Seventh street from the Olympic, and at Seventh and Vine streets the present structures at the northeast corner are being razed to make way for a motion-picture theater, which, when it was planned, was heralded as the largest and costliest theater in the Central States. In this connection Loew said:

"I hope to have a theater in Cincinnati before very long, and when I do it will be a structure worthy of the fact that Cincinnati gave me my start to fortune in the American amusement business."

Mr. Loew incidentally stated that he had just concluded negotiations for the purchase of twenty-four theaters in western and middle western States.

LAW SCHOOL BANQUET.

Student to Get Belgian War Medal at U.S.C. Gathering.

The annual banquet of the college of law of the University of Southern California will be held at the Maryland Hotel, Pasadena, tomorrow night, at 7 o'clock. During the evening Lloyd Nix will receive his third Belgian decoration. The decoration will be presented by Charles Winsel, the Belgian Consul.

Speakers for the evening will be former Judge Robert M. Clarke and Attorney Earl Rogers. Voltaire Perkins, president of the student body, will preside. The banquet will be followed by dancing in the palm room.

Lynch Man Taken from Posse.

FORT SMITH (Ark.) Nov. 20.—According to a long-distance telephone message received here tonight from Mountain Home, Ark., twenty-five citizens met a posse en route to Cotter with T. T. Lee, captured late today following several days' hunt through the mountains of Arkansas and Southern Missouri, and hanged him to a tree.

OFFICERS' SOCIETY MEETS OPPOSITION.

CROP OF HEATED DEBATE AT AMERICAN LEGION MEETING HERE.

A peaceful meeting of Los Angeles Post, American Legion, held at the Hollenbeck Men's Club last night, became a seething pot of trouble when a question concerning officers of C. H. Merrill, a member of the Executive Committee, opened the discussion with a few remarks on the proposed organization of a local chapter of "The American Legion of the Great War."

The officers' society is to be organized to "establish a nation-wide federation of highly intelligent men," to "perpetuate the friendships between the men who served in the army and to bring the ex-officer into closer social contact with the men who are destined to be the leaders in every phase of our national life."

Mr. Merrill, who was an enlisted man in the army, said that "when we form an officers' society they are drawing a line of demarkation, socially, politically, militarily, vocationally and spiritually, between the men who have donned civilian clothes. Such an organization violates the democratic principles of the American Legion and these men should be dropped from the Legion."

Following a heated debate the matter was referred to the Executive Committee for action. Lieut. [illegible]

METHODISTS DISCUSS SUNDAY-SCHOOL PLAN.

EXTENSION PROGRAMME IS PLACED BEFORE SUPERINTENDENTS AT MEETINGS.

Plans for extending the work of the Methodist Sunday-school of the Southern California conference were discussed at a meeting of the Sunday-school superintendents yesterday, held in this city. Bishop Leonard presided at the sessions held.

The first meeting was at Trinity auditorium yesterday afternoon, where Dr. John G. Hill, of the department of religious education made an address. After Dr. Hill's address the 400 persons present held a discussion of the Sunday-school programme.

At night the superintendents attended a dinner at Christopher's, where Bishop Leonard spoke on "The Relation of the Sunday-school to the Area Programme." Dr. M. J. Trenery, of Chicago, also spoke on the "Modern Sunday-school Programme."

The Rev. Dr. Jesse L. Corley, newly-appointed superintendent of Sunday-schools of Southern California conference, told of the work that has been done by the Sunday-schools and what this conference hopes to do in connection with the Church Centenary Movement, which was for its principal object the making of 100 per cent. Americans of all church members.

MRS. MAHANA, BRIDE, HERE AFTER DIVORCE.

George T. Mahana, prominent local insurance broker, and his bride of five days are in Los Angeles at the Alexandria. Mr. and Mrs. Mahana were married in Las Vegas, Nev., on Monday, immediately after Mrs. Mahana, then Mrs. Helen Glass Green, was divorced from Thomas H Green, business man of this city. Mr. Mahana was asked if he intended to make his home here and what his future plans are. He declined to answer any questions.

The Mahana-Green case came to a conclusion at Las Vegas last Monday, when Mr. Green was granted a divorce on the ground of mental cruelty. Mrs. Green at the same time was denied a divorce. It was alleged by Mr. Green that Mr. Mahana broke up his home and that he found his wife in company with Mr. Mahana. On the stand Mr. Mahana denied breaking up the home but admitted that he had kissed Mrs. Green on several occasions and had taken her to Vernon and other places. The Green children are to spend their time alternately between the father and mother.

None of the suits involving the Green and Mahana families will come to trial in the local courts. In Judge Jackson's court yesterday the divorce suit of Mr. against Mrs. Green was dismissed. The lost love suit of Mr. Green against Mr. Mahana has been compromised and the suit of Mr. Green against the California Fireproof and Storage Company to recover furniture Mrs. Green had stored with the company when she went to Nevada to live, has been dismissed.

STUDENTS ON GUARD.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CLAREMONT, Nov. 20. —All through the weary watches of the night tonight soldier students from Pomona College will tramp the weary length of a military guard line, halt intruders and protect a pile of brush and timber which has been gathered for a bonfire tomorrow night.

Held in place by wires fastened to three telephone poles, the pile of faggots reaches forty feet into the air, and will be lighted as the feature of a school rally scheduled for Friday night to inject "pep" into the football team and rooters before the game with Occidental Saturday which is to decide the conference championship.

The guard line and other precautionary measures have been employed because of "grapevine" information coming to Claremont last night that a crowd of Occidental students had organized to invade Pomona campus and ignite the fire twenty-four hours ahead of the scheduled celebration.

PRAISE LEGION STAND.

Royal Arcanum Members Indorse Fight Against Radicals.

The activity of the American Legion in its fight on Bolshevism in this country was strongly indorsed at a patriotic meeting of Los Angeles Council of the Royal Arcanum, at No. 327½ South Hill street.

Capt. H. C. Huntington, Frank Bell and Arthur W. Kennedy spoke on good citizenship, strongly denouncing the wobblies for their recent activities. The meeting closed with a hearty indorsement of the American Legion and its work. The Royal Arcanum expects to stand behind the Legion in its efforts to maintain law and order in this country, the members assert.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA ANA, Nov. 20.—Alleging that the Southern California Edison Company was negligent in the maintenance of a high voltage line at Smeltzer, Mrs. Cener A. Stockton has a suit on file here today through which she seeks to collect $50,000 damages from the Edison company for the death of her husband, J. T. Stockton, on the night of September 14. Stockton was killed while pulling a telephone wire from a neighbor's home to keep it from catching fire, after the high voltage wire had fallen upon the telephone wires.

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY	16

SPECIAL NOTICE TO "TIMES" Classified Advertisers.

8 p.m. is the closing hour for the receipt of classified advertisements for both Daily and Sunday Times.

Classified Liners.

CLASSIFIED RATES.

Minimum space, 3 lines, or 12 words. No ads taken for less than 25 cents daily or 50 cents Sunday.

Ten cents a line each insertion daily. Fifteen cents a line each insertion Sunday.

EXCEPTIONS—5 cents a line daily and 20 cents a line Sunday applies to advertisements under the headings of "Society Meetings," "Personal," "Lost," "Stolen," "Checks and Bonds," "Street Improvement Bonds," "Money to Loan, Salaries, Chattels and Automobiles," "Money to Loan, Diamonds and Jewelry," "Medical," "Sanatoriums" and "Baths and Massage."

Minimum charge applies to each single and consecutive insertion. Count five average words for the first line, and seven average words for the second line in advertisements not indented. Head up or capitalized.

The Times will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion of any advertisement received for more than one time. The inadvertent omission of advertising will be rectified only by the cancellation of the charge made for the space ordered. Adjustment for errors will be made in accordance with published rule and only for the first insertion. No allowance will be made for advertising items not affected by an error or errors which may occur in other items in the same advertisement. The Times will not be responsible for errors of any kind in telephoned advertisements. The right is reserved to classify all copy, to revise or reject headings, and to reject objectionable advertising.

"WANT ADC SUPERMACY."

The Times regularly prints practically all of the "Want Ads" published in the other Los Angeles newspapers in addition to thousands of exclusive ads not printed in any other newspaper.

In all classifications—Help Wanted situations Wanted, To Let, Automobiles, Real Estate, Business Chances—TIMES LEADERSHIP IS UNQUESTIONED.

By using THE TIMES ALONE, classified advertisers reach Los Angeles and Southern California at one cost.

OPPORTUNITY KNOCKS!

Want honest, dependable routine to manage branch sales agencies in this city and elsewhere in California, for a patented, low-priced device that is selling like "hot cakes" in the East and Middle West. The manufacturers have only lately been able (by greatly enlarging their facilities) to supply the West Coast district. This article has the promise of highest independents by well-known authorities, and is backed by an enormous sales record already in its favor as a time and labor-saver. Will tie up exclusive territory and enable real workers who have some capital (from a few hundred dollars up, according to size of district wanted) to get in on this highly-profitable proposition. Replies should state your past business experience, amount available and location preferred. Address BLACKBOURNE & CO., Postoffice box 58, Station C, Los Angeles.

FOR SALE—$12,500; NO MORE; NO LESS. On HOLLYWOOD'S MOST BEAUTIFUL RESIDENCE STREET. Nothing like it at any price in this part of the country. Impossible to be duplicated. Everything desirable in this proposition, which is Indian mission design, comprising 10 charming rooms and 3 baths—two large living-rooms, dining-room, breakfast-room, kitchen, pantry, three bedrooms and bath; also separate maid's room and bath, on first floor; unusual patio in center of house, with fountain. On second floor is beautiful bedroom, sewing, entire front with bath and dressing-room. This will be ready for occupancy December 1. This residence was built by an eastern man for his own home, because of his health he has been ordered to live in a warmer climate, hence the sacrifice to complete this charming home, which may be seen by appointment only with the exclusive agent.

MAY ASK VIVIANI TO PRESIDE IN CHAMBER.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PARIS, Nov. 20.—Rene Vivani, former Premier, is to be asked to stand for the presidency of the new Chamber of Deputies against Paul Deschanel, who, it is claimed by the right and center, showed a too lenient attitude toward extremists and other disturbers during the sitting of the last chamber.

The elections of former Premier Painleve, Ferdinand Buisson, M. Levrassuer, Paul Abriot and M. Rosier have been questioned by the recount board. The Chamber will decide whether they are entitled to seats.

Paul Bouncour, former Minister of Labor, is slated as leader of the extremist party.

SAYS AMERICA SHOULD ABATE VIENNA FAMINE

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, Nov. 20. — Premier Lloyd George, replying to questions in the House of Commons today, said he saw no hope of amelioration in the economic situation of Vienna without the help of the United States.

British aid to the Viennese government amounted to 3,500,000 pounds sterling, but the Premier announced that Great Britain did not intend to continue to bear the greater part of the burden of the famine in that country.

STATE USING TONS OF OLEOMARGARINE

DAVIS, Nov. 20.—In spite of the increase in population, the cities of San Francisco, San Jose and Sacramento are using the same amount of fluid milk as was sold ten years ago, said S. H. Greene of San Francisco in addressing the Creamery Operators' convention today.

Greene surprised his hearers again by declaring that a few years ago oleomargarine was used only in mining camps, and now there are 20,000,000 pounds sold annually in California. He declared the only way to meet this condition is to reunite the production of butter fat is reduce prices, which cannot be done increased.

Move Wall Street Robbery Arrests.

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—Two more arrests were made tonight in the campaign to clear up thefts in the financial district of bonds and stock certificates estimated at $1,000,000. Totol arrests now number seven.

Samuel Marder is held in two counts for grand larceny and Herman Horowitz is charged with having acted in the larceny of a stock certificate for 100 shares of American Hide and Leather Company stock. This charge also is lodged against Marder and also he is accused of the thefts of securities valued at $35,000.

An indictment was asked by the District Attorney today against David W. Sullivan, arrested Tuesday.

Students Held for Hazing Strike.

LANCASTER (Pa.) Nov. 20.—Seventeen members of the sophomore class of Franklin and Marshall College, charged with hazing Charles Dutonhoffer, a freshman, a week ago, were held for court tonight under $200 bail each. Late this afternoon the entire student body voted unanimously to strike tomorrow. Dr. H. H. Apple, president of the college, said the board of directors would stand by its decision suspending the students.

Urge Immediate "Red" Deportation.

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—Immediate deportation of foreign-born agitators was urged in resolutions adopted today at a meeting of the New York Society of the Founders and Patriots of America. Expulsion from office of immigration and other public officials who show sympathy for radicals in their charge also was advocated.

Canadian Premier to New York.

Be sure to get real Resinol

If you want to get rid of eczema, pimples, or other distressing skin eruption, you will accept no "substitute" for Resinol. Preparations similar in name or appearance are not "just the same as Resinol." Although a few unscrupulous dealers may offer them as or for Resinol, they are often crudely made, of little healing power, and some may even be dangerous to use. Buy in the original blue package.

IS 68 BUT CAN WORK HARD, NOW

Was Going Down Hill Fast When He Began Taking Tanlac.

Adds Ten Pounds to His Weight—Is Still Gaining.

Eats Anything, Sleeps Sound and Feels Fine All the Time.

"I am sixty-eight years old, but Tanlac has built me up so I can turn out as much work as any man in the shop," was the remarkable statement of Mr. John P. Jakobi, an upholsterer employed by the Hawthorne Furniture Co., Los Angeles. Mr. Jakobi, who lives at 2230 West 30th Street, talked most interestingly of his restoration to health and strength. "I believe," he further stated, "that any medicine that will cause a man of my age to gain ten pounds in weight and feel good all the time, while he works hard every day, is deserving of the highest praise. Tanlac has done even more than that for me.

"Ten or twelve years ago I began to have trouble with my stomach. What I ate did not digest and I was bloated with gas all the time. It was especially bad and painful at night and affected me so bad I could hardly sleep. I took many kinds of medicines, but none of them gave me relief. I got worse all the time in spite of everything I could do. I lost twenty-eight pounds and got so weak it was a big effort for me to keep going at all. When I would get home at night I would be so fagged out I could hardly walk. I lost my appetite completely and my hands shook as from nervousness. I could not write a letter. I knew if I kept going down hill it wouldn't be long before I was entirely done for. It was a dreadful thing to think about, that being through for good, but in spite of everything I could do I was not able to get any better.

"I read about Tanlac in the papers and decided to try it. By the time I had finished the second bottle I knew I had found just the thing I needed, for the gas began to leave me and I felt stronger. I have taken ten bottles and now feel as well as I ever felt in my life; and I know that is a pretty strong statement for a man of my age to make. I have a fine appetite and never have any more stomach trouble at all. I get a full night's rest every night, and go to work every morning feeling able to turn out as much work as any man and I often do. As I said before, I have gained ten pounds and am still gaining both weight and strength. I never have that fagged out feeling any more and feel full of energy all the time.

"I believe any person who is weak and rundown and suffering with stomach trouble, will surely be helped by Tanlac if they will give it a fair chance. Some of the men in the shop are taking it after they have seen what it did for me and they are getting the same results."

Tanlac is sold in Los Angeles, Pasadena and San Diego by the Owl Drug Co.—[Advertisement.

HUMAN DIAMOND MINE INJURED.

Stones Worth Ten Thousand Found in Clothing of Man Hit by Car.

Receiving Hospital nurses uncovered a human diamond mine late yesterday afternoon when they removed the clothing from Simons Hamberger, 60 years of age, 960 Francisco street, to treat injuries he received when struck by a street car at Ninth and Figueroa streets. Diamond rings, diamond sunbursts and diamond bar pins worth about $10,000 were taken from Mr. Hamberger's garments and locked in the Receiving Hospital safe.

He was then treated for lacerations on the head and face.

Although Mr. Hamberger protested when his jewels were removed from his clothing, he offered no explanation of his method of storing his riches.

HAS "BRAIN STORM."

Pugilist in Murder Case Scatters Prisoners on Jail Bridge.

Following what James Cameron, negro pugilist, on trial for the murder of Elyett Bly, called a "brainstorm," on the bridge between the County Jail and the Hall of Justice, the defendant took the stand yesterday in his own defense. During his "brainstorm" Cameron smashed a window with his fist and scattered prisoners right and left.

On the stand he said he shot Bly in self defense, fearing Bly would "get him." His testimony closed the case, and Deputy District Attorney Van Cott summed up for the State. Capt. W. T. Helms will argue for the defense today. Frank Dominguez, of counsel for the defense, was unable to attend the trial because of illness.

FOR OSTEOPATHS' OUTING.

Students of the College of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons will hold their semiannual field day at Redondo Beach today. Events start at 10 a.m., with a ball game between the freshmen and sophomores. Afternoon events include girls' games, track events, swimming contests and a faculty-senior ball game. Seats are reserved at the casino for 250 students, and for a banquet to be given at 6:30 p.m. Dancing starts at 8:30 p.m., in the pavilion.

MAILS MISUSED BY SINN FEIN.

Federal Inquiry Into Vile Messages is Promised.

Ministers are Attacked by Letters, Cards, Phone.

Mayor Wilde Refuses to Meet De Valera at San Diego.

Federal investigation into the activities of local sympathizers of Edward de Valera loomed yesterday as the aftermath to his unsuccessful attempt to place the cause of Sinn Fein before the Los Angeles public at Shrine Auditorium, Wednesday night.

Postoffice inspectors and Federal investigators will be asked to trace the origin of letters and telephone calls sent to Los Angeles ministers and citizens who have expressed their disapproval of De Valera's visit to Los Angeles. The letters and postcards are of a highly-scurrilous nature and their senders are liable to prosecution for misuse of the mails. The telephone numbers from which some of the calls were made have been ascertained.

Dr. Gustav A. Briegleb, pastor of the Westlake Presbyterian Church, received one of the communications written on a postcard and couched in vulgar and inflammatory language. It was signed "Fa. Corde" and was mailed in Los Angeles November 18, at 7:30 a.m., from Station 2. It berated Dr. Briegleb for taking the position that America has no room for the Sinn Fein movement at the time she in an ally of Great Britain. On the address side the misspelt word "Parisite" was inserted above the name.

Dr. Briegleb, together with other Los Angeles ministers, preached a sermon in which he opposed the De Valera visit.

"I am going to turn this matter to the government for investigation," he said yesterday. "The letter is too vile and indecent to be considered the work of a fanatic. It bears the marks of a strong sympathizer of those who are opposed, together with De Valera and the Sinn Feiners, to our Allies."

Dr. Charles Edward Locke, pastor of the First Methodist Church, is another minister who was made a target for Sinn Fein sympathizers.

"I have been deluged with telephone calls from persons who bitterly berate me for my stand on the De Valera question, as expressed in my sermon last Sunday," he said yesterday. "The calls all appeared to be of the same type. Then there were several letters, one of them written on a margin of an advertisement placed by the De Valera committee. None of the communications was signed."

On the other hand, both pastors have received many signed letters congratulating them for their stand in the matter.

"On Sunday evening, and since, I thanked God that there's one pastor—there may be others in Los Angeles—who was brave enough to speak the whole truth," Dr. J. M. Peebles wrote to Dr. Locke.

AT SAN DIEGO.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 20.—Eamonn de Valera, "President of the Irish Republic," arrived here this evening at 7 o'clock and was escorted up Broadway to the U. S. Grant Hotel by about 500 Irish residents. Mayor Louis J. Wilde had refused to officially welcome or introduce De Valera, and he was welcomed by H. E. Carmichael, chairman of the reception committee of the Friends of Irish Freedom. A procession of automobiles headed by a brass band paraded up the street to the hotel.

Mr. De Valera was met at La Jolla this evening by Chairman Carmichael and Dr. E. P. Lanahan, who motored there to meet Mr. De Valera and his party, which motored down from Los Angeles.

At the Grant a crowd of several hundred gathered in the lobby and Mr. De Valera welcomed them briefly.

A banquet of 400 covers was tendered Mr. De Valera tonight in the U. S. Grant grill. Judge Eugene Daney acted as toastmaster and Joseph Scott introduced Mr. De Valera. Mr. De Valera will speak tomorrow noon in the Spreckels Theater and will visit the shipyards tomorrow morning.

NO INDORSEMENT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 20.—A resolution indorsing the aims of the recently formed Irish Republic and its President, Eamonn de Valera, was presented at the meeting of San Francisco Post No. 1, American Legion, and tabled last night, according to announcement by the post today.

C. E. Heald, chairman of the post, announced that the action was taken without prejudice to the "Irish Republic' or De Valera, and was simply a result of the Legion's desire not to mix in political affairs.

HURT PLAYING POLO.

Miss Hammond Breaks Collar Bone in Fall from Her Horse.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SANTA BARBARA, Nov. 20.—Miss Esther Hammond, well-known polo player, met with a serious accident yesterday when she fell from her horse in a polo game on the Leadbetter field and broke her collar bone. She was to have been mistress of the Belvedere paper chase on Thanksgiving. The chase will be held, but someone else will be appointed to take her place.

AT PROXIMO CLUB.

Prof. Ernest J. Likely, head of the delinquent department of the city schools, will speak at noon today before the Proximo Club, at the Broadway Department Store Cafe. His subject will be an exhaustive study of the boy and the man.

CAPTAIN FELT "SO GIRLISH."

Told Wife He Wanted to Get Fine Curves and Lines.

"You will Have Quite a Girl for a Hubby," He Wrote.

She Gets Divorce from Army Man Who Wore Girdle.

Finding life unbearable with an army officer who wore a girdle and wanted to develop beautiful curves and lines, Mrs. Lucile Adams Howell left him and yesterday was granted a divorce in Judge Crail's court, from Capt. Clarence W. Howell. She said that for four years she tried to make life "livable" with her husband, but her efforts failed so she brought suit on a charge of mental cruelty. The evidence was largely in the nature of correspondence.

"He loved only that which he called my beauty," she testified. "I am not even pretty. He did not love the real me."

WANTED DISPLAY.

Capt. Howell in his letters told his wife he was proud of her "in every way, darling, mentally and physically. If in your dress you could only display your physical charms as you do your mental ones, I would be completely happy, my entrancing one with eyes so expressive. You would set any man going. Just wait until I get my arms around you, you siren. You are so chic all over."

He told how "some of the up-to-date officers are now taking a course in the development of their figures." He says he will do the same as soon as he is able.

"You know I always wanted a form like yours," he wrote. "You just wait until I accomplish the development that I want to. I tell you, honey, you will have quite a girl for your hubby," he wrote.

Mrs. Howell testified she wrote her husband that he was "sissy." He replied that if he got the figure he wanted, he did not see that it called for mean things on his wife's part.

"I am more determined than ever to develop my figure and shall enter into the course fully at once. I wish you could send me a cover for my girdle," he wrote, and later he sent word that he was enjoying his girdle so much.

IMPROVED HIS FIGURE.

"It certainly improved mby figure. You just wait until I get fully developed like a certain officer here. He has such beautiful curves and lines. I want you to be real manish for I feel so girlish."

Mrs. Howell said Capt. Howell sought a reconciliation through Mrs. George T. Guernsey, president general of the Daughters of the American Revolution. She said he wrote Mrs. Guernsey to ask his wife if she "desires to be placed in the position of deserting a soldier in the service of his country, fighting for the principle of right and humanity that women may have homes."

Mrs. Guernsey wrote Mrs. Howell she knew only one side of the story. To overlook what "has caused the separation and prove your patriotism means not merely words, but action," she said.

Capt. Howell was not in court.

STRIKE IS ENDED BY TAILORS AT OAKLAND.

Striking tailors at Oakland have voted to return to work under open-shop conditions, according to word received yesterday by local tailors.

The decision means a distinct victory for the forces arrayed against the efforts of radical elements among the strikers to force merchant tailors on this Coast out of business. According to Sam G. Levy, president of the Pacific Coast Merchant Tailors' Association, the strike was instituted by radicals as a means to "sovietize" the industry.

Several weeks ago Mr. Levy delivered an address before the strikers in the Labor Temple at Oakland. He explained the real purposes of the radical leaders of the strike, and it is believed his revelations had strong weight in the decision of the Oakland workers to go back to their jobs.

DOG, WAR VETERAN KILLED.

Pat is dead.

Through the long night he lay in a vacant lot beneath two silk American flags and a bank of flowers. Kindly neighbors had covered him with the flags and the flowers were brought by the weeping children on their way to school.

Pat was a beautiful Airedale dog. He was killed yesterday morning when a roadster, driven by an unknown woman, struck him at Fifth avenue and Washington street. Everybody's home in that vicinity was Pat's home.

Pat was an overseas veteran. He went to France with his master, Sid. Koumrian, and the Ninety-first Division, and he passed through the inferno of the Argonne drive without a scratch. He was always the first one in his company to go over the top, and his bravery was mentioned several times in the Paris papers. When he returned to America with his master he wore medals on his collar and service stripes on his blanket. But upon returning to civilian clothes his master went to work in the shipyards, so Pat remained in the neighborhood to play with the school children.

He was escorting a group of children to school yesterday morning when he was killed. His neck was broken. The children carried him to a vacant lot and laid him on a bed of grass, and during the day, as the children passed to and from school, they stopped to lay flowers over him and to cry. Then Mrs. J. M. Nesland of 3507 West Washington street covered him with the silk flags.

All day long the children stood guard over Pat's broken body until the curfew whistle blew, when they sadly turned their little feet homeward, leaving a bright lantern to keep vigil over Pat, for Pat was a good soldier, a hero, a fighter and a good playmate. He will be buried today.

MISSTATEMENTS BRISTLE.

De Valera Propaganda Claims Imaginary Honors for Sinn Fein Chief.

Further evidence of the character of the propaganda used in behalf of Edward de Valera, "president of the Irish republic," is furnished in the text of the full-page advertisement published by the local De Valera committee in the Los Angeles Examiner, Los Angeles sponsor for De Valera. The Times was offered a large sum to print this advertisement and declined it.

Among others, the advertisement contains the following statements:

That Gov. Coolidge of Massachusetts introduced de Valera to a Boston audience, with remarks favoring "the cause of Irish liberty."

That the Mayor and City Council of Philadelphia officially welcomed De Valera.

That the Mayor and City Council of Baltimore officially welcomed De Valera.

The reference to Gov. Coolidge in the advertisement reads:

"The Governor of Massachusetts, Calvin Coolidge, recently re-elected on a law-and-order platform, introducing President De Valera to an audience of 40,000 Americans in Fenway Park, Boston, said:

"'Mr. President—Here on Boston Common and at Bunker Hill our own forefathers fought for American liberty and here the American people pledge their devotion to the cause of Irish liberty.'"

Thus the American League for Irish Independence.

But the version of the Boston Herald News Bureau is different. It says: "Gov. Coolidge did not welcome or meet De Valera when the latter was in Boston. The Governor was reported ill at the time of the visit."

The advertisement for De Valera published here further contains a section headed: "Mayor and city councils have officially welcomed President De Valera in ——" and then follows a list of cities, including Philadelphia and Baltimore.

The plain facts, as published in news dispatches at the time, are that Mayor Thomas B. Smith of Philadelphia refused to meet De Valera or take part in a reception to him and that Mayor William F. Broening of Baltimore refused in so many words to recognize De Valera as the president of the "Irish republic."

These are the only statements in the advertisement which have so far been investigated.

Another example of these methods was exposed by Walter Brinkop, chairman of Los Angeles Post of the American Legion, who as told in yesterday's Times, telegraphed day before yesterday to the organization's National Executive Committee protesting against underhanded attempts to exploit the Sinn Fein cause through the Legion. Mr. Brinkop's telegram set forth that a scheme of Jack Sullivan, Seattle lawyer and former vice-chairman of the Legion, "to secure publicity for De Valera in connection with the American Legion is grossly unfair and demands immediate investigation. If the underhanded method is being used in all Legion posts in cities De Valera visits, it should be stopped."

CHARGE AUTO THEFTS.

Son is Among Three Accused of Stealing Father's Car.

Four arrests of alleged automobile thieves were reported to the Sheriff's office yesterday. James White, Arthur Royal and William H. Vatcher, Jr., were arrested at Indio for the alleged theft of the motor car of William H. Vatcher of this city, father of one of the youths, on Monday.

I. M. Pivinik was arrested at Hillsboro, Tex., for the theft, two months ago, of an automobile belonging to C. H. Benton of Whittier.

NAVY MAN IS RIOT VICTIM.

Los Angeles Sailor Killed at Vladivostok; Baby Dies at Same Time.

Wounded by a stray bullet from shore, during a revolutionary riot in Vladivostok, last Sunday, Theodore W. Rowland, of Hermosa Beach, a sailmaker's mate on the United States cruiser New Orleans, died Tuesday, according to advice received from the Twelfth Naval District yesterday by his mother, Mrs. Julia Rowland, a widow residing at 214 South Manhattan place, this city.

The telegram from the Navy Department, dated November 20, was sent to Mrs. Rowland from San Francisco. It reads in part: "Theodore W. Rowland died on board U. S. S. New Orleans, November 18, from gunshot wound inflicted by stray bullet from shore. Body being sent to United States by next transport. All expense of transportation will be prepaid by government to place requested, but expenses incurred after arrival of body must be borne by you. Please inform this office of your wishes, Twelfth Naval District."

THIRD TIME NO CHARM FOR HIM

Girl Wife Quits Notorious Bellboy Crook Here.

"Forgave Him Two Terms in Prison; Never Again."

Will Seek Work to Support Two Little Children.

Mrs. Anna Savage, 20 years of age, mother of two little children and wife of Calvin L. Savage, ex-convict, now held in the City Jail charged with stealing $15,000 worth of jewelry from the room of Mrs. Mary J. Hayner of Troy, O., in the Burlington Hotel, Washington, D. C., is through with him, she told the police yesterday.

Since her marriage in 1915, she has twice seen her husband sent to prison and she told Police Detective Roy Shy that after her husband leaves for the East with police officials she wants to secure a position and never see him again.

Yesterday, with her younger child, Marcel, 17 months of age, on her arm, Mrs. Savage paid a last call to her husband at the City Jail. Following the visit Mrs. Savage stated that she had been deceived by her husband and disgraced and that she will stand by him no longer. Mrs. Savage told the officers that some time ago her husband promised her to "go straight" and never break the laws again. She gave him another chance and returned to him after a short separation.

Mrs. Savage is living with her two children in the home of a sister here. The police are withholding the address for obvious reasons. After her husband is sent away the little woman will attempt to secure a position in some local department store and attempt to educate and feed her children.

From what the local police have been able to learn of Mrs. Savage's story of trouble, she married Savage, then a bell boy in a local hotel, at the age of 16. Shortly after the marriage Savage, who was then an ex-convict and twelve years older than his wife, took her to San Francisco. Starting from San Francisco, the two began to travel, and, working as a bell boy, hotel clerk and baggage agent, Savage took his wife to almost every large city in the country.

Twice during their travels the police took a hand in Savage's affairs and twice sent him to prison, the first time for burglary, from Milwaukee, and the second time as a forger, from Cleveland. Both times he served short terms and was greeted by his wife when he was released. Following both jail terms, Savage promised his faithful little wife that he would never again break the laws and both times after a short period of honest work he slipped back into the old path of crime. And now, according to

The People and Their Troubles

Picking on Our "In-Laws."

BY JANE DIXON.

Here is a man who occupies a unique position in the marriage equation—father-in-law.

Father-in-law is either one of two things—he is the whole thing or he is nothing.

There is no middle course for the paternal progenitor of the bride or of the bridegroom. He is the big all-important personage or he is a complete nonentity.

The angle of elevation which father-in-law hits in the average well-conditioned household is measured almost entirely by the scope of his bank roll.

Rather a crude assertion, to be sure. Truth has a habit of being that way.

When I say father-in-law's importance is a matter of mundane money I mean no disrespect to the honorable gentleman, nor am I charging mercenary motives against the second generation.

My contention is that it is within the power of a great many fathers-in-law to make the early years of matrimony less wearisome, smoother to the foot and more sunshiny to the eye, by removing the necessity for material worries.

Why is it fathers-in-law are loathe, for the most part, to step in and give their best beloved a boost at this critical period in their lives. Members of a former generation are given to contending that because they started married life on $7 a week and a bundle of nerve, son or daughter is in duty bound to do the same.

"Mother and I began housekeeping with two kitchen chairs, a deal table and a few yards of ticking stuffed with corn husks," booms crusty old money-bags when his offspring broaches the subject of home-making.

THINGS ARE DIFFERENT NOW.

Tes, fathers-in-law, and that was twenty-five, thirty years ago. You were not doing anything unusual, you and mother. Hundreds of hardy young Americans were starting life in the same simple, straight-from-the-shoulder, close-to-the-ground way.

Time has rolled on since that far-gone day of simplicity and plain living, and as it rolls life grows more complicated. Young folks of the present must put up some sort of an appearance if they wish to keep as much as a toehold in the sphere to which they were born.

Rag carpets are no longer in vogue.

Snug little steam-heated flats and cosy little furnace-fired cottages have replaced the clapboard huts and chinked cabins of other days.

The modern young married man or woman could scarcely invite his or her friends to dine off a deal table decorated with oilcloth and bone-handled cutlery.

"Well, then," thunders hard-fisted father-in-law, "let the young whipper-snappers go out and earn it themselves. That's what I had to do."

Very well, father-in-law. Perhaps they will do just that. But they are going to waste a lot of the keen edge of their youth in the climb. Why not hand over a ladder, so climbing will be easier. They are all you have. You cannot take the feathers of the golden eagle with you across that Great Divide. Give them of the joy of plenty while the sap of life runs strong in their bodies. Let them partake of the fruits of your toil while you are here to share the feast.

A certain horny-handed father-in-law in my gallery of remembrances was of the set opinion his son should struggle. He gave the boy a college education. He turned over to son the active management of the paternal hardware store, a business for which the boy was no more suited than a truck driver is fit to play a pipe organ.

Son failed utterly to make good. Failure, under such conditions, was inevitable. Father raged and stormed and ran amuck generally. In the end he so wore on his son's nerves that something inside the boy snapped.

It was a very sad and mysterious affair. Everyone felt so sorry for the young wife who had been left behind when the son disappeared quite as if the earth had opened and swallowed him—that is, everyone felt sorry for her but father-in-law. He, with his customary spleen and blind egoism, blamed the boy's cowardice entirely on the young wife.

For two years father-in-law's shekels went on piling up. He early discovered that by shifting the burden of blame to the shoulders of the deserted wife he would be absolved from all obligation in the way of financial aid. His anger against the hapless girl was so faithfully fanned he almost believed it himself.

At the end of the two years father-in-law had a hunch.

The hunch was that the human machine called the body, the machine in which he lived and which he had hitherto regarded as invulnerable, was about to stop functioning. He had looked into the eyes of the Grim Reaper, and in them he read he was a marked man.

Panic seized him. He was in a frenzy trying to find ways and means to atone. He sent for the young wife. He wanted to do a million good things for her in a hurry. She would have none of him. She had missed the road to happiness, but she had stumbled into content, and she did not want it spoiled by the repentant Shylock.

REPENTENCE CAME TOO LATE.

In the midst of his money-scattering madness father-in-law caught a flash from his far-away son. He went quite wild with joy. It looked as if he was going to be able to do something about squaring his one-sided account. He sent for his boy, begged him to hurry home—special train, airplane, any way to beat time and space.

The morning of the day the prodigal was scheduled to arrive and partake of the fatted calf, father-in-law was found in the big arm-chair, his eyes closed in the last long sleep. Before him on the table was a pile of bank books and a half-written check made payable to his son.

The Grim Reaper had mowed him down just as he was about to sign his name. When it comes to retaliation Fate is considerable of a trickster.

There is another type of father-in-law, the antithesis of the paternal parent with the one-way pocket.

This father-in-law is indulgent to a fault. He is forever ejecting himself into the matrimonial equation at a critical moment when conduct and character are suspended by a thin silk thread which, if left to itself, might metamorphose into a thick steel chain, but which, when shaken, is sure to snap in the middle.

"I don't see why I can't have a town car this winter," whines the spoiled daughter of a rich father-in-law. "Other women have them. I've always had one."

"But I can't afford a town car," explains husband, in a voice of grim determination.

"Very well," flounces the wife, "if you can't get me what I want I'll go to father. He'll buy one for me."

HUSBAND RESENTS TRESPASS.

And go to father she does. The fact that husband resents this trespassing upon his sacred rights is not considered by the spoiled child of fortune. She is willing for her own selfish ease to throw husband's pride in the dust and walk upon it. Every time husband sees the charity coach he has a gnawing desire to slip a match into the gasoline tank. And how the wife does like to refer airily to "my car" and "my chauffeur"! Dissension camps on the running-board.

Comes summer time and daughter takes her flight with father and the family to some expensive resort husband cannot possibly afford. He drops in week-ends—some weeks.

Then, because father-in-law discovers the hectored husband of his pampered darling has transferred his affections to some poor, but appreciative little creature who takes dictation or engages in some such plebian pastime, the worthy gentleman labels the rebellious one a cad and a quitter. When the most expensive firm of lawyers available hands daughter the divorce papers father-in-law sputters "a good riddance of bad rubbish."

You could never, in a million years, convince dear, deluded old dad that he, and he alone, is responsible for the wreckage.

Father-in-law, do not tell your son how he should treat his wife unless you are convinced he is mistreating her. If he appears to your biased mind overindulgent, try to remember that is his business—and his wife's. Lean back the pages of memory. You will probably find where, at his age, you were doing the self-same things.

Forget the role of stern parent, father-in-law. Age reads the illumined letters of romance through smoked glasses. Time dims the poignancy of love's young dreams.

Make it a point to revert to the day when you, too, were a dreamer.

LIBRARY PLANS GET APPROVAL.

Realty Men Also Favor Work of Fiestas' Body.

Garland Speaks for Action to Make City Better.

Rent and Other Profiteers are Given a Rap.

Unanimous indorsement of the plans of the recently organized California Fiestas Association and those for a public library building, as advocated by the City Library Association, was given, yesterday, by the Los Angeles Realty Board at a meeting at the City Club. Speaking on behalf of the Fiestas Association, President William M. Garland urged community co-operation, declaring this necessary to the successful completion of the great development enterprises and civic undertakings now proposed in the creation of a "Greater Los Angeles."

John J. Arnold, director of foreign trade of the Bank of Italy, speaking in favor of the proposed League of Nations, declared its creation to be vitally necessary to international amity and the restoration of the world's economic balance. Without the league, he asserted, the world will fall back into its old pre-war condition of trade enmities and inevitable clashes. He deplored the Senate's failure at this session of Congress to ratify the league covenant and attributed its failure to "contemptible party politics."

CHANGE ELECTION DATE.

Preliminary to the speaking, the Realty Board amended its constitution to provide for an annual election of officers on the second Thursday in December, instead of in May, as at present. This was done to conform to the wishes of the National Association of Real Estate Boards. President Clinton E. Miller, who presided, made a strong plea for high professional ethics among Los Angeles realtors and urged their co-operation in the promotion of better living conditions in Los Angeles.

"Everything points to an unusually active real estate market here, as elsewhere, and to a condition of real prosperity," he said. "Wise counsel is needed in the conduct of our affairs. There should be conservative handling of our local problems. We want good times here, but no boom. The inevitable reaction from a boom is disaster for many of us, and that we must avoid."

In asking the Realty Board's indorsement of the California Fiestas Association, Mr. Garland pointed to its great value in organizing the city's best elements for the good of Southern California and the State.

FOR FAIR DEAL.

"We want community action," he declared. "We must get away from the spirit of thinking only of Los Angeles. Right now we are planning to receive and entertain many thousands of visitors to California, and we must co-operate as a community to see that they are not discouraged in their first impressions of us. Profiteering in rents and in foods must be discountenanced. We must insist on fair dealing to our own people and to the newcomers.

"We have the population of a big city, and now is the time to act like a big city. Not all of ous are proud of our city administration in the last fifteen years. We must eliminate the discordant note in the community and get together for better service and community benefit."

Patrick C. Campbell also urged community action in aiding the Fiestas Association in its coming drive to raise a $500,000 guarantee fund to support the work. In reporting on the conduct of his office, President Miller of the Realty Board, whose term expires on January 1, stated that the organization is entirely free of debt and is rapidly increasing in membership.

FOR HARBOR WORK.

Council Lends Funds to Provide for Proposed Dredging.

By unanimous vote of the City Council yesterday, $25,000 was transferred from the reserve fund to the Harbor Commission to finance the construction of a bulkhead at the West Basin in the Los Angeles Harbor, to catch and retain the dredgings when the government begins work on the main channel. This will reclaim about twenty-five acres of land that will be valuable for industrial sites. It lies along the easterly side of the West Basin, running northerly from the draw-bridge. The $25,000 is in the form of a loan and is to be repaid out of harbor improvement bond funds or harbor revenues as soon as they become available.

The dredging will permit the large tankers of the Standard Oil Company to reach its wharves, and representatives of that concern have informed the Harbor Commission that this will result in practically doubling the oil shipments from this port.

CITY FINANCES IN DEEP HOLE.

Government is Run at Heavy Loss, Report Shows.

Near Four Hundred Thousand Behind in One Year.

Total Cost of Operating is Some Fifteen Millions.

The total cost of operating the city government during the last fiscal year was $14,850,441.05, and the receipts from revenues of all kinds amounted to $14,509,468.11.

These figures are taken from the annual report of the financial transactions of the city for the fiscal year ended June 30, last. City Auditor Myers yesterday submitted the report to the State Controller.

It shows that at the opening of the last fiscal year the city had a cash balance of $4,564,032.86, and that this, with the revenues, brought up the cash account to $18,873,500.47. Deducting the cost of running the city for the year, there was left for the start of the present fiscal year $3,993,059.42.

The total value of the public property owned by the city is shown to be $112,271,663.

The receipts from the water department were $2,520,020.38, and from the power department $1,025,483.05.

The report on the water department shows 108,144 consumers and 30,600,000,000 gallons of water sold during the year; 1444 miles of water mains in operation and 6277 fire hydrants.

The report on the municipal power plant shows 10,881 consumers; 126,495,557 kilowatt hours sold; 100 miles of high voltage overhead lines, and 336 miles of low-voltage lines.

In reference to the harbor department the report shows that 959 vessels docked at the municipal wharves during the year, and that the total tonnage handled was 1,240,827.

FROM A VICTIM.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 14.—To the Editor of the Times: Let me say a word on the subject of dishonest real estate men.

We are all rejoicing over the rapid growth of Los Angeles. We want to be a steady and substantial growth.

No one is more necessary to the energetic real estate man. It is a pity that among them there should be a few dishonest ones as in every business.

We ought to have tighter laws governing real estate transactions. There should be a law that no money connected with transactions or that having been impounded be left in escrow until such time as written instructions given. Our guaranty companies make this rule, I understand, but the public do not. It should be a law that no proceeding could be started without both the buyer and seller being present to agree upon the instructions given. Our guaranty companies make this rule, I understand, but the public do not. It should be a law that no money connected with transactions or that having been impounded be left in escrow until such time as written

MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.
The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for publication of all news credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper and also the local news published herein.

THE WHY OF IT.

Edward de Valera, fugitive President of the mythical "Irish republic," received from Los Angeles on Wednesday a frigid greeting. The Mayor absented himself from the City Hall when De Valera called; the doors of the Shrine Auditorium, where he was to speak, were locked to him; hundreds of persons in the crowded shopping district turned their backs while the automobile in which he was riding passed. For once the cordial hospitality for which Los Angeles is famed was nowhere in evidence.

De Valera comes here posing as the President of a "government" without existence. He comes seeking to promote the sale of bonds of the "Irish republic" whose security is only a myth. He represents, not the Irish people, but the Sinn Feiners, who are the I.W.W. of Ireland. He is an alien Red, the most conspicuous one in America, and he should be deported, along with the other Reds who are now locked up in Federal prisons awaiting deportation. His offense is the greater because he acts with full understanding. Born in this country, De Valera is an expatriated American; he is attempting to foment revolution against the government to which he pledged allegiance when he renounced his Americanism. He is banned from presenting any cause before the American people because, by reason of the Sinn Fein pro-German activities against America, seeking the murder of our soldiers and sailors during the great war, he cannot come before the bar of public opinion with clean hands. Admiral Sims has bared that record. It is self-explanatory.

Thank heaven, there is one free city in America where an enemy of orderly government is not welcome!

In barring the doors of its auditorium to him the members of the Shrine organization of Los Angeles were actuated by loyal and patriotic motives. The reason assigned is amply sufficient. Permission to use the hall had been granted "in ignorance of the real purpose of the meeting, which we are now advised is for the appearance of Eamonn (Edward) de Valera to exploit a certain doctrine which the association believes is not consistent with the principles of Americanism."

Why this rebuff? The answer is written in the record of Admiral Sims on the pro-German activities of the Sinn Fein organization, of which De Valera is, and was at that time, the head, during the crucial months when America was rushing its Liberty Army to the rescue of the free people of Europe. The Sinn Feiners plotted with the Huns to massacre, through underseas attacks, American troops on their way to the front.

Further explanation is unnecessary. The record stands as written by the Sinn Feiners themselves. They were traitors to the cause of world freedom, traitors to the government of which they were themselves a part, traitors to their own blood in Ireland and America. De Valera tried lamely to deny in Los Angeles that he was a British citizen; yet within a year he stood for election to the British Parliament, where the first qualification of every candidate is that he must be a citizen of Great Britain.

Los Angeles looks upon De Valera as an unwelcome guest. Our hospitality does not extend to alien Reds. The atmosphere is polluted by his presence and the sooner he shakes the dust of Southern California from the soles of his shoes the better.

THE SCRATCH MAN.

It would seem that this Gen. Yudenitch was at least hardened to the exotic and other horrors of war of its class.

THEY ARE DOERS.

The closed shop is detrimental to the citrus industry. This was declared as with one voice by members of the Los Angeles County Farm Bureau when one of their members at a recent meeting proposed this stand as a motion. Not only the citrus growers, but the farmers in other lines of agricultural endeavor in California, are, almost to a man, opposed to labor unions in agriculture.

SEEDLESS AND PUCKERLESS.

A boon to persons who have false teeth is proclaimed by a citizen of Sawtelle who has produced a seedless fig. The pleasure of eating the common kind of fig is sometimes nil owing to the habit of the fig seeds to get up between the dental plate and the roof of the mouth. Now if this benevolent horticulturist would only invent a squirtless grapefruit, a seedless pomegranate or even a puckerless persimmon he would be immortalized by a grateful but suffering multitude.

AN ON NEST LIVING.

England is having its first genuine egg-laying race. In Suffolk there are now some forty "teams"—of four hens each—hard at work in the competition and their scores are chalked up by officials at the close of every day. There are all kinds of breeds and it is desired to find the best winter layers. The contest began on October 1 and will close January 1. At last accounts a team of White Wyandottes were two eggs ahead and still going strong. The hens themselves were said to be taking an interest in the game and would come out every now and then to take a squint at the scoreboard after which they would return to their nest and their duty.

PEACE AND POLITICS.

For the time, at least, the politicians in Congress have killed the peace treaty. A majority of the Republicans refused to ratify the treaty without reservations; practically the whole of the Democratic minority refused to vote for it with reservations; and the result is that America remains technically at war with Germany. The stabilization of industry, expected to come with the conclusion of peace negotiations, must remain in abeyance. In fact, there are disquieting indications of a further demoralization. Securities struck a new low level on the New York and Chicago exchanges and the foreign exchange market is more feverish and unsettled than at any other time since the outbreak of the war.

Senator Lodge says that the blame for the defeat of the treaty rests with the administration; that he and his colleagues went to extreme lengths in order to effect a compromise; but that the President and Senator Hitchcock were obdurate. Senator Hitchcock says that the blame rests on the Republican enemies of the treaty, who sought to nullify it with reservations after their attempts to amend it had failed. Each side predicts dire disaster for the other next year at the polls. All the comments are of a political nature; there is nothing from either Senator Lodge or Senator Hitchcock concerning the state in which the country is left in relation to reconstruction.

Even the "bitter-enders" are appalled at the result of the Senate's handiwork. Johnson of California, Reed, Sherman and half a dozen others voted against the treaty, with or without amendment; but they are too much concerned over the effect that its total rejection may have on the country to rejoice openly. They know that the eyes of the people will turn from the dead treaty to those who stabbed it, and they are filled with forebodings.

Cable dispatches state that Great Britain, France and Italy will proceed at once to put the treaty into effect and to establish the League of Nations. There is a provision in the treaty that it becomes effective as soon as ratified by three of the Allied nations and Germany. It is forecast that Japan will hasten ratification; for, by joining the League and leaving America on the outside, Japan will score a decided tactical advantage.

President Wilson remained unyielding to the end. He did not believe that the Republican Senators would dare refuse ratification. He clung to the hope that the opposition would collapse and that the treaty would be ratified without reservation. As feared by The Times, he permitted what he considered to be the best to become an enemy of the good. He probably feels that he did a great work for humanity in aiding in drafting the treaty. The League of Nations of which he dreamed is in existence; but he has his own obduracy to blame for the fact that he and his country are stranded, like Moses on Mount Moab, within sight of the Promised Land.

Sobered by a realization of the position in which they have left their country, the leaders of both sides were talking yesterday of taking up the treaty again at the general session of Congress, which opens on the first of December. They say that the President can resubmit the treaty and the discussion can begin all over again. But, irrespective of future action, six months of almost priceless time have been frittered away by the Senate. All the plans for reconstruction were held in abeyance while the treaty was discussed; the only thing of importance accomplished was the passage of revenue bills which keep the expenditures of the country on a war basis. The expense continues, but the relief sought and sorely needed has not been given. In the councils of the enemies of the Allies there will be rejoicings. The Germans will probably take hope that their dream of conquest is not yet wholly shattered. The Bolsheviki will attribute the defeat of the treaty to the work of their emissaries in this country, and their activities will probably continue. As to the little nations, whose hope rested on the part that America would play in the League, the blow dealt to their aspirations is disheartening to contemplate.

Responsibility for the defeat of the treaty lies at the door of the politicians of both parties. The public will be inclined to hold them equally responsible. The political destinies of at least half the members of the Senate, of both parties, will repose in the same vault with the dead treaty.

NATION'S DEFENDERS.

Greater than any material advantage won by this country in the world war is the rebirth of the spirit of patriotism and loyalty to American institutions which abhors sedition and anarchy in all its forms. This spirit is typified in its highest form by the American Legion, an organization composed exclusively of ex-service men who are determined that the country for which their comrades made the supreme sacrifice shall be purged of all defiling influences.

There are knights among these legionnaires as valiant as any that wore harness in the heyday of medieval chivalry. Their deeds of derring do on land, in the air and beneath the sea will be told in song and story as the generations pass and will be magnified as distance throws its enchantment across the years. But the men themselves are not content that the fires of patriotism kindled on foreign battlefields shall be extinguished when they don their civilian clothes. The divisions may be demobilized, but not the American spirit.

Thousands of them were shocked to find on their return home that seeds of sedition were being scattered throughout the country by foreign hands. The liberty that was their beacon light when shrapnel rained and the smoke and noxious gases were thickest, the thing that impelled every man when he went over the top—that liberty they heard derided and reviled. They found the institutions which they had fought to preserve from foreign aggression threatened by lawlessness and violence from within. They heard men who had skulked while they fought plotting to overthrow the government, the Constitution and the society which had come down to them as a heritage from their fathers and whose symbol is the Stars and Stripes. And then the service men said one to another that the crusade for the free peoples of the world did not end when they broke the German line in the Argonne and in Flanders and that there was work still for them to do.

Their association numbers tens of thousands of service men, the pick of the Liberty army that won in a few short months deathless renown. National headquarters have been established in Indianapolis and thousands of posts are organizing all over the country. They are the minute men of the republic.

However spacious the hall in which the members of the Legion assemble, there is no room for anarchy. They give their allegiance to one flag and one country. Every member takes a pledge:

> To uphold and defend the Constitution of the United States of America; to maintain law and order; to foster and perpetuate a 100-per-cent. Americanism; to preserve the memories and incidents of our association in the great war; to inculcate a sense of individual obligation to the community, State and nation; to combat autocracy of both the classes and the masses; to make right the master of might; to promote peace and good will on earth; to safeguard and transmit to posterity the principles of justice, freedom and democracy; to consecrate and sanctify our comradeship by our devotion to mutual helpfulness.

It is little wonder that the association under that pledge of thousands of young men whose valor is written indelibly on the pages of history should be viewed with extreme alarm by the I.W.W. and by the Bolshevist emissaries in this country. It is little wonder that they should have been the object of attack in the incipient insurrection staged for Armistice Day. The radicals have judged rightly that before American institutions can be overthrown by violent means, before a class autocracy can be established in America, the American Legion must be destroyed.

Membership in the Legion is a distinction. Only those who actually served their country in some military capacity during the war and hold certificates of honorable discharge are eligible, and only such of those as take the pledge to resist every form of anarchy, sedition and violence. These are the men who stand behind the admonition of the President that "Those who seek to destroy American institutions by violent means shall themselves be destroyed."

Enlistment on the Pacific Coast was given a powerful impetus when the I.W.W. made their attack on the returned soldiers at Centralia. This anarchy fired all the ex-service men on the Coast with a zeal to wipe out the stain which the radicals were putting upon the fair name of the West. From San Diego to the Canadian border the war heroes organized and began a systematic campaign to drive the Reds from the Pacific Coast States. "Remember Centralia" was a rallying cry to which the loyal ex-service men responded. In Los Angeles they hunted out a nest of I.W.W.'s, broke up their meeting and furnished the police with the information that led to the arrest of a number of Reds and the seizure of a great quantity of revolutionary literature.

Loyalty at home to the flag they followed overseas and a determination "to combat autocracy both of the classes and the masses" are the fundamental principles on which the American Legion is founded. Much of the work it has to perform is educational in its nature. The members know that there are thousands of agitators throughout the country who are preaching sedition to the uneducated classes. The industrial districts have proved a fertile field for such propaganda; for in these are employed at least 2,000,000 foreigners who can neither speak nor read the English language and who are not able to discriminate between liberty and license. The Legion has begun a campaign of education to teach these foreigners the true meaning of Americanism.

Through their association the war heroes are serving notice to the radicals and the I.W.W. that whoever assaults any institution of the American government will find it supported by the men who broke the most powerful autocratic organization the world has ever known.

The Legion typifies the highest and most that four generations of democracy in America has produced. The red fires of anarchy will never sweep across our country while the American Legion stands guard.

A SECRETARY OF TRANSPORTATION.

In view of the approaching return of the railroads to private ownership the proposal of Judge Robert S. Lovett, president of the Union Pacific system, for a new Cabinet official to be known as the Secretary of Transportation is worthy of serious consideration.

The problems before the railroad officials of the country, upon their assumption of the burden which the government has carried during the critical war period, will be many. The whole railroad situation is in a state of uncertainty and transition. As the president of the Union Pacific systems points out in a recently-distributed discussion of the "Railroad Problem," there is necessity of Federal regulation rather than of State regulation of intrastate railways. He favors the plan submitted to the Senate Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce by a committee of railroad executives, which proposes that Congress shall establish a rule of rate-making; compulsory Federal incorporation of all railroad carriers; exclusive Federal regulation of railroad securities; exclusive Federal regulation of railroad rates; creation of a Department of Transportation, with power to act quickly and deal with emergencies; modification of restrictions upon railroad consolidations and provisions for merging lines when in the public interest and by approval of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Judge Lovett asserts that the Interstate Commerce Commission was conceived in hostility to the railroad business and was designed to regulate and punish and declares that the transportation interests of the country should no longer be ignored in the organization of the government's business and left to "what I may term the penal authorities."

He further says: "There should be a Secretary of Transportation—who should see that the nation has the transportation without which none of its other functions would be possible or of value and who should have the same solicitude for the development and success of this essential business and industry that the other secretaries show for the interests they represent."

It is not the idea to do away with the Interstate Commerce Commission, whose functions are described as judicial rather than executive and which should be correlated with the new Department of Transportation. But it is asserted that under the present system of State regulation, varying with the different State railway commissions, all trunk lines are hampered and in many cases practically hog-tied by regulations which are conflicting and to an extent destructive, and this in a large degree accounts for the confusion and inadequacy which left the railroads stranded under the pressure of the war strain.

Judge Lovett's argument only applies to the railway transportation of the country. But, naturally, a Department of Transportation would find itself compelled to deal with the rapidly-increasing problems of interstate motor transportation, and undoubtedly the regulation of aerial transportation will soon become necessary and will only be possible through the Federal authority.

When the vital importance of transportation to every other industry and business of the country is regarded, it is a matter of marvel that Congress has never yet considered it of sufficient importance to be classed with commerce, agriculture and labor—all of which are so completely dependent upon common carriers. It is true that a vast deal of legislation has been devoted to railroads and their problems. But it is equally true that this legislation has been in the main restrictive and rudimentary. No working out of the questions involved upon broad principles has resulted.

LOVE OF HUMANITY AT PERKINS CORNER.

"It's all ver' well," said Hank Hawkins, "ter hoi' good feelin's torruds th' neighbors, but this ere talk 'bout lovin' 'em is all bosh.

"Dunt ve see't would be better ef we could wuk 'long tergether, each a doin' his part an' encouraging tother, an' when he discivered thet ye want so partic'lar, he'd commence ter trust ye an' in doin' thet he'd grad'ly grow ter be a better feller, es time slipped 'long, spite hisself.

"It's sort er pecooliar how a tightwad thinks th' neighbors hain't discivered him. Ef he on'y knew whet they was thinkin' 'bout him t'would gin him a powerful jolt. But th' bes' thin' of all is th' effect er th' lib-ral sperit on th' feller hisself. Ye see, at fust he's all bound up an' misable an' they ain't nothin' thet loosens up a hideboun' feller like doin' a few real decent things fer his neighbors. Ef ye dunt b'leeve it, try it an' ef ye dunt git more sat'sfaction out'n it than from a hull bar'l er hard cider, I'll stan' treat. Fer instance, ef ye're calling on a farmer friend some day an' ye find he's away from hum an' his wife's a worryin' 'bout their little boy, who's down wuth th' fever, an' she tells ye thet they ain't got no money, let th' sperit er compassion come inter yer heart an' ye go an git th' doctor, an' pay him fer his visit, explainin' th' facts thet they're hevin' a hard time ter make both ends meet. An' es ye go down th' rud, ye'll find there's nuthin' singin' in yer heart, 'cause they's suthing' going ter sing in them other hearts, an' ye know it. Dunt ye see th' expandin' power er doin' a fine unselfish thing?"

"Ye're makin' some mighty big claims," said Hank Hawkins, "an' I allow it [illegible] mighty fine ter hear ye tell [illegible] reuble is thet it dunt pay [illegible]

"Ye'll hev t[illegible]me er th' rest on us ter try it [illegible]," said Deacon Thorne, "cause Hank's built entirely t'other way. Fur's I'm consarned it's th' greates' sarmon I ever heerd, an' it's th' blessed truth."

Several deacons and some that were called on to pray an' give testimony in chuch acknowledged it to be true, and the rest contented themselves with not denying it. The storekeeper said thet it hit him all right, but owing ter trade conditions, he didn't see no way ter live up to it, fer th' present, but allowed thet it was a mighty good thing ter hev sech things pinted out, now'n then, as they was easy ter fergit.

CHANGE OF HEART.

I used to hate the horrid Hun and longed to slay him with a gun; but now that war has had its day, my hatreds seem to melt away; I find it hard to grind my teeth and stamp upon my laurel wreath, and call down curses on a foe, when such a gent I do not know. I cannot think of any skate who'd make it worth my while to hate. 'Tis true some chaps have wrought me ill; they handed me a bitter pill; but I forget them and their deeds and spend my evenings stringing beads, and thinking of the boys I've known who never caused me grief or groan. And there are men who hate me well and of their enmity they tell, and say that on some day remote they'll haply bear away my goat. My neighbors tell me of their words and still I warble like the birds, and trill my melodies sublime and have the blamedest kind of time. They'll all get tired of hating me, when my indifference they see; whereas, if I indulged in sweats and handed back their foolish threats, the air would soon be full of fur and teeth and whiskers, as it were. And hatred is the thing I hate; no man can keep his dome on straight and be accounted fully sane if he has hatred in his brain.

Sane and sensible Americans would like to see a readjustment of wages that will enable all alike to meet conditions without lowering living standards. But when a few undertake by force to better their own welfare at the expense of the many they may be expected to see the wrath of public sentiment coming down upon them like a whirlwind.—[Baltimore American.

What was needed at Canton, O., to prevent disorder was not troops, for which many people were calling, but a new Mayor, and Gov. Cox met the situation by removing the incumbent and appointing a successor who put things to rights at once. A Mayor equal to his office is worth a regiment, but how many such are there?—[New York World.

DISMEMBERMENT?

Why the Pines of Maine are Shivering.

BY C. F. HAYDEN.

Sir Andrew MacPhail, distinguished Canadian veteran and publicist, is casting covetous eyes on Maine. In a recent article in the University Magazine of Montreal he invokes Article XIX on the treaty of Versailles as providing the way whereby Northern Maine could be turned over to Canada, thereby giving Canada an outlet to the sea and avoiding future causes of war. Article XIX reads as follows:

> The Assembly may from time to time advise the reconsideration by members of the League of treaties which have become inapplicable and the consideration of international conditions whose continuance might endanger the peace of the world.

So, while world affairs are being adjusted, Sir Andrew naively suggests that now would be an appropriate time for a change in the boundary line. He is confident that the proposition will "appeal to the just and generous nature of the people of the United States," for it will give to Canada "what is of little value to the people of the United States and of life importance to Canada."

As he pleasantly dreams of this acquisition of territory the Canadian writer dwells at length on geographical conditions and Canada's need of an outlet to the Atlantic through its own territory. He says that the all-Canadian route via the St. Lawrence River is closed several months in winter and that the Canadian Pacific, Grand Trunk and Intercolonial Railways pass through Maine territory to reach the Canadian port of St. John, N. B.

Sir Andrew's proposal is to take 8000 square miles from the northern portion of Maine, the territory to include the whole of Aroostook county and portions of Piscataquis, Penobscot and Somerset counties. He suggests as a simple method to bring about the cession that the United States government refer the matter to the inhabitants of the area which he proposes to take, with a recommendation that they should elect to constitute themselves a province of Canada. Those who elect otherwise, he suggests, should have their property expropriated and equitably paid for out of Federal funds.

The Canadian writer prefers to confine his discussion of the expediency of readjusting the boundary line to the general, fact-ignoring statement that the 8000 square miles of territory are of vital importance to Canada and of little value to the United States.

Sir Andrew MacPhail's astonishing proposal is couched so courteously, it teems with such warm expressions of good will and friendliness that it would be impolite indeed to boisterously ridicule or denounce it, yet it is too much to expect the stalwart sons of Maine and 100,000,000 other interested citizens of the United States to take it seriously.

Rather is it an opportunity for the people of Northern Maine to do some effective advertising by quoting some of the details that the distinguished Canadian's sense of delicacy caused him to omit. It might be cited that Aroostook county, the largest county in the State of Maine, is the greatest potato-producing county in the country. Los Angeles county has stood pre-eminent among the counties of the United States in the value of its agricultural products for many years except for one year, when the enormous Aroostook potato crop put the big Northern Maine county on a par with it.

Moosehead Lake is one of the nation's best-known assets as a fishing and outing resort. That body of water and countless other lakes and ponds in Northern Maine constitute a paradise for hunters, fishermen and health-seekers. The network of lakes, rivers and streams form an asset that cannot be computed in dollars and cents. They furnish energy to turn the wheels of industry. In their flow toward the Atlantic Ocean they bear millions upon millions of logs from gigantic spruce and fir forests. Sawing the logs into lumber and shipping them to other ports is a big industry in the city of Bangor, as is the conversion of spruce logs into paper.

Delightful books that have a place in American literature have been written of the glories of Maine and have been eagerly read and admired. Shall they be revised?

How shall a satisfactory substitute be found for the earnest orator who for generations has defied his audience to produce "from Kittery to Fort Kent" a man who could prove him wrong, if Fort Kent shall be swallowed up in a Canadian province? Where shall be located the historic rockpile that Tom Phair, the "starch king," bought from Yankee farmers at fifty cents a barrel?

No. Sir Andrew's proposal is not the right prescription to bring peace, harmony and acquiescence from everybody concerned. His diagnosis is wrong and his appraisal of the value of Northern Maine not at all acceptable.

AIN'T IT JUST SO?

Prof. Dink Beeson says that
When the city of Boston was a Mere burg the cows going to and
From pasture, cowlike made croo-
Ked winding paths, and later the Bostonians followed the same win-
Ding paths until they became the Crooked streets for which Boston
Is famous and he says the most
Of our human institutions grow
Up in the same haphazard fashion
And when we go to law the lawyers
Follow a lot of the winding paths
Padded out by the unsteady feet
Of our forbears five hundred
Years and more ago, and ditto
The doctors, and one might al-
Most say, ditto the preachers
And even the language we speak,
With the greatest vocabulary and Possibilities of expression of
Any the world has known, was Built up about rules of pronun-
Ciation so crooked that not e-

Selves are able to agree as to
The number of sounds in it.

Bullet Ends Pair's Brief Bliss.

Theodore W. Rowland (U.S.N.) and Bride, Now Widow.

LOCAL SAILOR RIOT VICTIM.

the war was in the transport service where he was promoted to the rank of first-class petty officer. When the armistice was signed he surrendered his rank to learn the sail-making trade in the navy.

He was married in New York January 3, 1919. A child was born to this union on the 17th inst., but only lived for a short time. The father's death occurred on the following day. When the sad news was broken to the sorrowing mother last night all she could say was: "He was all I had in the world, and he was so far away."

According to a letter, which she received a few days ago, young Rowland expected the New Orleans to leave Vladivostok for the Philippines about December 10, and from there she was to head for home.

FOR PAST COMMANDERS.

Sons of Veterans Also Go on Record as Opposing Radicalism.

A Past Commanders' Club of Sons of Veterans is being organized in Southern California, and a special committee of three, composed of past commanders, was appointed yesterday by Gen. W. S. Rosecrans Camp No. 2 of Los Angeles, to assist in the organization work by making necessary arrangements and to call a meeting of all past camp and division commanders. The preliminary meeting will be held, Monday evening, in Patriotic Hall.

The Sons of Veterans of Los Angeles placed themselves on record Monday night as being unconditionally opposed to all form of radicalism, when they adopted a resolution condemning the I.W.W. and the anarchists of this city and country.

FOR ST. AGNES PARISH.

Young Ladies' Sodality is to Have First Sale in Three Years.

A Christmas sale to raise funds for the St. Agnes Parish will be held by the Young Ladies' Sodality of St. Agnes Church at West Adams street and Vermont avenue, November 24, 25 and 26.

During the sale, which is to be the first one held by the Young Ladies' Sodality in three years, a big entertainment will be provided for each evening. The women of the parish, who are offering their co-operation to its success, have resolved that their Christmas sale is to be the most most successful event in the history of the church, it was stated yesterday.

GUILTY OF ASSAULT.

After hearing testimony yesterday in Judge Willis's court in the trial of Salvadore Lunetta, accused of assault with a deadly weapon, a jury found the defendant guilty of simple assault. He was charged with attacking Joseph Despart, a store-keeper, with a revolver.

VALLEY RAIN BEATS SEASON.

Imperial's Total Already is Nearly Three Times that of Last Year.

Rain in the Imperial Valley yesterday brought the total precipitation there for this year up to nearly three times the amount for the entire season last year.

While the storm was not great enough to cause any particular damage it caused roads to be in bad condition and made automobile travel difficult.

Rainfall of yesterday and comparative figures follow:

WOMEN HOLD BAZAAR AT CRITTENTON HOME.

CLUBS AID IN RAISING FUNDS FOR WORK AND PLAN FOR ENDOWMENT DRIVE.

With the co-operation of a number of local clubs, the Florence Crittenton Home, at a bazaar given in its grounds Wednesday, raised $310 for the continuance of its work. The officers of the home, which is at 234 East Avenue 33, stated that the bazaar was very successful.

Various organizations of the city had tables, on which their contributions were sold. From the table which contained articles made by the women of the home $50 was obtained. Other tables were supplied by the McKinley P.-T.A., Harvard Girls' Club, West Side Ebell, South Side Book and Needle Club, Slauson Club, and the Hollywood Woman's Club. The bazaar was in charge of Mrs. Eugene Cohn. She was assisted by Mrs. J. Willard Edgar and Mrs. Henry M. Hurd.

It is the purpose of the officers to secure an endowment fund with which to carry on the work of the home. This, they say, will make the drives for funds each year unnecessary as a permanent amount will be at the command of the home. The campaign to secure this will be started shortly, it is said.

SEEK ACCOUNTING ON BUILDING WORK HERE.

INVENTORS SUE ON AGREEMENT FOR SPRINKLERS IN UNION TERMINAL BUILDING.

Naming F. H. Wurster, Chester L. Wurster, Harry E. L. Mebius and Gerald Fitzgerald as defendants, Ralph Bowers and F. O. Lanciaux filed suit yesterday asking for an accounting of the proceeds for installing automatic sprinklers. It is alleged that the defendants controlled the Acme Automatic Sprinkler Company and the Wurster Construction Company. The plaintiffs say that they were negotiating for putting in sprinkling systems in the Union Terminal Buildings which were under construction in 1917. They were told they must organize a corporation to take over and fulfill the contract and that they did so, the defendants taking a controlling interest.

The corporation was called the Acme Automatic Sprinkler Company, and it is alleged that instead of using that corporation to obtain the contract, the defendants formed the Wurster Construction Company, the plaintiffs having no interest in it, and installed the sprinkling system in the terminal buildings, also in a building on Hill street.

The plaintiffs are represented by Attorneys R. J. O. Culver and Paul Nourse. The defendants deny the allegation. The proceeds for installing the sprinklers, aggregated $172,215. The plaintiffs are inventors.

INSPECT RAMONA AUXILIARY.

Ramona Auxiliary, No. 3, Sons of Veterans, was inspected Monday night by President Bickles. Members of Phil Kearney Auxiliary, No. 3, from Pasadena, were present. Another visitor was Lydia T. Ward, national vice-president of the auxiliary. On Tuesday night Mrs. E. B. Taylor entertained the "Busy Bees" of Ramona Auiliary, who are planning a bazaar in Patriotic Hall December 16. Election of officers will be held Monday, December 1.

HOLD FOUR MEN FOR RAILROAD ROBBERIES.

POLICE CHARGE FREIGHT WAS THROWN FROM CARS TO BE PICKED UP LATER.

Four men charged with robbing box cars between San Bernardino and this city of more than $2000 worth of merchandise were arrested by Detectives Fitzgerald and Marshall in an apartment house at Second and Los Angeles streets last night. They are Lawrence B. Young, a mechanic; Poley Roberts, a laborer; Richard Burke, a baker and Leo Smith, a laborer. All were held in the City Jail on a burglary charge, but will be turned over to the Federal authorities for prosecution on charges of having robbed freight cars in interstate commerce.

Their alleged mode of operation was to board box cars bound for Los Angeles at San Bernardino and to throw out merchandise while en route to this city. After they reached Los Angeles, they would return in an automobile along the railroad right of way and collect their loot, the officers charge. The police say that they have operated in this manner for the past month. Most of the alleged thefts were of shoes and wearing apparel.

SEEK WOMAN'S RELATIVES.

Mrs. Eliza Sanders, 67 years of age, died suddenly yesterday at her apartment at 122 North Hope street. The body is at the undertaking rooms of E. E. Overholtzer Sons Co., 1236 South Grand avenue. Mrs. Sanders leaves a nephew and perhaps other relatives in this city, but efforts to get into communication with them last night were unsuccessful. She worked at a shirt waist factory at 733 South Broadway. The relatives are asked to communicate with the undertakers.

COMES TO BE TRIED.

Youth Makes Trip from Iowa to Answer Auto Theft Charge.

Alfred Killerbrun, accused of stealing an automobile belonging to George Hester, had to come here from Twin Falls, Iowa, for his trial yesterday, before Judge Willis.

He was arrested here on August 27, with L. Fratella, Harry Schirmer and Mrs. Lillian Miller of Twin Falls. The two youths and Mrs. Miller, a widow, were released and permitted to return. Schirmer admitted, on examination yesterday, that he testified falsely in a previous hearing. He was warned to "stick to the truth" by the judge.

ENGLISH GIRL'S TO WED BUSINESS MAN.

Coming as a surprise to their friends, Miss Eliza Jamgochian, a student at the college of music, U. S.C., and Hovsep B. Ignatius, local business man, will be married tomorrow at the home of the bride-elect's parents, 1905 San Fernando road, Glendale.

Miss Jamgochian came to Los Angeles from Manchester, Eng., a short time ago. Mr. Ignatius is an importer of oriental rugs and a member of the Los Angeles Athletic Club. Plans for the honeymoon have not been announced.

LOSES DOG SUIT.

A dismissal was filed in Judge Houser's court yesterday in the suit of Ida Kadish against Edgar A. Griffin for $5000 damages as the result of having been bitten by a dog owned by Mr. Griffin. Mr. Griffin charged that the plaintiff teased the dog.

NEW PSYCHOPATIC ASSOCIATION HEAD.

DR. BRAINERD ELECTED WITH OTHER OFFICERS AT A MEETING HERE.

The Psychopathic Association of California, at its regular meeting held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. James, 521 Shatto Place, elected the following officers: Dr. H. G. Brainerd, president; Judge Louis W. Myers, vice-president; W. S. James, secretary; board of directors, Franklin Booth, Judge Paul J. McCormick, Judge Sidney N. Reeve, Dr. Charles L. Allen, Dr. Ross Moore, Dr. E. H. Williams, Mrs. O. P. Clark, Mrs. Carry Parsons Bryant and Mrs. W. S. James. Mrs. Elizabeth Maw was elected corresponding secretary.

Reports of Dr. H. A. Sutherland on the progress of psychological work in the public schools and of Dr. Martha Hackett on the beginning of modern treatment of the insane in China were read at the meeting.

CAME FIFTY YEARS AGO.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

REDLANDS, Nov. 20.—There was marked today in this city the fiftieth anniversary of the arrival of the oldest surviving pioneer of Redlands, and one of the prominent men of the county, John B. Glover, who for twenty-four years has been a Supervisor for the county, arrived here with his wife and two daughters.

Mr. Glover came to California in the early sixties. He farmed near Ukiah. He was told of government land near San Bernardino, and in 1869 came here and settled on a 160-acre tract along what is now Pioneer avenue. He planted orange trees, seedlings, that a few years ago were budded over to navels, which at that time had not been discovered. Fields of alfalfa were planted, as were also acres of apples, peaches and apricots. The fruit was dried and sold to buyers who came overland from Los Angeles, San Bernardino then being the trading town of the section.

Mr. Glover cast his first vote in the county in 1872. At that time there were 1300 voters in the county, which was the original county as obtained before Riverside county was formed.

In a short time other settlers made their appearance, Mr. Glover being one of the first to file on land in this section. At Crafton Retreat was established Byron Craft and his family. Tom Morris and family and Charles Paine and family also lived in the Crafton section. Mr. Glover proved up his 160-acre tract, then farmed near Crafton for a time, and later entered the mercantile business in Redlands.

A few years after he came here the pioneer residents wanted to form a school district, and C. H. Paine suggested "Lugonia," in honor of the Lugo family, that at one time owned the whole valley. This was done, and the first settlement was called Lugonia. In 1888, by popular vote, it was decided to incorporate under the name of Redlands.

Mr. Glover was for seven years a Water Commissioner for the county, and for six years he was a trustee of the Lugonia School District. He was chairman of the County Supervisors for eight years, a record never equaled. When Redlands was incorporated he was made a City Trustee, with E. G. Judson, H. H. Sinclair, C. N. Andrews and B. W. Cave. L. W. Clark was City Clerk and R. J. Waters attorney. In his twenty-four years as Supervisor he has taken part in great expenditures and improvements for the county.

During the fifty years that they have been here, Mr. and Mrs. Glover have seen and participated in the growth of Redlands from a sparsely-settled community to a city of 11,000; they have seen the orange-growing industry develop from a few boxes to 5000 cars; they have watched the building of three big railroad lines into the South, the building of the trolley, the coming of the automobile and of the airplane. They saw electrical energy developed here in the Redlands Electric Light and Power Company, the first on the Coast to develop power in the mountains and transmit it a long distance.

Mr. Glover is now Supervisor, but has announced to his friends that he has done his bit, and will retire. He and Mrs. Glover now live at 32 Nordina street in this city.

CHURCH WORKERS CONDUCT SURVEY.

PART OF INTERDENOMINATIONAL MOVEMENT STARTS AT POMONA.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

POMONA, Nov. 20.—Pomona not only has the honor of numbering among its residents the secretary of the Los Angeles county council of the interchurch world movement, as well as one of the directors of that organization, but also is the center of the first local survey council to be formed in the county organization, the three larger cities, Los Angeles, Pasadena and Long Beach being formed outside the county unit plan.

The local survey council was formed today, with a score of ministers present, representing all the Protestant denominations of the Pomona Valley. The gathering was called to order by Dr. Walter C. Buskner, pastor of the First Methodist Church of this city, who is the county chairman of the interchurch world movement. The meeting was held in the Holt-Avenue Methodist Church, South, whose pastor, Dr. Joel F. Hergpeth, is one of the directors of the county organization.

Rev. S. C. Clark, Jr., rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church of this city, was appointed chairman of the permanent organization; Dr. Hedgpeth, secretary, and Rev. T. H. Broad, pastor of the United Brethren Church of La Verne, district surveyor. The district includes this city, Claremont, La Verne and San Dimas.

TO ASK BOND ISSUE.

City Officials of Ontario Plan Elaborate Improvements.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

ONTARIO, Nov. 20.—Voters of Ontario are to be asked in the near future to ballot on the question of bonding the city in the amount of $116,000 for the acquisition of more water-bearing land and water equipment, for additional fire-fighting apparatus and for the purchase and maintenance of an additional city park. It was announced today, following a meeting of the City Council at which the bond proposition was discussed.

In talking over the proposition, the Council members estimated $50,000 as sufficient for water department improvements, $25,000 for the fire department, and $35,000 for a new city park. It is planned to have a camping ground, properly equipped for auto tourists, in connection with the proposed park. Several sites are under consideration.

BOUNDARY DISPUTE.

New Dividing Line Said to Hamper Flood Control.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

ONTARIO, Nov. 20.—Boundary lines established at the last session of the State Legislature between San Bernardino and Los Angeles counties are to be tested as to their legality, it was announced here today, following the discovery by Los Angeles county authorities, it is alleged, that by the recent adjustment that county lost a portion of the headwaters of the San Antonio creek, to the north of Ontario.

It is said that San Bernardino county rejected the first proposal of Los Angeles for a boundary adjustment because Los Angeles county's plan would take Camp Paldy and power houses in San Antonio canyon into that county. The result was that an agreement was finally reached to have the boundary follow section lines, there being an exchange of territory.

The discovery, however, that a portion of the headwaters of San Antonio creek now lies in San Bernardino county, interferes with the plans of Los Angeles county to work out a conservation and flood control plan and an action to test the legality of the boundary legislation is to be the result.

The San Bernardino County Board of Supervisors have instructed Dist.-Atty. T. W. Duckworth to seek to establish the legality of the lines as fixed by the Legislature.

OFFICIALS MEET WITH HARBOR BUSINESS MEN

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LOS ANGELES HARBOR, Nov. 20.—All the members of the Los Angeles City Council, accompanied by Police Chief Home, Fire Chief Scott, other city officials, and General Manager Titcomb of the Pacific Electric, were guests of the San Pedro Chamber of Commerce at a luncheon here today.

The bodies met to discuss the expenditure of taxes, changing of names of city streets, and other important matters. All the members of the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce handed in their resignations at the luncheon, this being in accordance with a decision reached several weeks ago to give the new members under the reorganization plan an opportunity to name the directors.

A majority of the councilmen expressed the sentiment that street names in the harbor district would not be changed unless local residents so agreed. Although members of the Chamber of Commerce declared the city had expended only a small portion of the $185,000 in taxes collected in San Pedro, Councilman Mallard said he believed more money had been expended here than collected. He said he would have the city auditor prepare a statement showing the collection and expenditure of tax money.

POLICE HOLD OPIUM.

Consignment Valued at $5000 is Unclaimed at San Diego.

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 20.—Opium valued at $5000, which is said to have made its surreptitious journey from China to San Diego unmolested, is now in the hands of the city police. A leather suit case containing the opium, checked from San Francisco, has been awaiting a claimant at the union station for five days under close observation by officers, but the owner did not appear.

ARRANGE TO CARE FOR FLOOD WATER.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LONG BEACH, Nov. 20.—According to estimates made today by city officials a pilot channel from Fourth street to the ocean, connected with Cerritos slough and capable of carrying off ordinary flood waters, will be completed within two or three weeks. Two dredgers are at present working at top speed to complete this portion of the county flood control channel before the advent of another heavy rain.

FORM MILITARY COMPANY.

Asking permission from Adjt.-Gen. Borres at Sacramento to form a National Guard company in this city, W. E. Bayles, returned service man, today circulated a petition to form such an organization. "For the purpose of preserving law and order and for the purpose of promoting red-blooded Americanism," Mr. Bayles expects to enroll about 200 men in the company, although 100 is all that is needed under the State National Guard regulations.

QUANTITY PRODUCTION

Mrs. A. Wadams of 1944 Myrtle avenue, is today exhibiting to her neighbors three little chicks hatched from a single egg. The triplets were born in an incubator and are doing well. Mrs. Wadams possesses a breed of large chickens and says she has often found double and triple yolks in the eggs laid by her hens.

SAN PEDRO TO HONOR TEACHER.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LOS ANGELES HARBOR, Nov. 20.—Funeral services will be held at the Episcopal Church here at 2 p.m. Friday for the late Prof. Ralph C. Daniels, principal of the San Pedro High School, and one of the best-known and best-loved citizens of the harbor district.

Prof. Daniels passed away suddenly Tuesday afternoon, after an illness of three days, and is survived by a widow and four children. At a special meeting of the San Pedro Chamber of Commerce, held today, resolutions of condolence were drafted and an order adopted, closing all local stores during the hour of the funeral.

Mr. Daniels was principal of the San Pedro High School since 1912, coming here from the Manual Arts High School, where he had been vice-principal since the establishment of the school.

CHURCH WORKERS HOLD ANNUAL CONVENTION.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

ONTARIO, Nov. 20.—The annual convention of the Sunday schools of the Ontario district, including also those of Upland, Chino, Etiwanda, Narod, Cucamonga and Alta Loma, is to be held tomorrow in Westminster Presbyterian Church with the president, Earl V. Jacobs of Chino, presiding.

Speakers of the convention will include Hugh C. Gibson, State secretary; Mrs. Gentry, State superintendent of elementary division; the Reverend R. C. Stone of Upland and Dr. J. Harvey Deere of Pomona.

The sunday-school having the largest percentage of its enrollment in attendance at the convention will be awarded a banner

MEXICAN BEAUTY TIRES OF HUBBY.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

EL CENTRO, Nov. 20.—Double crossing her Hindu husband and adding $1000 to her wealth Maria Hernandez, prominent Mexican society woman and dark-skinned beauty, disappeared last evening leaving hubby in a battered condition.

It happened this way, according to the officers:

Maria was the reigning belle of Nogales, Ariz., and about a month ago along came Mohammed Abdulla in search of a wife. Maria cost him $1000 in cold cash and prising his $1000 wife very highly he brought her to the Nels Jacobson ranch about five miles east of Imperial.

Last night a call for help brought Deputy Sheriffs Cummings and Mallack to the scene. They found Abdulla lying in bed, with his head and body black and blue from the effects of a beating. According to hubby's story he and friend wife were sleeping peacefully and he awoke in the middle of the night by the pain caused from the beating. Wifey was gone, also the $1000.

The deputies inspected the surrounding turf and found three foot prints, one a dainty barefoot, size "five" and two larger ones of pronounced Mexican type. The lady left in such a hurry that her clothing was still lying on the chair and only a sleeping robe protected her from the cold.

Also the $1000 was gone.

A waiting automobile carried them away leaving no trace.

REDUCE BEAN PRICES.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA BARBARA, Nov. 20.—Ranchers of Lompoc have plans for a $70,000 mustard mill, which will be in operation, they say, in time to handle the 85,000-bag mustard crop of 1920. The growers are also working out a new system of marketing their bean crops, which, they declare, will cut out the middleman and result in reducing the cost of living so far as this crop is concerned, the growers expecting to sell 40,000 sacks of beans monthly throughout the year direct to the consumer.

The Lompoc Bean Growers' Association now includes practically all the growers of that section. They have agreed to reduce the acreage in beans next year and to increase by 60 per cent the acreage in mustard, and expect to produce a 85,000-sack crop, as compared to 35,000 this year.

The bean-marketing plan they are now developing provides for fifty distributing points throughout the country. Arrangements will be made at each of these points to sell one carload of beans a month direct to the retail grocers. The scheme is expected to reduce the retail cost at least 50 per cent. The beans will be shipped from Lompoc in five and ten-pound sacks, ready for the shelves of the retailers.

WILDE SIGNS TO MEET SHARKEY.

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—Jimmy Wilde, the English fly-weight champion, signed articles of agreement here today to meet Jack Sharkey of this city in a ten-round bout at Milwaukee December 6. The weight is to be 116 pounds ringside, Sharkey posting a forfeit.

was more intensive than now, and this was one of the chief objections to the game as then played. Sometimes, ill effects from the hard conditioning and the strain of the games themselves became evident in after life.

AT FEVER HEAT.

During the training period columns appeared daily regarding the work of the two elevens. Experts not only analyzed each team, but each player individually. Their work was followed as closely as that of a championship boxer in training. The day of the game always found interest at fever heat throughout the West.

All other contests in which Stanford and California engaged were merely preliminary to the big Thanksgiving event between the Cardinal and the Blue and Gold. The teams of the Northwest, which now, because of their superiority, are chosen to represent the Coast at Pasadena on New Year's, were then not considered, in the same class with California and Stanford. Occasionally, but not very often, Southern California elevens were accorded the honor of a practice game with the bulky northerners. It never was regarded as a contest and seldom resulted in one.

THINGS CHANGED.

Conditions since then have changed, and the south probably now is nearer on a par with the north in football than ever before. This is partly due to the development of the new game, which makes weight less of a factor, while competent coaches are more plentiful than formerly. As in baseball, knowledge of the finer points of the game has become more widespread. Walter Camp and a small coterie of others formerly were regarded as having a corner on all the football worth knowing. Then, of course, the advent of Rugby set both Stanford and California back several years in a football sense.

Another year or two, and possibly more, must elapse, before either of Prexy of American League to Stand on Rights.

Annual Meeting is to be Held in Chicago.

Ban Promises Snarl will be All Ironed Out.

BY I. E. SANBORN.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—Whatever else happens, the official annual meeting of the American League will be held in Chicago on a date yet to be fixed by President Johnson, according to the constitution of that organization. That was the dominant feature of the American League executive's reply to the action of three of the league's directors in New York Wednesday when they announced they had called the annual meeting to be held at the Biltmore Hotel, New York, on December 10.

There may be two "annual meetings" of the American League, but if so the one called by the three directors will be attended only by themselves or their representatives. The other five clubs will convene in this city either on the first Wednesday or the second Tuesday in December, whichever date is named by the president.

DEMAND ON BAN.

At the last meeting of Charles A. Comiskey, Jacob Ruppert and Harry Frazee, a letter was addressed to President Johnson demanding that he submit the records and documents of the league to Nicholas F. Lenssen for inspection, as representative of the three directors. This will not be done, Mr. Johnson said today, as there is no way to compel him to disclose the affairs of the organization, to take anyone not affiliated with the league.

If Messrs. Comiskey, Ruppert and Frazee, individually or collectively, desire to inspect the records and archives of the American League they are welcome to do so as directors or club owners, but no outsider will be granted that privilege. The league executive will stand on the constitution in that matter.

TO A "SHOWDOWN."

Everything points to a final "showdown" between the two factions of the American League next month and a possible clearing of the atmosphere in time to get ready for the season of 1920. If not, the future of the American League does not look rosy.

In a statement issued from his residence, to which he still is confined by an infection in one of his feet, President Johnson said:

"The constitution expressly provides when and where our annual meeting shall be held. Messrs. Comiskey, Ruppert and Frazee know that well enough and it is not necessary for me to say anything farther on that point. They have called a meeting without any authority because they do not possess the moral or physical courage to attend a session with the other five club owners in the league.

PLANS IN FORMATION FOR A RUGBY LEAGUE.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Nov. 20.—A last attempt to perpetuate the game of Rugby will probably be made by the formation of a Northern California Rugby League. Tentative plans for the formation of such a league were announced today by Dr. A. D. Browne, physical director, and Trainer Harry Maloney of Stanford University. The league, if present negotiations are completed, will be composed of Stanford, the University of California, Santa Clara University, the Olympic Club, and the Anzac Club of Davis Farm School.

CRIMSON TEAM READY FOR YALE WARRIORS.

CAMBRIDGE (Mass.) Nov. 20.—The Harvard varsity eleven that is to meet Yale in the stadium here Saturday, left late today for Manchester, where they are to be quartered at the Essex Country Club until their return for the game.

Although the line-up was not announced, Coach Fisher said that Jack Desmond would be replaced at left end by Morris Phinney. The team will rest at the Country Club and will be given only the lightest practice.

Glendale and Citrus to Meet in League Finals.

U.S.C. Votes to Enter Pacific Coast Conference.

Golf Association Holds Annual Meeting Today.

BY KAY OWE.

Occidental and Pomona tangle in a death fight for the Southern Conference football championship tomorrow afternoon. The game will be played at Claremont and the Sage Hens are entering the conflict a favorite.

Both schools are planning big rallies for tonight. It is a cinch that every student, faculty member, alumni and thousands of interested fans will be on hand to take a vocal part in the struggle tomorrow. Special cars over the Pacific Electric will leave Los Angeles at noon Saturday and will go direct to Claremont.

Coach Stanton's Tigers are in excellent shape for the game. They have had light work-outs during the week and are on edge for their toughest contest.

Coach Nixon's Pomona outfit have a decided advantage as far as dope goes. But many football bugs are counting on "Fox" Stanton's strategy to outpoint Nixon's better material. It is a safe bet that the Tiger-Sage Hen game will be one of the hardest fought in the South this season.

The Central League football finalists, Glendale and Citrus Union, meet this afternoon at Glendale to decide the champion. Citrus Union has made a remarkable showing this year and its goal line has not been crossed in a league contest. The winner will meet Fullerton, best in the Orange League, at Santa Ana November 29.

The proposition of entering the Pacific Coast football conference was voted favorably on by the athletic committee at U.S.C. yesterday. The conference has expressed a desire to have U.S.C. enter its ranks. This will give Southern California representation in a conference which includes California, Stanford, University of Washington, Washington State, Oregon and Oregon Aggies.

Hollywood defeated Los Angeles High School in the lightweight football league yesterday afternoon. The score was 20 to 7. The game was speedy but numerous fumbles on both sides marred the play. Fred Johnson's youngsters played like a bunch of hams, (according to the coach, himself at) the start of the game but tightened up toward the finish and gave a creditable exhibition of football.

Cliff Herd, father of the U.S.C. freshman football team, will match his babes with Polytechnic this p.m., on Bovard field. Herd has whacked a lot of football into his infants and expects them to run all kinds of circles and parabolas around the high school team.

The Southern California Golf Association will meet today at noon at the California Club. Officers will be elected for the coming year. Dates will be set for the Southern California amateur golf championship,

GIBBONS FAVORITE OVER O'DOWD.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ST. PAUL (Minn.) Nov. 20.—Middleweight Champion Mike O'Dowd and Mike Gibbons, the St. Paul phantom, today completed training for their ten-round bout here Friday night, so far as boxing is concerned. Both fighters declared they were at weight and in top-notch condition.

Twin City newspapers announced that the prevailing odds have increased to 10 to 7 on Gibbons.

the woman's championship and the professional championship. Dates for the various inter-club matches will also be scheduled. It is expected that several new golf clubs will apply at the meeting for membership in the association.

The McKinley night school basketball team defeated the Central Intermediate School last night, to 14 to 6.

This match between Allie Nack and Chet Neff at Jack Doyle's Vernon Arena tonight ought to be a bear. Both boys are boxers and Nack is blessed with a punch that spells ruin if he ever gets it going.

ILLINOIS IS IN FINE SHAPE FOR CONTEST.

URBANA (Ill.) Nov. 20.—Football practice at the University of Illinois last night indicated the team will be in excellent condition for the titular battle at Columbus, O., Saturday.

Ralph Fletcher, star half-back, was out in uniform. His dexterity in kicking goals from the field should place him on a plane with Harley and a great battle is expected between the two.

YUMA (Ariz.) Nov. 20.—Jack Johnson, former heavyweight champion of the world, has been matched to fight Carl Morris, of Tulsa, Okla., at San Luis, fourteen miles south of here, in Mexico, according to announcement tonight by Al Jones, Yuma boxing promoter. The bout will be held in December, the exact date to be announced later, Jones said. It will be a finish fight.

Frank Moy vs. Jack Rooney, 153 pounds.

Battling Rudie vs. Kid Romeo, 135 pounds.

Sidney White vs. Pat Quigley, 118 pounds.

"Wad" Wadhams, matchmaker for the Vernon Athletic Club, has passed up skill for slugging in the card arranged for tonight, and has given 135-pounders prefuseance all along the line.

Allie Nack and Chet Neff, a pair of rough-neck artists, are lined up for the main event. With all his roughness, Nack is a clever boxer, and a world of action is promised.

JAP IRON MAN.

The semi-windup looks just as promising as the main event, Togo Korriyama, the Jap iron man, being matched with Jimmy Marshall, the Sacramento 135-pounder, who has made something of a hit by his willingness to meet all the rough ones. It will be the Jap's first appearance here in a couple of years, but he has been training hard, and is in good shape.

Louie Rees, who seems to have taken a new lease on life, will meet Gene Watson in the fourth bout on the card. It will be a boxer against a slugger, a good combination from the standpoint of the spectators.

COACHES SELECT ALL-CITY FOOTBALL TEAM.

BY PAUL LOWRY.

The All-City team has been picked by a vote of the coaches—the men who know the worth and value of a player better than any one else. Each of the eight mentors who had teams in the City League were asked to name their choices for a mythical all-star team, and those receiving the most ballots are the ones who have been placed in the positions.

It so happens in the case of the ends and the tackles that the men nominated played on the same side of the line. We have merely switched the man receiving the lesser number of votes to the other side on the assumption that an end is an end no matter which side he plays on—the same holding true for the tackles.

Three men—Dolley of Long Beach, Cuddeback of Polytechnic and Lawson of Long Beach—have been unanimously elected as members of our team of stars. No one contested their claims.

Long Beach, the winner of the City League championship, has three men on the team, as has Polytechnic. Los Angeles follows with two men, and Manual, Pasadena and Hollywood have a man apiece in the charmed ranks.

One would judge by the unanimity with which the coaches awarded eight positions to men who played in section one of the league that the brand of football in that section was superior to that played in section two.

The guard positions proved to be the hardest problem for the tutors to solve. The difficulty was met by shoving men who played tackles into the holes on the other side of the center.

On the ends there are Lawson of Long Beach, who received eight votes, and Judson of Polytechnic, with four votes. Lawson was without a doubt the best flank man in the league. He is heavy, fast, a hard tackler, always down the field under punts, and cannot be turned in. Lawson is a college man in his play right now. Judson is a scrappy player, and knows how to take a man out of a play with a bang.

For tackles we have "Chuck" Johnson of Polytechnic (three votes) and Anderson of Los Angeles (seven votes.) Hufford of Manual received an equal number of votes as Johnston for tackle, but he was favored by three of the coaches for guard, so he is moved into that position and Johnston kept at tackle.

Mighty few plays gained ground either through or over Anderson and Johnston. "Dutch" Miller of Long Beach had he not been injured early in the season would no doubt have won a place on the team.

Hufford of Manual and Long of Pasadena get the guard positions. Both men have played tackle positions all season long, but both are natural guards. They would be a worthy pair to bolster up that scrappiest of all the season's prep players—Dennis of Los Angeles High. On the defense Dennis was without a peer. Rich of Long Beach perhaps has a shade on him on the offensive, but little Dennis is a bear when it comes to fathoming a play. The more credit is due him, for Dennis only came up from the scrub team the last two weeks of the season.

Behind the line two positions go to Dolley of Long Beach and Cuddeback of Poly without a quiver of opposition. Dolley as a quarter-back is a powerful line plunger, can always be depended on to come in at least a few yards with a punt, and knows how to handle his engine of attack in good shape.

Cuddeback has no rival as full-back. He hits the line low and hard, is reliable when it comes to booting field goals, and was the only prep player this year who could bump the oval over the distant goal line from the kickoff. A mighty handy man to have sticking around on any team.

The closest fight developed for left half. Here "Chunky" Davis of Hollywood is awarded the palm. He received four votes to Phil Tiernan's three. The strangest part of this is that Eddie Keinholtz, the Long Beach coach, voted for Tiernan before he did for LeFebvre. He says Tiernan is the man responsible for LeFebvre's gains, and that the latter is practically valueless as an interference runner. He only voted for LeFebvre, he says, because he saw no one else that was any better than LeFebvre. LeFebvre, therefore, gets the right half job with six votes.

One curious feature of the voting is shown by the choice of Emmons of Manual for a half-back position and as center. He played center in the game with Hollywood, and Coach Fred Johnson liked his work so well in that game that he cast a vote for him as a snapperback. Tommy Davis saw Emmons play quarter against Poly, and he immediately voted for Emmons as half-back on the strength of the redhead's play in that game.

Following is the team selected by a pool of the votes of the coaches:

CARDS BETTER IN RESERVES.

Evans Seems to Have it on Smith in this Line.

Stanford's Fighting Spirit may Win Out.

Teams, However, are Pretty Evenly Matched.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

STANFORD UNIVERSITY (Palo Alto) Nov. 20.—The two factors that are liable to offset California's machine-like attack and perfect defense in the big American football game between Stanford and the University of California, Saturday, are Stanford's fighting spirit and its ability to take advantage of the breaks in the game. Except for these two things, all indications tend to give the edge to the Blue and Gold.

Again, in the matter of reserve men in the substitute list, Coach "Bob" Evans has Andy Smith of California backed out. Whatever may be the value of the Blue and Gold's first-string men and their admitted superiority over the Cardinal, nevertheless, Smith is up against it when it comes to putting in substitutes. Both in the backfield and line, Evans can fill in with first-class men, while a loss of any of the Berkeley men from the first string is liable to be serious for the Blue and Gold.

ITS BEST TEAM.

Summarizing the dope on the game, it can be said that California will meet Stanford with the best football team they have had since playing the American game. The same is true of Stanford; in fact, they have a much better squad than was thought possible to turn out. And also, without a doubt, California has the edge, because the U.C. varsity is described best by the much-used term, a "well-oiled machine." In Stanford's play one may look for more of the erratic, with both brilliance and imperfections.

AN EVEN THING.

Past scores show very little, except that the teams are pretty evenly matched. Stanford won over O.A.C. on the Aggie gridiron, 14-6, when the Oregon men were overconfident. U.C. won from O.A.C., 21-14, on the California field, and probably played a tougher combination.

California won from St. Mary's, 19-0, and Stanford whipped the same crew, 34-0. The U.C. game was the big event of the St. Mary's season. Those are the only two games which show anything for comparative scores.

BLUE AND GOLD FANS SANGUINE.

Bear Rooters Sure Andy Smith's Lads will Cop.

Big Frosh Victory Gives Them Confidence.

Sprott, the Superman, may be in the Line-up.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

BERKELEY, Nov. 20.—With the entire seating capacity of the Stanford Field entirely sold out without the general public even getting a chance to buy tickets to the "Big Game," the resumption of football hostilities between Stanford and California bids fair to be "the" big intercollegiate football classic of the year on the Pacific Coast.

And as for the game itself, it bids fair to be a real fight from whistle to whistle regardless as to how the tide of battle is going.

SPIRITS HIGH.

Ever since the overwhelming defeat of the Standard freshmen last week at the hands of Capt. Charley Erb's Blue and Gold babes, spirit has been running high at the university. When the thousands of Blue and Gold rooters invade the Stanford campus Saturday they will go with all the confidence in the world in Coach Andy Smith's aggregation.

It was not the defeat of the Stanford babes in itself at the hands of the California first year men, but the way in which the much heavier Stanford team was entirely outclassed on the field that gives the California rooters their confidence. In last Saturday's game the Stanford players showed a great lack of teamwork and a lack of knowledge of the finer points of the game, and now the question arises in the minds of the Californians "Has the Stanford varsity been taught a more finished knowledge of the game than Coach Acker's freshmen?"

At least all hope so, for it will take more than the famous old Stanford fight to stop the California varsity in Saturday's game.

SPROTT MAY GO.

Another reason that has given the Californian's all the confidence in the world as to the outcome of the big game has been the announcement that "Pesky" Sprott would start the game at quarter against the Cardinals. Although Sprott has been out of the game all season, he has been getting into the scrimmages in practice during the last several weeks, and is again the sensational player that carried San Diego High to the State interscholastic championship in 1916 and that won him the honors as the best half-back on the Pacific Coast last year. "Pesky" is going again, and "Pesky" is going to make his presence felt against Stanford Saturday.

WELLS AT FULL.

Dummy Wells is certain to start the game at full, as he has been the Blue and Gold big bet all season when it comes to line bucking. Capt. Fred Brooks and Chad Rowe will in all probability be the two halves selected by Smith for the job, as they are both good ground gainers and Rowe is the best man on the team in shooting the forward passes.

Jimmie Cline is a fixture at right end. On the other end of the line either Engelbretson or Hall will start the game. As to the rest of the line, that will remain the same as it has throughout the season, with Cranmer and Majors at the tackles, Boucher and Fischer at guards and Latham at center.

FINAL WORKOUT.

Tuesday the California players went through their final scrimmage before the big game Saturday. During the rest of the week they will slack up on their work, spending most of their time in running through signal practice and attending Andy Smith's blackboard talks.

Otherwise, the stage is all set for the game, and unless all signs fail, the 20,000 fans who witness the game Saturday will see one glorious battle.

SPEED DEMONS KEYING UP.

The tickling of spark plugs, sputter of combusted gasoline and the space-killing hum of careering auto racers will be in order at Ascot Park Thursday afternoon, Thanksgiving Day. The occasion brings together a dozen or more of the fastest drivers in the world and a torrid race is sure to be the outcome. The contestants are at present keying themselves and their cars up to the sticking point and unless all signs fail a new fifty-mile record for a mile track will more than likely be made.

Promoter George Bentel announces that at least twelve cars have definitely been named to start. An effort is being made to rush a car from the East for Eddie Pullen to drive. Among the starters is Eddie Hearne the big speed sensation of the year with eight firsts to his credit.

LINE ON TUESDAY.

A good line on the relative cars and drivers will come Tuesday when the qualifying rounds are held. Each car must turn the track in 45 seconds, an average of 75 miles an hour. Tomorrow will be a busy practice day in preparation for the qualifications, which also will fix the starting positions.

A new combination to the fans will be Toland Nicholson and his Hudson Special. This wagon is said to be greased lightning. Nicholson is comparatively a new man to the speed game but has been going great guns in the East.

MOTOR CLASSIC.

The motor classic will begin about 3 o'clock, after the first two races of the horse programme have been run. Cars will be allowed to cross the track into the infield after each horse race.

Entries for America's All-Star Sweepstakes to be run at Ascot Speedway Thanksgiving Day are as follows: Roscoe Sarles, Frontenac; Eddie Hearne, Chevrolet Special; Cliff Durant, Chevrolet Special; Arthur H. Klein, Peugeot; Joseph Boyer, Frontenac; Kenneth Goodson, Frontenac; Jack Ross, Stutz; Eddie Pullen, not named; Joe Thomas, Frontenac; Toland Nicholson, Hudson; Ira Vail, Philbrin Special; Reeves Duton, Stutz; L. H. Kirkpatrick, Detroit Special.

these universities can fashion elevens approximating the greatness of those in the days of massed play. I refer to the teams coached by Camp, Yost, Butterworth, Cochran, "King" Kelley, Brooks, Cross, Heffelfinger, Bliss and others.

TRIM CHICAGO.

I remember seeing Stanford easily defeat the University of Chicago 12 to 0, and that year Stagg had a team which was rated as one of the best in the East. Another year California lost to Carlisle after a great battle, 2 to 0, on a safety. This was one of the most sensational football duels ever seen in the West.

A California man carrying the ball was literally picked up and thrown back over his own goal line by one of the giant redskins for the only score. Carlisle was then at its best with Hudson, Williams, Pierce, Metoxen and others. The redskins had swept through practically everything in the East and figured on decisively defeating California.

"KANGAROO" PETE.

In those days hurdling was permitted, and some of the backs were used as human catapults. California had a player who was especially powerful in this department. Because of his hurdling tactics, he was called "Kangaroo Pete" Kaarsberg. Metoxen was the only line-man who ever succeeded in stopping Kaarsberg. The first time Pete tried it against the Indians, Metoxen rose up and gave him the shoulder under the chin. Right there Pete lost all desire for the great outdoor sport of hurdling the other team's line, and California lost considerable of its ground-gaining force.

Smith, another California back, showed such power, that he was accorded the sobriquet, "Locomotive." Smith always was more or less of a mystery. Not particularly robust, he had exceptional line-smashing ability. He would hit the line with a force which would have done credit to a man double his weight, and it always seemed a miracle that he came through each game with an unfractured neck.

IT WAS SMITH.

A couple of years ago, a business-looking gent with ample girth and hair showing a tendency to thinness entered Washington Park. He was pointed out to me as "Locomotive" Smith. Otherwise, I wouldn't have known him on a bet.

The annual game formerly was played at the Folsom-street grounds in San Francisco, and before crowds of 30,000 or more. Later a rule was passed requiring the annual contest to be played on one campus or the other, and the graduate-coach system was adopted in preference.

DROP IN QUALITY.

However, for some reason, prior to the adoption of rugby, there was a decline in the quality of football. This became apparent when in 1902 Michigan defeated Stanford, 49 to 0. That was the year Yost had one of the greatest scoring machines of all time, and the game was more of a slaughter than a contest.

And speaking of the gent with the ample girth and thinning hair, in tomorrow's crowd there will be a scattering of obese gentlemen with gold-rimmed spectacles and possible side-whiskers, who will feel the thrill of battle as it is known to only the gridiron gladiators of another generation.

A Tall Hurt.

One day last summer in his hospital near Toul, France, the commanding officer of a Virginia hospital unit noticed a 6-foot negro with a huge foot swathed in mandages.

"Well, boy, does the foot hurt much this morning?" greeted the C. O. cheerfully.

"Hurt much!" snorted the negro indignantly. "Why Kunnel, fo' you to hu't as much as dat foot hu'ts me, you'd have tuh be shot clean up to de waist."—[American Legion Weekly.

sire to disgust the patrons of the American League with this sort of stuff. The whole affair will be ironed out before time to resume operations in 1920, and it will be ironed out so completely that there will be no recurrence of the kind.

"Neither baseball nor the American League profits by wrangles of this sort. The sport has enough to contend with right now, without this handicap. The other five members of the league have their rights and they are going to protect them by standing by their convictions to the finish. In the end the proper punishment will be meted out to the men who are doing so much to injure baseball and their league."

What Suggested It.

A certain colored gentleman in Mobile was left a widower in his old age. Not very long after he suddenly announced his intention to marry again, adding, apologetically:

"But, mah friend, Ah never would have thought of it if mah Louisa hadn't died."—[Harper's Magazine.

POMONA VS. SANTA ANA.

Tomorrow afternoon at 1 o'clock sharp the Pomona College Freshmen meet the Santa Ana High School eleven, the affair being in the nature of a preliminary to the Occidental-Pomona game. Once before this season the two squads have engaged in combat, the first contest ending in a 0-0 tie. The Peagreens have not lost a game so far this season, and the High School lads will have their hands full if they succeed in chalking up a black mark against the first-year crew.

The Santa Ana squad will be strengthened by the presence of several gridiron stars who, according to the High School League rules, were not eligible for the regular High School contests. Ament's proteges will be hampered by the absence of the big halfback, Phelps, whose punting and line-smashing abilities were counted on to be important factors in the freshman attack.

Doughty, the husky fullback, and Halfback Wilson, the Peagreen's captain, have been on the shelf from injuries received in the Redlands game; their condition is rapidly improving, however, and it is more than likely that the two backs will be able to start against the High School eleven. The rest of the first-year squad are in good condition.

PLAN BIG CITRUS GAME.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

REDLANDS, Nov. 20.—It has been definitely decided that one week from this afternoon Redlands and San Bernardino will battle on the local field for the Citrus Belt football championship. The decision came when San Bernardino defeated Riverside in one of the most exciting games of the whole season.

San Bernardino was beaten by a score of 7 to 3 until the last three minutes of play. Then the Gate City lads opened up with a bewildering passing and punt that won the ball sixty yards in the last two minutes.

Redlands and San [illegible] will probably play [illegible] thousands here on Thanksgiving for it is the most exciting game of the season. The winning line to play against Pasadena Beach for the championship of the south.

BOBBIE COE TO PLAY CHICAGO HALF-BACK.

CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—Bobbie Coe, University of Chicago half-back, today was restored to eligibility, having made up the deficiency in his studies that kept him out of the Michigan and Iowa games. He found a hard fight on his hands for a place on the team in the Wisconsin game next Saturday, however, as Buell Hutchinson proved a much better player than had been expected.

BASES FRAUD CHARGE ON PROFESSED LOVE.

WIFE ASKS ANNULMENT WHEN HUSBAND FINDS HE CAN LIVE WITHOUT HER.

Because he said he could not live without her before they were married and afterwards told her he did not love her, Mrs. Lillian May Bracken, before Judge Crail yesterday, asked that her marriage be annulled on the ground of fraud. The decree was denied. Mrs. Bracken's attorney said she would sue for divorce.

Mrs. Bracken came to Los Angeles from Seattle about seven months ago. After the marriage she said they went to the home of her mother. He wanted her to go to work, she said. She refused, and he said she would have to support herself.

"Before we were married he told me he loved me and would never give me up," said Mrs. Bracken. "After we were married he said he supposed my mother was wealthy and would support him."

A letter from Mr. Bracken was introduced. In it he advised her to run "around with the bunch. Maybe they will keep you this winter. They had better, because not a cent do you get from me. I'm through. I don't care if you starve to death. I've got a home to go to."

OPEN-SHOP LEADER GETS THREAT LETTER.

FEDERAL AUTHORITIES HUNT WRITER OF NOTE TO SAN PEDRO MERCHANT.

A threatening letter, signed "I.W.W.," was received yesterday by John M. Cannon, manager of the Johnson Dry Goods Company at San Pedro. It reads:

"You better get out quick or all is off. Move out before December 22, 1919."

The words are lettered in pencil on a narrow strip of foolscap paper. At the bottom of the strip, in the left-hand corner, are the letters "I. W.W." The address on the envelope is written in ink, but is almost illegible. On the back of the envelope an address is printed in small letters. Investigation proves the address to be a vacant lot.

Mr. Cannon has been very active in establishing the ope-shaw principle in San Pedro. At a meeting of the San Pedro Chamber of Commerce several weeks ago he introduced the resolution which announced San Pedro as an "open-shop" town. He has always been one of the leaders in the fight against the tyranny of labor unions and against I.W.W.ism.

The letter was turned over to Federal authorities, who are hunting for its author.

SUES MOTHER-IN-LAW FOR LOSS OF SPOUSE.

WIFE ENTICED AWAY, CHARGES FORMER SOLDIER, ASKING FOR HEAVY DAMAGES.

Harrison B. Moore, a Whittier rancher and ex-service man, asks in a suit filed yesterday against his mother-in-law, Mrs. Rua Haskin, a wealthy widow living at Whittier, $10,000 damages for the alleged enticement of his wife, Mabel R. Moore, to leave him. Mr. Moore saw service from April 25, 1918, to February 6, last. The complaint asserts that his mother-in-law began a campaign of enticement about the time he left the service.

Mrs. Moore recently filed suit for a divorce, and in alimony proceedings Mr. Moore declared he had given up to his wife most of the money he had earned since he left the service.

Both wanted the family automobile. Mrs. Moore stated she had purchased it. Mr. Moore declared she used his money to buy the machine. The court ordered that neither party should sell the machine until after the trial of the divorce suit.

TO RUN ALEXANDRIA.

John J. Hernan, Successor to Goodwin, Arrives.

Yesterday John J. Hernan arrived from Santa Barbara, where he has been resident manager of Hotel Belvedere, to assume a similar position at the Alexandria. He takes the place of Vernon Goodwin, who has been named by D. M. Linnard as vice-president of the Wilshire Boulevard Hotel Company, which controls both the Alexandria and California, now in the course of construction.

Mr. Hernan is well known on the Pacific Coast and has a large following among the winter visitors. Before going to Santa Barbara seven months ago he was for eleven years with Hotel del Coronado, most of the time as manager. He says that he is planning no changes of consequence at the Alexandria.

LASTED SIX WEEKS.

Frequent Quarrels Ended Married Life, City Employee Says.

The married life of Leon V. and Mary A. McCardle lasted six weeks, Mr. McCardle, an employee of the city, testified in divorce proceedings before Judge Crail yesterday. He said quarrels were frequent.

"I told her one night I was going out, and she said I need not come home. She was tired of cooking for me, anyway, she declared. The next morning she informed me she was going back to her folks. When I came home from work that night, she was gone," testified Mr. McCardle.

While he was in the army, he said, she drew his allotment, but did not go to see him in camp. Judge Crail granted the decree.

WILL HUNT BUSINESS IN FOREIGN FIELDS.

Julius Jacoby, manager of the Brownstein-Louis Company, made application yesterday for a passport to make an extended trip through Central and South America, on a trade-hunting expedition. He will visit Cuba while absent, and from there sail for England, intending to cover the cities of the British Empire in quest of business. Mr. Jacoby expects to sail from New York about the middle of December.

AT IRRIGATION CONFERENCE.

Supervisor Cogswell received from Gov. Stephens yesterday the appointment to represent the State at the national irrigation conference to be held in Salt Lake City today. Mr. Cogswell finds that he will not be able to attend the conference.

ARREST THREE AS PROFITEERS.

Conspiracy, Involving Sugar Sale, is Charged.

Was Accommodation Act, Says One; Others Won't Talk.

Conviction Means Fines and Possible Prison Terms.

Action to enforce the Lever profiteering law, which Congress recently fitted out with a well-developed set of teeth, was taken yesterday, when, on the initiative of United States District Attorney O'Connor, based on a complaint sworn to by William P. Hall, a special agent of the Department of Justice, Joe Goldberg, A. Blumenthal and F. S. Chandler were arrested by Deputy United States Marshals Smith and Cavanaugh, and arraigned before United States Commissioner Long. Their bond was fixed at $5000 each, and the preliminary examinations set for December 1.

Goldberg says he is a salesman; Blumenthal is proprietor of the Pin Ton, 519 West Seventh street, and Chandler conducts a confectionery at 454 South Hill street, and has a candy and ice cream factory at 2821 South Vermont avenue.

It is charged in the bill of complaint that a conspiracy between the three men was started about October 1, last, when Goldberg bought 30,000 pounds of sugar from the Anaheim Sugar Company, for which he paid $3300, or 11 cents a pound, and that on November 4 he sold the sugar to Blumenthal for $3950, or at the rate of 13 and a fraction cents a pound. Blumenthal, thereupon, according to the complaint, sold Chandler 15,000 pounds of the same purchase, for which he received $2700, or 18 cents a pound. Then Chandler, it seems, sold 10,000 pounds of the sugar to Boos Brothers, for which he received $2000, or at the rate of 20 cents a pound, and disposed of 5000 pounds to the Lewis Bakery Company, for which he received $1000, or 20 cents a pound.

According to this, Chandler was $300 in the clear, and he did not have to handle a bag of the sweet stuff; Blumenthal had within $1250 of what he had paid for 30,000 pounds, and had still on hand 15,000 pounds of the original purchase, and Goldberg was just $650 ahead of the game, paying $3300 for the sugar and selling it to Blumenthal for $3950, according to the accusation of the government.

Chandler admits, according to Federal officials, that he bought the sugar of Blumenthal, but says that he was either compelled to do so, or close up his business. As to the transaction with Boos Brothers, Chandler says that it was the understanding that when he turned over 10,000 pounds of granulated sugar to this firm that when Boos Brothers received a carload of sugar which the concern had ordered, it was to turn back the same amount to him at the same price. It was simply a trade to accommodate Boos Brothers, he declares, who did not have to exceed three sacks of sugar for the use of their string of cafeterias in this city.

He denies, also, that he had profiteered in any way, as his transfer to Boos Brothers was only a temporary one, and his sale to the Lewis Baking Company at 20 cents a pound no more than made him whole on the expenses, as he had paid Blumenthal 18 cents a pound for the stuff.

Blumenthal, the candy man, who is charged with profiteering in his sales to Chandler, would make no statement of his case. Goldberg also refused to be quoted.

The arrests were made under Section 37 of the Lever law, which provides that if two or more persons conspire, either to commit any offense against the United States, or to defraud the United States in any manner, or for any purpose, and one or more of such persons do any act to effect the object of the conspiracy, each of the parties to such conspiracy shall be fined not more than $10,000, or be imprisoned not more than two years, or both, in the discretion of the court.

Another section of the Federal Penal Code applying to the prosecution provides that any person who conspires, combines, agr es or arranges with any other person to limit the facilities for transporting, producing, manufacturing, supplying, storing or dealing in any necessaries, to restrict the supply of any necessities, to restrict the distribution of any necessaries, to prevent, limit or lessen the manufacture or production of any necessaries, in order to enhance the price thereof, shall upon conviction thereof be fined not more than $10,000 or be imprisoned not more than two years, or both, in the discretion of the court.

TO REGISTER VOTERS.

Clerks Must Have Good Sight and Hearing, Registrar Rules.

Those who seek appointment as registration clerks for 1920 must have good sight and hearing, according to a new rule made by County Registrar of Voters Lyons. About twenty-five persons are being appointed every day for the taking of the names of voters after January 1.

To date about 150 have been appointed, most of whom previously did this work. Each applicant is given a personal interview by the Registrar.

CUBS TO TRAIN AT PASADENA.

Chicago Ball Team to Play in Crown City in March.

Plucky Woman Outwits Efforts of Burglar.

Methodist Churches to Work for Centenary.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, Nov. 20.—The Chicago Cubs will again do their spring training in Pasadena. The Pasadena City Commission today received a telegram from John O. Seys, secretary of the Chicago National League baseball club, stating that the club had selected Pasadena as the 1920 training grounds and will arrive early in March. In behalf of the Commission, Commissioner A. L. Hamilton, chairman, sent a telegram to the Cubs saying they would be welcome.

Pasadena is the "home town" of William Wrigley, Jr., president of the Chicago Nationals.

TO FERRET OUT REDS.

The Pasadena Post of the American Legion is going to appoint a special vigilance committee to ferret out radicals and anarchists in Pasadena who may be plotting against American government and institutions, if any there be. This decision has been reached by the Executive Committee of the Legion here following the action of the local post in adopting resolutions in favor of orderly means to bring an end to the existence of the I.W.W. and similar organizations.

METHODISTS ORGANIZE.

The Methodist churches of Pasadena have formed an organization to work in the interest of the Methodist centenary. The churches of South Pasadena and Lamanda Park are also in the organization. Rev. W. E. Tilroe, who recently came here from Los Angeles to be pastor of the Lake-avenue Methodist Church, has been named chairman of the group.

ESCAPED THREE TIMES.

Three times Mrs. R. L. Shepherd of South Huntington drive, Lamanda Park, was locked in three different closets of her house by a burglar she discovered there. But she broke out of each closet and raised such cries that neighbors came and caught the burglar as he was fleeing from the irrepressible Mrs. Shepherd. Harlan Hendrick was arraigned in Judge Raymond Thompson's justice court as that burglar and bound over to the Superior Court. In default of $2500 bail he remains in jail.

Antonio Gonzales, said to be from Pheonix, Ariz., was bound over on the same charge. He is alleged to have robbed W. L. Means's residence here and was captured by Mr. Means himself.

GIVEN TO COLLEGE.

Henry M. Robinson, former member of the Shipping Board and the Council of National Defense, has presented the Throop College of Technology here a complete file of the United States Bulletin of Information and the reports of the Council of National Defense.

SALAVATION ARMY TO WELCOME NEW CHIEFS.

COMMISSIONER ON VISIT HERE WILL INSTALL OFFICERS FOR CALIFORNIA.

Commissioner Thomas Estill, territorial commander of the Salvation Army in Chicago, will arrive in Los Angeles tomorrow to begin a special campaign of public services and to inspect the organization's work and institutions in this city.

Commissioner Estill will be accompanied by Col. and Mrs. A. D. Brewer, newly-appointed chief officers for California. The installation of Col. Brewer will take place at 625 South Grand avenue, Saturday evening. Other public meetings at which Commissioner Estill will officiate will be held Sunday morning, afternoon and evening. The Sunday morning and night services will be held at 125 Wilmington street and in the afternoon at the Grand-avenue address.

Each meeting will be preceded by two street gatherings and on Sunday there will be three street parades, in which all of the local forces of the Salvation Army will unite, headed by Brig. C. R. Boyd, divisional commander in Southern California.

The visiting party will leave Tuesday night for San Francisco, where Col. and Mrs. Brewer will make their future headquarters. Col. Brewer was chief officer of the Salvation Army's relief work during the war and was stationed in France for more than a year.

RAPID WORK ON HIGHWAY URGED.

Neglect of Imperial Valley Artery Charged to State Body by City Heads.

Immediate steps toward the completion of the Los Angeles-Imperial Valley road are urged by the City Council in resolutions addressed to the State Highway Commission and unanimously adopted yesterday. The Council calls attention to "what appears to be a neglect on the part of the commission in pushing this road to completion," and asks that the artery be finished without unnecessary delay.

The road is to be a part of the permanent State highway system, and will run from this city by way of Banning, Palm Springs, Indio, Coachella and Brawley to Calexico.

CANDLE FINDS LEAK.

Gas Explodes and Pipe Repairer Goes to the Hospital.

Attempting to repair a leak in a gas pipe while holding a lighted candle in his hand, John Vasco, a car inspector of 1116 Romulo street, caused a fire in which he was severely burned last night. Slight damage was done to the house, firemen said.

Smelling gas in his bathroom, Mr. Vasco lit a candle and proceeded to investigate. He found a leak in the pipe leading to the gas heater. Attempting to repair it, he exerted too great force on the pipe and broke it. The gas rushed out and was instantly ignited. At the Receiving Hospital, where Mr. Vasco was treated, Dr. Goodrich said that he would recover.

ARMY WANTS LIQUOR.

May be Used for Hospitals Instead of Going Down the Sewers.

The use of confiscated liquors for hospital patients instead of pouring the liquors down the sewer, as a city ordinance now provides, was proposed to the City Council yesterday.

Lieut.-Col. George H. Penrose, zone supply officer, sent a letter to Mayor Snyder, which was forwarded to the Council, suggesting that all confiscated liquors be turned over to the Medical Corps of the United States Army. The Council is favorable to such a plan, but it will require an amendment to the ordinance governing the handling of such liquors. The City Attorney will be instructed to prepare such amendment.

FLASHES.

ANOTHER PRODUCER.

TAYLOR HOLMES ORGANIZES PICTURE COMPANY.

By Grace Kingsley.

Our best little stars and directors are busy, these days, forming their own organizations for the making of pictures. Now, it's Taylor Holmes who has embarked upon a career of independent producing. He may possibly remain in New York, or he may come west, he hasn't just decided which course he will pursue.

In any event, Mr. Holmes will star in his own pictures, but will probably not direct. Already the star has bought the film rights to three well-known farces. These are, "Nothing but the Truth," "The Very Idea" and "Nothing but Lies." All three served as stage vehicles for William Collier.

George Beban Busy.

George Beban, well known for both his stage and screen interpretations, and who lately invaded the ranks of those film celebrities who have formed their own companies, is now intrenched at the Katherine MacDonald studios, where he is busily engaged in arranging the preliminaries for staging "One Man in a Million," a story written by himself. Of course, he still uses his Italian film dialect.

Houdini Flew, He Did.

Leave it to Houdini to do something different! The handcuff king, who is working on his second screen thriller for Famous Players-Lasky, was notified that he and his company were to leave the following day to spend two weeks on location at Catalina Island. He promptly reserved two seats in one of Sid Chaplin's passenger-carrying hydroplanes for himself and his director, James Cruz. The day after his arrival at the popular island resort, he wrote officials at the Lasky studio: "We made the trip from Wilmington to Catalina in twenty-seven minutes, instead of the two hours or more required by boat, but my ears still hum."

Viola Dana's New Pet.

Talk about a pet white elephant, says Viola Dana, he's just nothing to compare to a pet duck. Viola should know. She's adopted a white duck out at the Metro studio, which served as atmosphere in "The Willow Tree." You see, it's this way, Thanksgiving is approaching, and various hungry looks were cast at the poor little duck by certain property men and others. The duck had been made a great pet by Miss Dana, who just couldn't bear to thing of her being killed. So she adopted duckie. Then came the awful news that the lake in the Japanese garden, where scenes of the "Willow Tree" have been made is to be dried up. And what will poor duckie do now? Gardeners at Echo Park have offered to keep her there, but Miss Dana is fraid the duck will get mixed up in some scandal with the swans. As a last resort she is going to ask Roscoe Arbuckle to keep the little swimmer in his Pompeiian bath. Her only plea in making the request is that the duck can catch flies, but as Mr. Arbuckle says there are no flies in his Pompeiian bath, it isn't yet decided what the fate of the duck will be.

Emma Dunn Among Us.

Emma Dunn, the veteran actress who played the heroine in the stage version of "Old Lady Thirty-one," is in Los Angeles to take part in the screen Classic production of the quaint comedy. Yesterday Miss Dunn visited the Metro studio and talked with Maxwell Karger, director-general, and with June Mathis, who adapted the scenario from the stage play by Rachel Crothers.

Bryant Washburn's Latest.

Bryant Washburn has a brand-new, post-prohibition story that runs something like this:

The popular Famous Players-Lasky star has just started work on "The Six Best Cellars," which, as the name implies, has much to do with the late John Barleycorn. One of the first scenes filmed in the story was taken in the interior of a studio replica of a wholesale liquor store.

Now property men have been adept for years in the fine art of making photographically-pure "booze" from their own recipe of burnt sugar and water. The store in question was liberally stocked with this concoction in bottles that had once contained something very different.

A minor actor, unfamiliar with the ways of property men, conceived the idea of "bumming" a drink from the guardian of the drinkables. Approaching Washburn on tiptoe, this worthy asked the star if he thought it could be done. The latter promptly offered to aid him in his efforts and instructed the prop man to give his friend a bottle, but he suggested to the receiver that he sneak behind the scenes before tapping the gift bottle. The rest of the story is a series of disgusted splutters from the would-be votary of King Alcohol.

And as Washburn says of the drinker of this burnt-sugar beverage: "That chap could boast of a real dark-brown taste, anyway."

Suspense Note.

Monday night at the Mason, "Poor Mama!" holds the boards, and it is going to be a great night according to the comedy crew out at Fatty Arbuckle's place of business.

It so happens that Jean Havez of the scenario department of the Arbuckle plant is author of the lyrics and music of the farce, and the plan is to have an Arbuckle evening Monday when the fate of the poor misguided lyricist will be decided by the hefty comedian and his gang.

Kosloff to Train Ballet.

Four hundred girls will be given an opportunity to master the art of interpretative dancing, and, incidentally enter the motion-picture field under a master producer and director in the forthcoming Cecil B. de Mille production which is scheduled to start with the new year.

Theodore Kosloff, premier male interpretative dancer, is now a member of the De Mille all-star group, and, in addition to playing an important role in the next production he will train this special ballet.

According to Kosloff's plans, special arrangements will be made to train all candidates up to the number of 400, entirely without expense to the pupils. Anticipating the fact that many of the prospective dancers would be otherwise engaged throughout the day, Kosloff has arranged a schedule of evening classes which will permit the students-dancers to continue in other lines of endeavor through the day.

SCINTILLATING :: AS :: CO-STAR.

In Comedy at Clune's Broadway.

Dorris May.

Mary Minter Kids Around.

Mary Miles Minter, the Realart Pictures Corporation star, under the direction of William Desmond Taylor, took a day off away from the studio on Monday to make the aquatic scenes for "Judy of Rogue's Harbor." Silver Lake was the ideal locale for the many scenes.

Little Mary nearly forgot for once that she was a worker, she says. She gave dear old Herbert Standing a thrill by rowing him around the lake and nearly spilling him once or twice, and later she and her story sister, Fritzie Ridgway, climbed up in a tree to eat their lunch.

Florence Vidor with Selznick.

That clever young star, Florence Vidor, isn't to be allowed to vacation, after all, preparatory to going into her husband's, King Vidor's, first picture to be made for the First National Exhibitors' Circuit. Instead, she has been engaged to play a star role in a Lewis J. Selznick picture, to be made at the Brunton studios, according to word just received from Harry Rapf, Selznick's western manager. This story, the name of which is not ready for announcement, is from a popular novel, and Howard Hickman will direct.

Miss Vidor in appearing in the Selznick will do her first work before the camera in nearly two years. She retired from screen work shortly after her marriage to King Vidor, and, following the birth of her little daughter, Suzanne, refused to return to professional life until the baby was a year old. I called on Miss Vidor a few days ago, and can vouch for the fact she is prettier than ever, so that I can promise the Vidor fans a treat when next she appears on the screen.

Laugh-Getting Stars.

How these comedians do blossom out into stars, these days! And Roscoe Arbuckle seems to bring good luck to all his players. Now it's Buster Keaton who is shortly to have his own company, and adorn the film firmament as a star. Keaton is an exceedingly clever young comedian, and here's wishing him luck.

Another big favorite who has now her own company, and who has learned how it feels to wrinkle over new stories and new "gags," is Polly Moran, former Sennett star, who is working in a Culver City studio.

But these are not all. Harry Pollard, who has been Harold Lloyd's chief comedy foil, is to be featured in a series of Pathe Rolin comedies. Owing to the long illness of Lloyd, Pollard in starting his stellar career will be fortunate in having beautiful Mildred Davis as his leading lady.

Mary Pickford as a Boy.

Mary Pickford is going to play "Little Lord Fauntleroy," according to word just received from New York, where Mrs. Charlotte Pickford has purchased the rights to the once-popular kid story by Frances Hodgson Burnett.

Exhibit of Scenic Effects.

Scenes in miniature from classic and modern plays done by stage and scenic artists of America are to be placed on exhibition today at 4 p.m. in the Shakespeare room of Cumnock School, 200 South Vermont avenue, following a lecture on the subject by Miss Willamene Wilkes, the play producer and stage manager of the Majestic Theater. The exhibit includes all the latest stage effects reproduced in models, twenty in number, and will continue until December 20. Provision has been made by Miss Helen A. Brooks, principal of Cumnock, to receive groups of students and club women who are now studying many of the plays represented by the models.

Artists whose work is to be represented are Robert Edward Jones, Harriet Klamroth, Emile Hopwood, J. Blanding Sloan, C. Raymond Johnson, Michael Carr, Lee Simonson, John Wenger. Among the plays which these artists have chosen to represent in the model are "The Ideal Husband" of Oscar Wilde, "Pierrot in the Clear of the Moon," "Iphigenia in Tauris," "Such is Life," "The Jest," "Caliban," by Percy Mackaye, and "Strife," by Galsworthy.

Mayo Signs Again.

Frank Mayo, star of "The Brute Breaker" at the Superba, has signed again for two years with Universal films. His friends decorated his dressing-room and bought him several new pillows and other things to make the place look cosy, on hearing of his new contract.

Fanchon as Letter Carrier.

Fanchon, appearing in "Let's Go," at Clune's Aditorium, is said to enjoy the distinction of having been the first woman in the world to carry mail by airplane. Last July she made the flight from San Francisco to Sacramento and back again, carrying on the trip a letter from the postmaster of San Francisco to the Mayor of the capital city.

Miss Shipman's Pets.

The two cub bears seen in "Back to God's Country," at Tally's Kinema this week, were found by Nell Shipman, the star, during the screening of some scenes north of Athabasca Landing, almost up to 53°. Their mother had been shot by some hunters. Some revision was made in the original plot to allow the youngsters to cavort in certain scenes.

For New Musical Comedy.

Word received yesterday from Oliver Morosco indicates that he has signed Vera Michelena for one of the chief roles in the new play, "Merry Mary Brown." This vehicle is a musical comedy. Donald McDonald has also been engaged for an important role.

Lyons and Moran in East.

Eddie Lyons and Lee Moran, the Universal comedians, whose "Tick-Tick Man" is at the Superba this week, are in New York City arranging for new releasing affiliations.

Drury Lane "Melo."

"Your Wife and Mine" is the sensational title of a big new Drury Lane melodrama, which the management of the Victory has booked for an early showing.

BRIEFS.

BIG COMEDY CONTRACT.

LARRY SEMON SIGNS ON MILLION-A-YEAR BASIS.

By Edwin Schallert.

Another one of those million-dollar-a-year contracts has just been sprung on a waiting film world. This time the parties of the first and second parts are Larry Semon, whose pictures have been seen locally at the Palace, and Albert E. Smith, president of the Vitagraph. Announcement of the deal was made by wire yesterday by the Vitagraph corporation, and the terms as stated in the communication are as follows:

The company will pay $3,600,000 during the ensuing three years for the comedies of Mr. Semon, one-third of this sum to be paid each year of the three-year contract. The annual payment will thus average over $1,000,000 a year. It is stated that so far as known Charlie Chaplin is the only other comedian in the world whose salary is on the same plane.

"The signing of this agreement forms the climax of a general scramble by the big producing companies for the services of Larry Semon," says the agreement. "Mr. Smith made a special trip to Los Angeles last week to close the deal. Mr. Semon's signature to the contract was secured at 3:45 a.m., after a conference lasting a little less than four days.

"Mr. Semon's rise to his present altitude of fame has been meteoric. A few short years ago he was cartoonist on the New York Evening Sun. He is not yet 30 years of age.

"The new contract provides him with unlimited funds to spend in the production of each of his two-reel comedies. He will make twelve of them each year.

"It is a fact worthy of note that on the day Larry Semon signed his new contract, his newest special, "The Head Waiter," was booked as a feature offering for next week at New York's Capitol Theater, and during the same week it will be shown at the California Theater in Los Angeles, under S. L. Rothapfel's direction."

Fishes Easiest Way.

Bert Lytell, star of "Lombardi, Ltd.," showing at the De Luxe, is fond of fish and fishing, but unless you can guarantee a two-minute interval between bites, it will be hard for you to drag him along. He wants 'em to come up smiling and come fast.

The other day Lytell astonished the folks at the Screen Classics, Inc., studios when he came out of his dressing-room, and pulling down a nifty checkered cap, remarked that he was going fishing that evening.

"Fishing?" repeated the questioning ensemble. "Where's your outfit?"

"Don't need any," replied Bert with a grin. "Goin' to dig 'em out of a sardine can. Don't have to wait for 'em to bite at all."

Shawn's Show Booked.

Ted Shawn's latest spectacular scenic dance creation, "Julnar of the Sea," which had its premier showing at Pantages Broadway Theater and is playing at Long Beach this week, has been booked by Alexander Pantages for a tour of the entire circuit. The show will open at Minneapolis next month and will play about thirty weeks on the Pan time.

"Civvy Clothes" in North.

"Civilian Clothes" is soon to open at the Curran Theater in San Francisco with William Courtney in the role of Capt. Sam McGinnis. Appetites of playgoers in San Francisco have been whetted by reports of the amazing business being done at the Morosco here by Buchanan's newest play.

CLIMATE, water, natural steam and mud baths at Arrowhead Springs give results.

DAILY TRADE TALK.

Bankers Would Put Anti-Strike Clause in Railroad Bill; Food Probers Meet.

BY CHAPIN HALL.

The return of the railroads to their owners; the Esch bill, the Cummins bill and the various other plans under which this may be accomplished is of paramount importance to the business and the financial world, for there is no doubt that the nation's distributing system is the real key to our continued prosperity, and to the keeping open of the arteries of commerce.

It was somewhat disconcerting, therefore, to find so little interest or understanding of the provisions of the various acts among the financiers of Los Angeles. Only one of the bankers with whom I have talked on the subject knew anything more about the Esch bill, which has just passed the lower House of Congress, than has been contained in the news reports and editorial comment in the daily press, but Leo Chandler, vice-president of the Home Savings Bank, struck the keynote of what they are all thinking about, without directly applying their ideas to any particular plans and specifications.

"A good bill, but it does not go far enough," was his comment, and a composite of the others includes a well-founded desire for the inclusion of a clause making strikes an offense against the Federal government; for a prompt return to private ownership on a basis which will enable the roads to earn profits not arbitrarily fixed, and a government guaranty for at least six months.

It is agreed that whatever tends to stabilize the railroad situation is a good thing, and that the return of the roads at the first possible day to their owners will emancipate private business from an overlordship which is eating heavily into the pockets of taxpayers, and hearten the entire business fabric.

As nearly as it is possible to reduce the sentiment to a positive opinion in view of the exceedingly sketchy ideas many have of the different plans proposed, the Esch bill with its six months' guaranty, and its provision for rate readjustment is satisfactory, plus an anti-strike clause.

Beer a la Mode.

Beer a la mode is the latest. The Anheuser-Busch Brewing Company of Los Angeles has turned from hops to tutti frutti. The amber brew has taken the count and ice cream is the new "champeen." Yesterday the State Corporation Commissioner authorized the Hughes Ice Cream Company to sell 4000 shares of its 8 per cent. cumulative preferred stock and 1000 shares of its common stock in units of four shares of preferred to one of common. The Hughes Ice Cream Company is a California corporation, having an authorized capital of $250,000. It has taken over the Anheuser-Busch plant in this city and proposes to enter upon the manufacture of ice cream on a large scale. Authorization has also been made for the issuance of 5000 shares of common stock to L. Hughes, in consideration of the assignment of the lease and his contract to act as the manager of the corporation for a period of five years.

The Stock Market.

The market yesterday was a continuation of the conditions which have been existing for several days, although in the afternoon there were some evidences that the selling movement had nearly touched bottom and that a reaction may be looked for soon. Associated Oil continued to slide yesterday, opening at $109, and declining during the morning trading to $106.75. The afternoon opening was stronger at $107.50, but part of this gain was soon lost and sales were recorded at $107.12½. Thus was the closing bid, with offerings at $107.37½. General Petroleum was inactive, at $191.50, but there was a lively demand for Republic Petroleum, opening at 20¾ cents, selling off a quarter of a point to a close at 20 1-4 cents. Mascot was stronger, selling up to $2.64. United registered sales at 53 cents, Amalgamated sold up to $28 from an opening of $26. National Pacific also showed a slight gain for the day, going from 12 1-4 to 12 3-8. Industrials as a unit were inactive and soft. The selling movement in United Eastern continued and the stock sold down to $2.94 and closed at $2.90 bid. Tom Reed was steady at $1.62½. Bonds were soft, volume light. The market constitutes irrationality, and without much basis to form an intelligent judgment of what may be expected in the near future. Delaware Union was listed in San Francisco and a transfer office opened in that city. This stock will probably be listed locally in the near future.

FEDERAL RESERVE.

The Federal reserve is down around 45 per cent., but what of it? inquired a banker yesterday. England's reserve is only about 13 per cent., but England is going right ahead doing business at the old stand, and there is nothing alarming in the situation. Who is going to call the government's paper? Forty-five per cent is ample. Half that would be ample. Forget it and get down to business. Just now the banks are carrying the peak of the autumn credit load, and there is not a crack in the armor. The foreign exchange situation is bad, and must soon be corrected. Imports are exceeding exports, and there is much balancing to be done, but business is good, and the Twelfth Reserve District is in better shape than any of the others.

In Germany.

We hear a good deal about conditions in internal Germany, but if anything which comes out of that country is to be believed it is likely that a report published by the statistical department of the Dresdner Bank of Berlin, contains an accurate resume of things as they really are. In the latest of these reports to reach Los Angeles the following extract is significant: "Although the blockade has been raised through which Germany suffered for five years, it has not brought about a material improvement in Germany's economic position. The imports of raw material up till now are quite insufficient. A constant stream of merchandise has come into the country over the western frontier; large quantities of goods we could dispense with: even articles de luxe. It is computed that the value of these imports amount to considerably more than 1,000,000,000 marks, and to the large sums of mark notes which have gone across the frontier in payment of this merchandise must be mainly ascribed the unfavorable rate of exchange for the mark." The report goes on to distrade; the military collapse; the pogrom; the failure of Germany's export; political unrest and the strikes with excessive demand for high wages and short hours, and says that "had it not been for the customary sound financial policy of the German companies, many firms would certainly not have been able to overcome this difficult time."

NO RISE IN PORK FOR LOS ANGELES.

In spite of alarmist reports to the contrary, which have found recent publication, the Los Angeles devotee of pork chops and "ham and" will not have to pay more for his favorite dish during the remainder of the year. High price of feed and lessened production will probably affect the Chicago market, but this has nothing to do with local conditions. At the present time the average retail prices to the consumer in this city are 27 cents for fresh picnic cuts, 35 cents for leg, 28 to 30 cents for spare ribs and 45 cents for chops.

At these prices, the local market averages a cent per pound higher than the Chicago market, but if the expected rains come, prices of pork in California will come down, or, at any rate, they will make no material advance. Local prices for this commodity are only indirectly affected by the conditions in Chicago, and the factor which will determine prices here and throughout California during the next few months will be the amount of cheap feed available. If the dry weather continues, and farmers are forced to feed their stock on the expensive dry feed for a protracted period, the consumer of Los Angeles may expect to pay higher prices, but if green feed is available there will be no advance in prices.

Normally, meat in Los Angeles is a few cents per pound lower than in Chicago, the difference being usually equivalent to the cost of transportation from the eastern market. Under present conditions, local packers claim, Los Angeles prices for pork are not abnormally high, but rather Chicago prices are too low, and any reaction in the Chicago market will not, therefore, send prices higher here.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—A comprehensive rally of from 3 to 20 points in the stock market today gave promise that reactionary influences are in retreat.

Stocks were heavy—almost weak—at the outset, but this condition was overcome, even though exchange on London and other foreign centers fell to lowest quotations ever recorded here.

From their first rally stocks showed almost steady improvement, the advance being attended by the easiest money in more than a week.

Only a moderate amount of money was in demand at the opening rate of 10 per cent., the inquiry evidently being so light as to cause a drop to 6 per cent. with the approach of the final hour. Time money again was quotably unchanged but reports credited interior institutions with making loans as low as 7 1-4 per cent.

The strength of such recent weak issues as Crucible Steel, General Motors and Mexican Petroleum, leaders in their respective groups, suggested that the bears were having some trouble in covering. Maximum prices were made in the final dealings when United States Steel and other leaders were at their best. Sales amounted to 1,200,000 shares.

International issues rallied but the domestic bond list, including the Liberty group, was moderately lower. Total sales, par value, aggregated $14,500,000.

Old United States bonds were unchanged on call.

Mercantile paper, 5 1-2. Sterling demand, $4.02 3-4; cables, $4.03 1-2.

Time loans unchanged.

Call money, easy; high 10; low 6; ruling rate 10; closing bid 6; offered at 7; last loan 6.

Bar silver $1.32 3-4, based on China demand.

LONDON, Nov. 20.—Bar silver 71 1-4d per ounce. Money 4 1-2 per cent.

COTTON LOWER ON NEW YORK MARKET.

FLUCTUATES DURING THE DAY WITH THE VARIATIONS OF POLITICAL NEWS.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—The rejection of the peace treaty by the Senate appeared to have little effect on the cotton market today and was variously construed in New York, although it caused some selling by yesterday's late buyers while, with some weakness in foreign exchange and rather active southern selling, caused a drop of 10 to 62 points at the New York opening. Later the list became a trifle steadier on covering and at the end of the first fifteen minutes was about 42 points net lower.

Liverpool buying to take profits on short straddles absorbed a good many contracts during the early trading and the market rallied later on unverified reports from Washington that President Wilson had suggested an international conference to consider the matter of European credits and foreign exchange.

CHICAGO GRAIN RISE LASTS THROUGH DAY.

EARLY BREAK COMES FROM SALES BY LOCAL ELEMENT IN FACE BEARISH NEWS.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—Higher prices for grains were seen in the face of bearish news, the close being about the highest of the day, corn up ¼ to 1¼ cents, January leading, and oats up ¼ to ⅝ cent.

An early break was due to selling by the local element which was against the market. The coal strike was said to have been settled, but there was no confirmation. Some used it as an excuse as bullish. Southwestern corn prices closed ⅝@1¼ cents higher.

Notes affecting the corn market was radically bearish, but the tendency to overstock on the part of the local element resulted in a bulge of 2¼@2⅝ cents after an early break of 1@1½ cents.

Oats followed corn, but showed independence to some extent against 2⅜ cents the previous day.

dent of the East River National Bank of New York City.

The East River National Bank was acquired by the stockholders of the Bank of Italy about a year ago. It is one of the oldest of the New York banks, having been founded over fifty years ago. Under the new management, it will develop the branch banking system under which the Bank of Italy has attained such a remarkable growth.

Mr. Metzler has been an officer of the Bank of Italy since 1913, prior to which period he was vice-president of the City and County Bank, having the distinction at that time of being the youngest bank manager in the State of California, and is credited with having developed the City and County Bank from an institution with impaired capital into a sound banking organization.

When the City and County Bank merged with the Bank of Italy Mr. Metzler became assistant manager of the Los Angeles branch of the Bank of Italy, and later assistant cashier of the Bank of Italy system. When the trust department was organized over a year ago, he was placed in charge of this department in Los Angeles, with supervision over all the Southern California branches of the system. Under his guidance this department has had a phenomenal growth.

Mr. Metzler will leave for New York in a few weeks.

Loans to Farmers.

During October the Federal land banks loaned $10,416,530 to 3330 farmers on long-time first mortgages, the bank at St. Paul leading with $1,777,100. On October 31, 1919, there were operating in the United States 3562 farm loan associations. The total mortgage loans made by the Federal land banks through these associations October 31, 1919, to 103,672 farmer-borrowers, amounted to $271,317,816. During October 8738 applications were received, asking for $31,215,113. During the same period 6149 loans were approved, amounting to $20,-332,042. Altogether, 227,943 farmers have applied for loans under this system, in the aggregate amount of $636,790,814. Up to October 31, 1919, interest and amortization payments due by borrowers to the banks amounted to $13,843,304. Of this amount all but $181,805, or 1.3 per cent., had been paid, and of this sum $91,752 represents instalments which had only become due during the month.

Investigators Meet.

Mayor Snyder's committee, which is investigating the present high price of food commodities and storage holdings in Los Angeles, will meet with a committee appointed by the Los Angeles Produce Exchange at 2 o'clock this afternoon. The meeting of the two committees will be held at the rooms of the Produce Exchange, or in the event of one of the premises being used by the Wholesale Terminal, Inc., the meeting was suggested by F. I. Jacobsen, secretary of the latter organization, in order that the change, in order that the committee may be thoroughly conversant with the necessary to conduct the investigation could be placed at the disposal of the committee without delay.

The members of the committee appointed by the Produce Exchange are Chester Thompson, G. E. Arbuckle, Jr., J. C. Richardson, J. Lawrenceau, J. C. Richardson, J. Lawson, Frank Nares, E. M. Cole and John R. Mathews, vice-president of the Security National Bank.

Organization—The Berkey and Gay Furniture Company, which is one of the largest manufacturers of high-grade furniture in America, was started in 1859 by William A. and Julius Berkey. The business was incorporated in 1873 with a capital of $200,800. Today it has assets exceeding $3,000,000, a large part of which has been acquired out of earnings. Its plants, situated at Grand Rapids, Michigan, have an aggregate floor space of twenty acres.

THIS SHOP MARK is found in every Berkey & Gay production. It is the customer's guarantee of workmanship and his pride thereafter

Earnings—Net profits during the past seven years have amounted to $680,722 or almost 2¼ times annual dividends on the present preferred stock. Profits during the past three years were equal to three times present Preferred Stock dividends, and during the first eight months of 1919 were four times the requirements during this period. The net profits in every case are after liberal depreciation and Federal Taxes.

The proceeds of this issue of Preferred Stock will materially increase the volume of business which has grown from $1,192,474 in 1912 to $1,892,346 in 1918, while the sales for 1919 are on a basis of $2,500,000.

Dividends on the Common Stock have been paid almost uninterruptedly during the past twenty-five years.

The Company has never had any mortgage or lien on any of its property.

Assets—Exclusive of good will, designs and trade-marks, and after liberal depreciation for inventory, buildings, machinery, etc., the total net tangible assets amount to $2,107,651, or $324 for each share of Preferred Stock. The appraised value of the property far exceeds the amount carried on the company's books.

Net quick assets are $1,720,501, or $265 for each $100 of this issue of Preferred Stock.

Safeguards—The Company agrees to maintain net quick assets of at least 150% of the outstanding Preferred Stock. The Company has no bonded debt and, so long as any of the Preferred Stock is outstanding, shall not mortgage any of its property without consent of the holders of three-fourths of the total outstanding Preferred and Common Stock.

Sinking Fund—In each calendar year, beginning in 1924, the Company agrees to set aside for the purpose of retiring or redeeming Preferred Stock, a sum equal to 12½% of the annual net earnings.

Purpose of Issue—Proceeds of this issue will retire the old outstanding Preferred Stock, amounting to $350,000, increase plant facilities and provide additional working capital.

Short Talks to Investors I.

The Investor's Dilemma

SINCE 1914 the cost of living has risen about 100% in the average family, but wages have also risen and the average salaried man is now receiving better pay than he did then. Therefore, many men are today little worse off than they were five years ago.

BUT the average investor is far worse off. In 1914 an investor with $100,000 capital was perhaps enjoying an income of $6,000 per year. Today (with the same capital) he has but $5,000 per year. And in the meantime the purchasing power of this $5,000 has shrunk one half and war taxes have reduced it still further.

SOME investors, however, have been able to circumvent this calamity to a large extent by following a consistent policy of investment protection, whereby they have been able to increase their incomes substantially without jeopardizing their principal. And numerous cases they have been able to progressively increase their principal also.

WHAT this has been accomplished as...l is still being done in the manner which we would like to give to every investor in America. Send today for our booklet entitled, "Topping a Revolution" and for other information regarding the service we are now rendering to thousands of American investors.

PRICE OF SILVER UP TO $1.40 THE OUNCE.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

DENVER, Nov. 19.—Arthur Langley, a representative of eastern and Canadian capital, registered at the Savoy Hotel, was yesterday advised that 1,000,000 ounces of fine silver had been sold in New York at $1.40 to the ounce. The settlement price sent out was $1.27, and this, according to the Wall Street Journal, is usually 8 to 9 cents less than the actual sales in either small or large lots. Manufacturers and jewelers, to say nothing of the storing-pinched industry, are liberal users of silver at present. So much so that silver coins are going into the melting pot to meet the demand. Yesterday's London figure was 60 pence, and this, with exchange at normal, means $1.40 in New York.

POUND STERLING OFF.

The British pound sterling was off yesterday in New York to the extent of 16 per cent. This is taken from the silver quotation, together with an allowance of 1 1-3 cents per ounce for shipping and freight.

For an explanation of the rise in the price of silver to above the gold parity of silver dollars, one must look chiefly to the Far East, says the Wall Street Journal. It is principally the demand from that quarter, and from India and latterly from China which has driven the price to a level not witnessed in a score of the decades. Not many months after the outbreak of the war a scarcity of silver rupees appeared in India.

With the placing of orders for Indian products by the allied nations, the interior trade of the country commenced to expand on a colossal scale, and the requirements of the media of payment increased correspondingly. At the same time the political dissatisfaction in India which was more or less instigated by German agents, resulted in the public showing a decided preference for silver rupees, as against paper currency, which is redeemable in silver coins.

SPELTER $7.61.

For spelter (zinc) in Colorado ores the settlement price today is $7.61 per 100 pounds, the average of last week's sales in St. Louis. The gain means $1.20 to the ton. The closing price for the week was $7.925 per 100 pounds. Zinc is quoted higher in London, or equivalent to $8.675 in New York.

The fact that exporters are not willing to pay $8 per 100 pounds east of St. Louis would seem to indicate that they have not received any fresh orders from England on the basis of the London metal exchange quotation.

TO TELL OF RUSSIA.

Local Zionists Will Hear Address By Veteran of the War.

The local Zionist organization will hold a mass meeting Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock in Clune's Auditorium, to hear Ilia Shenderovich, a veteran of the Russian army, tell of his experiences in revolutionary Russia. Mr. Shenderovich was with the Russian forces for three years in the war against Germany and was wounded several times.

He will tell of present and past conditions in Russia. He wears two war crosses for bravery.

In addition to the address by Mr. Shenderovich, Rabbi Isadore Myers will address the Zionists on the national problems as they effect local Jews. Maurice Salzman will be chairman of the day. Another feature will be musical selections by members of the local Zionist Society.

JURY ACQUITS MEN ON GIRLS' CHARGES.

Charles Scott and Harry Steen were acquitted on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of two minor girls, yesterday, by a jury in Judge Willis's court. When the jury brought in the verdict, Mrs. Scott, mother of one of the defendants, fainted and remained unconscious for several minutes. She was revived by Mrs. E. J. Edwards and other women, who were jurors.

The main witness against Scott was Teresa Bastin, 15, and against Steen, Mary Schroeder, 20.

Timely Tax Talk.

For the benefit of its clients, the local office of Blyth, Witter and Company has embodied in a circular letter data obtained from Chief Deputy Weed of the Los Angeles County Assessor's office in regard to the taxation of securities in California.

"To state the situation simply," says this letter, "the taxation of stocks and bonds in the State of California is governed by the location of properties of the corporation in question. If the property of a corporation is located entirely in the State of California, the securities of the corporation are not taxed in this State, regardless of where the company was incorporated. On the other hand, the securities of a company incorporated under the laws of this State, but whose properties are located entirely out of the State are subject to taxation.

"As might be judged from the above, assessors in this State tax the securities of corporations whose property outside of the State bears to the whole. As in real property, taxable securities are taxed at 50 per cent. of their value. Value in the case of securities is the market value as of the first Monday in March, each year."

The decision of the Supreme Court of California in the case of H. C. Chesebrough vs. city and county of San Francisco is cited. In this case the court upheld the city and county of San Francisco for assessing shares of stock of a California corporation, the majority of whose property was in the State of Washington. The same decision was also rendered in the case of E. L. Doheny vs. county of Los Angeles.

"In view of the fact that we have often heard that undeclared taxable securities might be discovered and taxed during the probate of an estate," says the letter, in conclusion, "it is interesting to know that it is the sole duty of one deputy in this county to follow the probate of estates for the purpose of locating undeclared taxable securities. Where found, these securities can be taxed for two years back. As a matter of fact, a very heavy penalty may be inflicted where there is clear evidence of intent to defraud the county. Seldom, however, it this resorted to, and the straight tax for the two years preceding is levied."

Water Bonds Popular.

That Southern California investors have not lost interest in mutual water company bonds is evidenced by the rapidity with which the issue of 6 per cent. Bloomington, Ill., water bonds have been subscribed by the clients of Perrin, Drake and Riley.

Good Sale for Fisher.

Bond and Goodwin report that the sale of the recent issue of $1,500,000, 7 per cent. cumulative preferred stock of the Fisher Flouring Mills Company is proceeding rapidly, and that a large part of the offering has already passed into the hands of the investing public. The Fisher Flouring Mills Company is one of the strongest companies of the kind in the Northwest. It has an authorized capitalization of preferred stock amounting to $3,000,000, against which there is $1,500,000 outstanding. Total net assets of this company amount to $255 per share of preferred stock, while the net quick assets are $164 per share. In addition the company must maintain at all times, against each share of preferred stock outstanding, net assets of not less than $150, while net quick assets must total at least $100 per share. The plants of the company are located on Harbor Island, Seattle, Harbor. The daily capacity of these plants is 600 barrels of flour per day and 500 tons of feed and storage capacity of 1,000,000 bushels of wheat in concrete elevators. For the year ended July 31, 1918, sales of the company were in excess of of $13,000,000, a very substantial increase over the preceding year's sales. The net earnings of the company for the past three years, before deduction of Federal taxes, have amounted to almost five times the dividend requirements of the present issue of preferred stock.

Richfield-Yorba Field.

The Richfield Yorba Oil Company is making rapid progress with its new well in the Richfield field, which was put on the drill last Saturday afternoon. A shaft driven rotary is being used and up to closing time last night the hole was down 600 feet through boulders and gravel. In this field, which was proved up on March 11, last when the Chapman gusher came in, there are now forty-eight rigs in active operation, and several others in contemplation.

Fancy Parasols.

No more fancy parasols. At least not this season. Local dealers say the umbrella game is a tough one this season owing to difficulty in obtaining proper materials, and the great rise in the cost of labor. For this reason the manufacture of fancy shades has been almost entirely discontinued, and even the plainer types of rain umbrellas have risen about 100 per cent. in price.

HELD ON AUTO CHARGE.

Clyde Slagill was held to answer yesterday by Justice Summerfield on a charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated. Testimony showed that Slagill's car crashed into a car driven by A. M. Silver of El Monte, injuring Mr. Silver, on Alhambra road.

INSPECTS HIGH SCHOOLS.

A. C. Olney, commissioner of secondary education for the State, was in Los Angeles yesterday and in company with Assistant Superintendent Gould visited the Los Angeles high schools. Mr. Olney declared the schools of this city are in excellent shape.

THREE KILLED IN AUTO SMASH.

Lone Woman in Party Escapes with Minor Injuries.

Fault Lay with Driver, Say Police Investigators.

An automobile trip to a number of beach cities, followed by a round of beach cafes and a midnight supper at a country club near this city, ended in death for three men, and serious injury for the only woman in the party, early yesterday morning, when their automobile and a Pacific Electric freight train collided at Twenty-fifth and Alameda streets.

Caught beneath the burning wreckage of their automobile, two of the men were killed outright, and the third died of his injuries two hours after being taken to a hospital. The woman, who was dragged from the flaming automobile by members of the freight train crew, will recover, the physicians say.

The dead are:

George F. Logan, 25 years of age, of 1219 Victoria drive. Logan was employed by the Nash Auto Company.
